Peace In Grave Danger, Acheson Declares

U. S. Declares China Defying Most Of World

U.N. Told It Must Not Bow To Threats, Use Of Arms

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Chinese Communists are challenging two-thirds of the world, the United States declared today, and the United Nations must show it will not submit to threats nor tolerate military actions against the U. N.

Warren R. Austin, top American delegate, said Peiping's representative here had lied and distorted the facts in a defiance which must be answered by speedy action to stop the spread of war in Asia.

Sharply answering the long attack on the U. S. yesterday by Wu Hsiu-Chuan, Peiping's representative, Austin said he denied categorically Wu's charges that the U. S. and U. N. committed aggression in Korea.

"In the cousre of his speech," Austin told a grave-faced council, "General Wu contrived to challenge two-thirds of the world, defy the United Nations, and dismay the friends of China. Glorifying peace, he sounded threatening. Invited here to give information and shed light, he gave only distortions, slanders, half-truths, and outright lies, some big, some small.

Calls For Resolution Vote

"General Wu went very far yesterday to show that his hand is against all men's. Let him give heed lest he go home from this place with all men's hands against him."

Austin said once more that the U. S. and U. N. have not committed aggression in Korea, and are not threatening China. He then called on the council to vote speedily—perhaps tomorrow—on a six-power resolution which calls on Peiping to pull its soldiers out of Korea quickly and assures Peiping that China's legitimate interests will be protected.

Some delegates were discussing a timetable calling for a vote on the resolution tomorrow. The Soviet Union is expected to veto the proposal.

With that veto, the western delegates would appeal to the General Assembly Friday. They hoped for quick debate in the Assembly and

SUES MAE WEST — Actress Sara Allen (above) yesterday filed a $1,000,000 damage suit against Mae West, complaining the "come up and see me sometime" girl had just about ruined her career. She charged, in verse, that Miss West slandered her and kept her from getting stage jobs. (Story at bottom of page).

We'll Talk Peace If Attacks Cease, Reds Tell Yank

WITH U. S. FORCES IN NORTH KOREA, Nov. 29 (AP)—Chinese Communists sent a captured American soldier back to his unit Monday with orders to tell his commander that the Chinese would talk peace if the Americans would stop their air and artillery attacks.

The soldier is Cpl. Donald R. Rose, 19, Fredericksburg, Va.

He was captured Monday morning east of Kujang on the Chongchon river front. His company's command post had been overrun the night before in the start of the Chinese counteroffensive.

Rose, a rifleman, said the Reds who attacked the American command post "shot the weapon right out of my hand—shot the stock in two."

Officer Protected Him

He said he lay in a ditch the rest of the night and through the early hours Monday morning. When he thought he was safe he ran for a nearby ridge, but he was taken prisoner.

Red soldiers took him to a Chinese officer.

"One of them (the Red soldiers) wanted to shoot me but the officer wouldn't let him," Rose said.

The English-speaking officer took Rose to the crest of a hill and handed him a pair of field glasses. He pointed to nearby American positions then to groups of Chinese Red soldiers swarming over a hill and through a dry river bed.

As the officer pointed, Rose said, U. S. Mustang and jet fighter planes spotted the Chinese on the hill and strafed them.

Given American Jeep

"He didn't like that," Rose recounted. "He was raising hell about that."

Then the Chinese officer told Rose he was going to send him back to the U. S. lines.

"He told me to get in touch with the commander of American forces and tell him if he will cut out the air and artillery attacks he (the Chinese) would talk peace."

The officer then put on Rose's head a hat or cap made of white material resembling towelling and "gave me an American jeep, one of our own."

Rose drove through a Chinese road block and into American lines without being molested by the Reds.

Britain Seeks Political Deal

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Britain held out to Communist China today the possibility of a political deal in Korea to avert a third world war.

In a broad statement of British foreign policy, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also told the House of Commons Britain is ready to join with the United States and France in any talks with Soviet Russia which might ease existing tension between East and West.

The first essential in Korea, Bevin said, "is to stabilize the military situation and then to explore a political settlement."

"I have been working on this for some weeks and the military development in the last few days has not altered my opinion one bit — it is on political lines in the end that we must seek the solution," he said.

If the Communist Chinese "want to avoid a general war, if they show the slightest sign of willingness to cooperate in exploring a solution by peaceful means, I am satisfied solutions can be found," he said.

Rival Enters Suit In Verse, Has Eye On Mae West Purse

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Actress Sara Allen slapped a $1,000,000 damage suit against Mae West today, complaining the "come up and see me sometime" girl just about ruined her career.

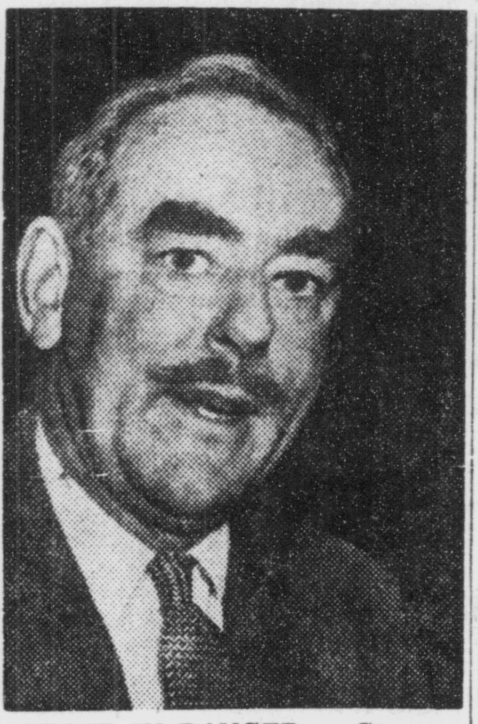
She charged in verse that Miss West slandered her and kept her from getting stage jobs because she did such excellent impersonations of the star of "Diamond Lil."

The damage action was filed by Miss Allen's attorney, Harry H. Lipsig, whose affidavit asked the State Supreme Court:

"Can Sara's spinal modulations
"Be subject to West's regulations?
"For buxom Mae now makes the claim
"Of introducing sex to fame,
"That bumps and grinds were never known
"Till in her act they first were shown."

This, the attorney said, just wasn't so. His affidavit concluded:

"Bumps and grinds and flirty song
"All to antiquity belong,
"And sex was known to Eve and Adam
"And hips before Mae West e'er had 'em."



PEACE IN DANGER — Secretary of State Dean Acheson (above) charged last night that Communist aggression has put world peace in "unparalleled danger."

NPA Orders 15% Cut In Civilian Use Of Copper

Slash Jan. 1 To Hit Radio-TV Industry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—A 15 per cent cut in civilian use of copper and brass will go into effect New Year's day, along with a 35 per cent slash in aluminum consumption announced earlier.

The National Production Authority issued its copper control order today to conserve supplies for military production and the defense stockpile.

The curtailment will hit broad elements of civilian industry including the manufacturers of radio and television sets, automobiles, home electrical appliances, and other communications systems.

Further Slash Planned

Simultaneously NPA Administrator William H. Harrison disclosed he plans to issue, at some later date, orders banning or curtailing the use of copper in a variety of luxury and non-essential products, as well as in products where other metals may be substituted.

"Despite everything which can be done," Harrison said, "there is little likelihood that supply can be increased appreciably in the immediate months ahead."

Another crimp in the output of civilian goods is anticipated when controls are clamped on nickle and zinc. These cut-down orders also are expected to be effective January 1. Radio and television producers have predicated a 25 to 40 per cent drop below their current output rate in the first quarter of next year.

Cobalt Ration Halved

Today's order limits both production and use of brass and copper mill products in January and February to 85 per cent of average monthly output and consumption in the first half of 1950. The figure will drop to 80 per cent in March, as the production of radar, Signal Corps and other military equipment goes up.

Earlier in the day NPA established a 50 per cent ration on cobalt for civilian industry through December. This metal-hardening agent is used in radio and TV loudspeakers.

Grady, Truman To Confer

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Henry F. Grady, U. S. ambassador to Iran, arrived in New York today and left at once for Washington "to see the President and Secretary of State Acheson just as quickly as possible."

Grady said the consultations would concern loans to Iran and other matters of economic and military assistance.

No Guarantee War Not Near, Nation Is Told

Outlines Six-Point 'Strategy Of Peace'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson charged tonight that Communist aggression has put world peace in "unparalleled danger," and he said history shows the United States will fight if it must to preserve freedom and justice.

"No one can guarantee that war will not come," Acheson said in a crisis broadcast to the nation and the world. "The present crisis is extremely serious. Whether reason will prevail is only partly for us to decide. We must hope and strive for the best while we prepare for the worst."

Solemnly, Acheson called on the Chinese Communists to halt their "brazen aggression" in Korea.

"This is their hour of decision," he said. "The authorities of Communist China stand before the bar of the judgement of mankind. The world will watch their actions in Korea and at Lake Success. Will they represent their own interests or will they let themselves be the dupes of others?"

Has Confidence in U. N.

Acheson expressed confidence that the United Nations will not be intimidated by the responsibilities of acting to curb the Chinese Red attack.

He spoke as the Far Eastern crisis brought forecasts of a change in the draft law — to get more men into the armed forces — and as Congress heard that a completely new war plan will have to be crated.

In bare-knuckle phrases, Acheson linked the Chinese attack in Korea with the revolutionary Communist movement throughout the world.

He held out a long-range hope that "the rulers of the Soviet Union, confronted by a strong and confident free world, may be called to abandon their expansionist aims."

The Secretary of State outlined a six-point "strategy of peace" and urged that all Americans support

Three GOP Senators Say Acheson Trying To Oust MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Three Republican senators tonight accused Secretary of State Acheson of trying to oust Gen. Douglas MacArthur as commander of U. N. Forces in Korea.

The charge was made by GOP Sens. Wherry of Nebraska, the Senate Republican leader, Bricker of Ohio and McCarthey of Wisconsin.

They expressed their views to reporters in separate interviews when asked for comment on a speech by Acheson tonight.

Truman Pleads For Yugoslav Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — President Truman asked Congress today for swift approval of $38,000,000 in food aid to avert a winter famine in hard-pressed Yugoslavia.

In a special message, he pleaded for action at the current short session of Congress to "help preserve the independence of a nation which is defying the savage threats of the Soviet imperialists."

He said that Marshall Tito's country is under the most severe economic and military pressure from the Kremlin, and that it is clearly in this nation's interest to do everything possible to keep Soviet power out of one of Europe's most strategic areas.

Emergency aid which the President estimated at $30,000,000 already is under way, following Yugoslavia's formal appeal for assistance Oct. 20 as a result of the country's worst drought. But more is needed to tide the Yugoslavs over until the next harvest, Mr. Truman said.

He recalled that Yugoslavia broke away from Moscow's domination more than two years ago, and said it has demonstrated its determination to maintain its independence.

Significantly, he observed that Yugoslavia maintains the largest fighting force in Europe, outside of the Soviet Union.

Congress, Concerned Over War Threat, Drives Ahead With Home-Front Matters

Senate Group Okays Compromise 60-Day Rent Curb Extension; Tax Bill Snagged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Top administration officials reportedly sketched for Congress today one of the darkest pictures since early in World War II and warned that aside from the Korean crisis, trouble may erupt in Europe "next spring."

Throughout a tense day, key military and diplomatic figures appeared before committees on both sides of Capitol Hill and gave the lawmakers an up-to-the-minute analysis of events.

Gravely concerned as they were over the possible imminence of World War III, the legislators drove ahead on such home-front legislative matters as taxes, Alaska-Hawaii statehood and rent control.

In brief, this was the situation:

Filibuster Threatens

Statehood — After two days of shadow-boxing, some southern Democrats appeared bent on waging an all-out fight to defeat Senate passage of an Alaskan statehood bill.

Sen. Ellender (D-La) threatened a full-scale "filibuster speech" next week if statehood advocates win their fight to bring up the bill for action. Ellender once spoke for five days against an anti-lynching bill.

Rents—The Senate Banking Committee approved a compromise 60-day extension of federal rent controls beyond Dec. 31 when the present law expires. President Truman had asked a 90-day extension.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) said the compromise would be reported to the Senate tomorrow, ready for action early next week.

Sens. Bricker (R-Ohio) and Flanders (R VT) voted against the extension.

Profits Tax Hits Snag

Taxes—The administration's $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax formula hit another snag in the tax-drafting House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee, which deadlocked on the issue with a 12-to-12 vote yesterday, tentatively rejected the administration's proposal again today but failed to agree on a substitute.

The administration is seeking to slap a 75 per cent tax on all profit in excess of 75 per cent of the 1946-49 average.

As a substitute, Republicans are urging a higher corporate tax.

Faces Red: Key To Keys To City Lost

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—District of Columbia commissioners lost the key to the keys to the city yesterday.

Their embarrassing moment came when they prepared to present the symbolic keys to a group of Japanese officials studying city government.

They couldn't find the key that unlocked the cabinet of keys.

Big Steel Offer's Acceptance Seen

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP) — Industry leader United States Steel Corporation today offered the CIO United Steelworkers an undisclosed wage increase which Union President Philip Murray liked well enough to lay before the USW's powerful executive board in a secret session.

Neither Big Steel nor the union will discuss size of the offer but reports pegged it at about 18 cents an hour counting fringe benefits.

Murray — also head of the CIO — took the proposal before the executive board in an hour and a half session behind closed-doors which couldn't muffle the repeated rounds of prolonged clapping.

The wage offer will be presented to the union's wage-policy committee at 10 a.m. (EST) tomorrow.

Everything indicates acceptance. In past years Murray has submitted only offers he favors and the committee has never rejected them.

Red Armies In Position To Seize West Europe

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—Soviet armies stationed in East Germany are in a position to grip Europe by the throat.

Allied intelligence officers say there are six such armies, made up of 33 divisions—10 of them heavily armored.

They consider that, if the Kremlin sends these armies on the march in support of China, continental Western Europe is finished.

The only real combat forces between these Soviet armies and the Spanish border are nine Allied divisions.

Car Blast Kills Man, Girl; Believed Murder-Suicide

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Police said tonight that James William Woodward, 25, Marshall, Va., and a girl identified as Mary Fay Combs, 17, Washington, were killed when an explosion wrecked an automobile in Southeast Washington.

Police Chief Robert J. Barrett and Chief of Detectives Robert V. Murray told reporters it apparently was a case of suicide and murder, caused by Woodward's jealousy.

The officers said they did not believe a bomb had been set up in the car but added "it could have been dynamite."

Inspector Murray said the girl had been going with Woodward for some time but for the last month had been "trying to break off" the affair.

He said he was told that Woodward called to see Miss Combs tonight after having failed to get to see her last night when he went to her home.

The girl agreed to go out to the car to talk with Woodward, Murray said, but left her coat and hat in the house. A few moments later an explosion shattered the car, driving Woodward's body into the seat and throwing the girl outside on the street.

M'Arthur Target Of Angry Attacks In West Europe

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Angry outbursts against Gen. Douglas MacArthur tonight marked the reaction in war-weary Western Europe to Korean setbacks. There was talk in official French circles of informally suggesting his replacement as U. N. supreme commander.

Many newspapers and anonymous political critics protested MacArthur acted too hastily in launching his "end-the-war" drive last Friday. They said he should have waited until British and French suggestions for a buffer state on the Korean-Manchurian border had been worked out.

Bevin Defends General

One informed source here declared MacArthur's decision to launch the offensive was against the advice of both the French and British diplomatic missions in Tokyo.

Although some British newspapers—both leftist and conservative—attacked MacArthur, the U. N. commander was defended by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in the House of Commons.

"There has, I think, been some misunderstanding about the status of the commander of U. N. forces in Korea and about the instructions issued to him," Bevin said. "I wish to assure the house that all the objectives of Gen. MacArthur are no more and no less than the objectives of the United Nations.

Consultation On Policy

"It has been necessary to leave control of operations very much in the hands of the United Nations commander, provided always that where his plans might involve questions of general policy there must be proper consultation on such matters. I assure the house that this is, in fact, what has happened."

A French spokesman said his government felt MacArthur had launched his offensive in order to wreck negotiations by France and Britain for a settlement of the frontier issue with the Chinese Communists. The Chinese Communist counteroffensive followed.

It was reported here MacArthur ignored the advice of the British and French diplomats with a statement that, once the U. N. forces were on the Yalu river, separating Manchuria and Korea, the Chinese would negotiate peacefully.

Allied Forces Fighting Hard To Avoid Trap

Two U. S. Divisions Across Chongchon

U. S. TENTH CORPS HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 30 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond said today elements of three Chinese armies — as many as 80,000 men — have "suddenly confronted" United Nations forces in Northeast Korea.

One of Almond's forces already is at the Manchurian border. Others have been racing up the east coast within 50 miles of the Siberian frontier.

In Northeast Korea, Chinese Reds blocked the supply route for U. S. Seventh Division and First Marine Division troops fighting in the Changjin reservoir area. Elements of two Seventh Division regiments were cut off.

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 30 (AP)—Resistance stiffened today against Chinese Communist hordes trying to swing in behind the 100,000-man United Nations army in Northwest Korea and trap it.

Reports to the U. S. Eighth Army today indicated Communist pressure has eased sharply.

Americans, Turks and British, defending an arc at the crushed east flank of the U. N. line, fought hard to protect three U. S. divisions and one South Korean division retreating southward across the Chongchon river.

The U. S. 24th and Second Divisions, at the west and east ends of the line, were reported across.

Near the center of the line, the U. S. 25th division reported it was continuing an "orderly withdrawal under pressure." The Republic of Korea (ROK) First Division, on the 25th's east flank, also still was making crossings.

Reds' Action Speculated

The Eighth Army's immediate objective was to hold an arc running from Kunu east to Kaechon and southeast to Sinchang. This would protect completion of the river crossing by the U. S. 25th and the ROK First.

Red pressure was reported easing against all three points of the arc. It was not clear at Eighth Army headquarters whether Kunu still was in U. N. hands. Kunu, on the south bank of the river, is only 17 miles from Sinanju of the west coast.

The Communists, bringing out tanks in support, poured unchecked down the gaping hole blasted four days ago near Tokchon through three South Korean divisions. But they were meeting increased resistance in an entrapment move to swing west and pin the U. N. forces against the Yellow sea.

The sudden diminishing of the Communist pressure after steady attacks since Saturday night caused an Eighth Army officer to say "I don't know what it means."

There was immediate speculation (1) the Reds had raced beyond communications or (2) had been ordered to slow their counter-offensive as the result of diplomatic discussions. It also was possible the Reds were slowing up to organize for renewal of their push.

2nd Crosses Chongchon

The U. S. Second Division pulled back across the Chongchon in the Kunu sector and reported reduced Chinese pressure.

The division sent one regiment five miles southeast to aid the hard-fighting Turkish brigade near Kaechon. The regiment was heavily hammered in a battle with Chinese in more than division strength. Two American battalions were reported overrun.

The Turks had cut their way out of a trap to the north near Wawon, bayonetting 200 Chinese. Today the brigade's main force was reported pulling back south from Kaechon.

Units of the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade were in blocking positions southeast of Kunu and

Cost Of Living Hits New High

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — The cost of living index pulsed to a new record high today, bringing automatic pay increases to nearly a million workers whose contracts are linked to the rise and fall of the monthly price indicator.

General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. immediately announced that as a result of the index climb and a negotiated adjustment in the index to make allowance for higher rents, their half-million hourly rated employes will receive an increase of three cents an hour. Another 100,000 salaried workers will get allowances of $15 or $15.75 at the end of the next business quarter.

Rival Enters Suit In Verse, Has Eye On Mae West Purse

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Actress Sara Allen slapped a $1,000,000 damage suit against Mae West today, complaining the "come up and see me sometime" girl just about ruined her career.

She charged in verse that Miss West slandered her and kept her from getting stage jobs because she did such excellent impersonations of the star of "Diamond Lil."

The damage action was filed by Miss Allen's attorney, Harry H. Lipsig, whose affidavit asked the State Supreme Court:

"Can Sara's spinal modulations
"Be subject to West's regulations?
"For buxom Mae now makes the claim
"Of introducing sex to fame,
"That bumps and grinds were never known
"Till in her act they first were shown."

This, the attorney said, just wasn't so. His affidavit concluded:

"Bumps and grinds and flirty song
"All to antiquity belong,
"And sex was known to Eve and Adam
"And hips before Mae West e'er had 'em."

Congress, Concerned Over War Threat, Drives Ahead With Home-Front Matters

Senate Group Okays Compromise 60-Day Rent Curb Extension; Tax Bill Snagged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Top administration officials reportedly sketched for Congress today one of the darkest pictures since early in World War II and warned that aside from the Korean crisis, trouble may erupt in Europe "next spring."

Throughout a tense day, key military and diplomatic figures appeared before committees on both sides of Capitol Hill and gave the lawmakers an up-to-the-minute analysis of events.

Gravely concerned as they were over the possible imminence of World War III, the legislators drove ahead on such home-front legislative matters as taxes, Alaska-Hawaii statehood and rent control.

In brief, this was the situation:

Filibuster Threatens

Statehood — After two days of shadow - boxing, some southern Democrats appeared bent on waging an all-out fight to defeat Senate passage of an Alaskan statehood bill.

Sen. Ellender (D-La) threatened a full-scale "filibuster speech" next week if statehood advocates win their fight to bring up the bill for action. Ellender once spoke for five days against an anti-lynching bill.

Rents—The Senate Banking Committee approved a compromise 60-day extension of federal rent controls beyond Dec. 31 when the present law expires. President Truman had asked a 90-day extension.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) said the compromise would be reported to the Senate tomorrow, ready for action early next week.

Sens. Bricker (R-Ohio) and Flanders (R VT) voted against the extension.

Profits Tax Hits Snag

Taxes—The administration's $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax formula hit another snag in the tax-drafting House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee, which deadlocked on the issue with a 12-to-12 vote yesterday, tentatively rejected the administration's proposal again today but failed to agree on a substitute.

The administration is seeking to slap a 75 per cent tax on all profit in excess of 75 per cent of the 1946-49 average.

As a substitute, Republicans are urging a higher corporate tax.

Faces Red: Key To Keys To City Lost

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—District of Columbia commissioners lost the key to the keys to the city yesterday.

Their embarrassing moment came when they prepared to present the symbolic keys to a group of Japanese officials studying city government.

They couldn't find the key that unlocked the cabinet of keys.

Big Steel Offer's Acceptance Seen

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP) — Industry leader United States Steel Corporation today offered the CIO United Steelworkers an undisclosed wage increase which Union President Philip Murray liked well enough to lay before the USW's powerful executive board in a secret session.

Neither Big Steel nor the union will discuss size of the offer but reports pegged it at about 18 cents an hour counting fringe benefits.

Murray — also head of the CIO — took the proposal before the executive board in an hour and a half session behind closed-doors which couldn't muffle the repeated rounds of prolonged clapping.

The wage offer will be presented to the union's wage-policy committee at 10 a.m. (EST) tomorrow.

Everything indicates acceptance. In past years Murray has submitted only offers he favors and the committee has never rejected them.

Red Armies In Position To Seize West Europe

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—Soviet armies stationed in East Germany are in a position to grip Europe by the throat.

Allied intelligence officers say there are six such armies, made up of 33 divisions—10 of them heavily armored.

They consider that, if the Kremlin sends these armies on the march in support of China, continental Western Europe is finished.

M'Arthur Target Of Angry Attacks In West Europe

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Angry outbursts against Gen. Douglas MacArthur tonight marked the reaction in war-weary Western Europe to Korean setbacks. There was talk in official French circles of informally suggesting his replacement as U. N. supreme commander.

Many newspapers and anonymous political critics protested MacArthur acted too hastily in launching his "end-the-war" drive last Friday. They said he should have waited until British and French suggestions for a buffer state on the Korean-Manchurian border had been worked out.

Bevin Defends General

One informed source here declared MacArthur's decision to launch the offensive was against the advice of both the French and British diplomatic missions in Tokyo.

Although some British newspapers—both leftist and conservative—attacked MacArthur, the U. N. commander was defended by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in the House of Commons.

"There has, I think, been some misunderstanding about the status of the commander of U. N. forces in Korea and about the instructions issued to him," Bevin said. "I wish to assure the house that all the objectives of Gen. MacArthur are no more and no less than the objectives of the United Nations.

Consultation On Policy

"It has been necessary to leave control of operations very much in the hands of the United Nations commander, provided always that where his plans might involve questions of general policy there must be proper consultation on such matters. I assure the house that this is, in fact, what has happened."

A French spokesman said his government felt MacArthur had launched his offensive in order to wreck negotiations by France and Britain for a settlement of the frontier issue with the Chinese Communists. The Chinese Communist counteroffensive followed.

It was reported here MacArthur ignored the advice of the British and French diplomats with a statement that, once the U. N. forces were on the Yalu river, separating Manchuria and Korea, the Chinese would negotiate peacefully.

Car Blast Kills Man, Girl; Believed Murder-Suicide

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Police said tonight that James William Woodward, 25, Marshall, Va., and a girl identified as Mary Fay Combs, 17, Washington, were killed when an explosion wrecked an automobile in Southeast Washington.

Police Chief Robert J. Barrett and Chief of Detectives Robert V. Murray told reporters it apparently was a case of suicide and murder, caused by Woodward's jealousy.

The officers said they did not believe a bomb had been set up in the car but added "it could have been dynamite."

Inspector Murray said the girl had been going with Woodward for some time but for the last month had been "trying to break off" the affair.

He said he was told that Woodward called to see Miss Combs tonight after having failed to get to see her last night when he went to her home.

The girl agreed to go out to the car to talk with Woodward, Murray said, but left her coat and hat in the house. A few moments later an explosion shattered the car, driving Woodward's body into the seat and throwing the girl outside on the street.

Allied Forces Fighting Hard To Avoid Trap

Two U. S. Divisions Across Chongchon

U. S. TENTH CORPS HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 30 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond said today elements of three Chinese armies — as many as 80,000 men — have "suddenly confronted" United Nations forces in Northeast Korea.

One of Almond's forces already is at the Manchurian border. Others have been racing up the east coast within 50 miles of the Siberian frontier.

In Northeast Korea, Chinese Reds blocked the supply route for U. S. Seventh Division and First Marine Division troops fighting in the Changjin reservoir area. Elements of two Seventh Division regiments were cut off.

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 30 (AP)—Resistance stiffened today against Chinese Communist hordes trying to swing in behind the 100,000-man United Nations army in Northwest Korea and trap it.

Reports to the U. S. Eighth Army today indicated Communist pressure has eased sharply.

Americans, Turks and British, defending an arc at the crushed east flank of the U. N. line, fought hard to protect three U. S. divisions and one South Korean division retreating southward across the Chongchon river.

The U. S. 24th and Second Divisions, at the west and east ends of the line, were reported across.

Near the center of the line, the U. S. 25th division reported it was continuing an "orderly withdrawal under pressure." The Republic of Korea (ROK) First Division, on the 25th's east flank, also still was making crossings.

Reds' Action Speculated

The Eighth Army's immediate objective was to hold an arc running from Kunu east to Kaechon and southeast to Sinchang. This would protect completion of the river crossing by the U. S. 25th and the ROK First.

Red pressure was reported easing against all three points of the arc. It was not clear at Eighth Army headquarters whether Kunu still was in U. N. hands. Kunu, on the south bank of the river, is only 17 miles from Sinanju of the west coast.

The Communists, bringing out tanks in support, poured unchecked down the gaping hole blasted four days ago near Tokchon through three South Korean divisions. But they were meeting increased resistance in an entrapment move to swing west and pin the U. N. forces against the Yellow sea.

The sudden diminishing of the Communist pressure after steady attacks since Saturday night caused an Eighth Army officer to say "I don't know what it means."

There was immediate speculation (1) the Reds had raced beyond communications or (2) had been ordered to slow their counter-offensive as the result of diplomatic discussions. It also was possible the Reds were slowing up to organize for renewal of their push.

2nd Crosses Chongchon

The U. S. Second Division pulled back across the Chongchon in the Kunu sector and reported reduced Chinese pressure.

The division sent one regiment five miles southeast to aid the hard-fighting Turkish brigade near Kaechon. The regiment was heavily hammered in a battle with Chinese in more than division strength. Two American battalions were reported overrun.

The Turks had cut their way out of a trap to the north near Wawon, bayonetting 200 Chinese. Today the brigade's main force was reported pulling back south from Kaechon.

Units of the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade were in blocking positions southeast of Kunu and

Cost Of Living Hits New High

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — The cost of living index pulsed to a new record high today, bringing automatic pay increases to nearly a million workers whose contracts are linked to the rise and fall of the monthly price indicator.

General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. immediately announced that as a result of the index climb and a negotiated adjustment in the index to make allowance for higher rents, their half-million hourly rated employes will receive an increase of three cents an hour. Another 100,000 salaried workers will get allowances of $15 or $15.75 at the end of the next business quarter.

New Snow Falls In Storm Areas

[By The Associated Press]

Traffic jams and more snow caused fresh trouble in parts of the broad snow belt yesterday and Florida shivered in its chilliest November in almost 40 years.

A new snowfall began across Pennsylvania. Southwestern Virginia was pelted with up to four inches of snow. "Rather heavy" snow squalls were forecast for Northern Ohio.

The task of removing from one to three feet of last weekend's snow ran into complications in some cities.

Pittsburgh police threw a blockade around the downtown district to keep out all motorists except those on emergency errands. Too many automobiles were trying to get into the area. They threatened to tie up transportation and hampered snow removal.

Thousands of cars caused huge traffic jams on Cleveland's snow-clogged streets despite pleas by Mayor Thomas A. Burke that driving be restricted to essential drivers.

Constant readiness to negotiate international differences.

A firm adherence to "the moral values which give meaning to our lives."

Acheson's speech climaxed a day of tension which brought these main outlines of things to come:

1—A member of the Senate Armed Services Committee said it appears certain Congress will be asked to change the draft law to get more men into uniform. He did not say what changes are being considered. Only men aged 19 to 36 now are being drafted.

2—Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the same committee said a whole new war plan must be developed as a result of the Chinese Red attack. He indicated to reporters that such a plan already is being worked out.

Dog's Tail Caught In Washer Motor

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 29 (AP)—The police emergency squad, which thought it had heard everything, today got this assignment: Release dog caught in washing machine.

The squad hurried to the home of Mrs. Caroline Reynolds. There they found that a pet Pekinese had been released by her husband, Joseph.

It seems the dog's tail was caught in the motor.

Sell Fertilizer, Bury Sales Tax

SHADY SIDE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — Alexander W. Andrews, who once defied all comers to prove there's really a devil, now has an idea for selling fertilizer.

Native Maryland fertilizer would enable the state to plow under its sales tax in five years, Andrews said today.

"The potential possibilities would stagger the imagination," he added.

Maryland could sell the mixture of Chesapeake mud and ordinary sand he's developed, Andrews suggested. Result: Enough income to abolish the sales tax and employ thousands of people.

Andrews said he already has passed along the idea to Governor-elect Theodore R. McKeldin. Andrews was an unsuccessful candidate for Anne Arundel county commissioner on the McKeldin-led Republican ticket this month.

Andrews, 66, is a former Sunday school teacher who two years ago engaged in a no-decision radio debate with clergymen over existence of a devil.

Nationalist China's Offer "Still Stands"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ambassador Wellington Koo said today Nationalist China's offer of 33,000 troops to the United Nations for the Korean fighting "still stands."

Koo made that statement to reporters at the State Department after a conference wih Assistant Secretary Dean Rusk on the Korean crisis.

He said the offer of Nationalist troops wasn't pressed at the meeting with Rusk.

U. S. First Cavalry Division elements were hit before midnight last night near Kujon, 16 miles east of Sunchon. Under Chinese pressure, the Americans fell back four miles and then stood at new blocking positions near Sinchang.

The Chinese made a penetration into American forces at Kujong but counterattacks restored the position.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I says to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she laughs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it wasn't!

From where I sit, I'd been letting a little thing become a serious problem. Like some little difference of opinion or taste will start off a great big argument. I may prefer a temperate glass of beer with my dinner—while the missus likes tea—but we figure that no two people have exactly the same likes and dislikes. So, why get all "het up" about it?

The moral is, check your suspenders—and check your temper when it comes to little things.

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I says to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she laughs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it wasn't!

From where I sit, I'd been letting a little thing become a serious problem. Like some little difference of opinion or taste will start off a great big argument. I may prefer a temperate glass of beer with my dinner—while the missus likes tea—but we figure that no two people have exactly the same likes and dislikes. So, why get all "het up" about it?

The moral is, check your suspenders—and check your temper when it comes to little things.

Language Barrier

Few differences build so difficult a wall between persons as does the lack of a common language. Affirmations of good will may die on the lips when it is realized that they may be met with blank looks.

This is a fact to be reckoned with in our work in Germany. A speaker at a recent foreign language conference in New York pointed out that if we are to re-orient the Germans thoroughly and to gain their esteem, we must send representatives who can speak German fluently. More emphasis, he said, must be placed on the study of French, German, Italian, Spanish and Russian in our schools.

Experts who are in actual daily contact with the people of other nations argue, too, that too much teaching emphasis may be placed on grammar and on the background literature of a foreign language, and not enough on the colloquial use of the tongue. A knowledge of the literature of a foreign country is of value, but the nuances, the intonations and even the slang which characterize the everyday use of a language are equally if not more important to those who will use it for personal contact. The very fact that the visitor has gone to the trouble of learning to communicate with him in his own tongue is heart-warming to the citizen of another country.

After a long study it has been announced in England that 2,500 different species of birds have been known to use bits of paper to build their nests. Under socialism there is no limit to what may be learned.

Say It With Turtles

A collection agency, perhaps fresh from reading "White Collar Zoo," is trying a new stunt. As a gentle hint to slowpayers, it mails them live turtles. The New York Journal of Commerce, reporting the incident and viewing it with alarm, foresees the day when a confirmed bad debtor will open an envelope and discover a black widow spider. But the Journal seems unduly worried. Deadbeats don't open letters from collection agencies.

The usual collection agency technique is to start mildly with a letter saying, "No doubt you have overlooked . . . appreciate your early attention . . ." and then proceed by stages to a bare-knuckled missive containing such expressions as ". . . last warning . . . within 48 hours . . . or else." But they could say it all with turtles.

The first turtle, no doubt, is one of those itsy-bitsy dime store jobs, perhaps with a spray of forget-me-nots painted on its shell. Some agencies might even start with a snail. The follow-up turtles would be progressively larger, naturally. If the delinquent still tried to dodge his debts, he would eventually get a big, bad-tempered snapping turtle that would put his dodging ability to a real test.

But the technique needn't be monopolized by collection agencies. If the say-it-with-animals device becomes popular, some acid-tongued ladies are going to find the postman bringing them cats. A letter saying, "I know you'll try to wriggle out of it, you slippery . . ." would be replaced by a live eel. Americans wishing to express themselves to Stalin would have a choice ranging from rats through snakes to skunks.

Where Does It Begin?

Everybody subscribes to the principle that Congress should begin its attack on the problem of financing rearmament by cutting non-military expenditures to the bone. The difficulty is to decide just where the bone begins—that is, just where saving money would do damage to the basic structure of the nation. Whether Congress will ever have to decide this question is debatable.

The United States Chamber of Commerce is convinced the $6,000,000,000 cut it advocates is not too much of a good thing. But that opinion will get little support from the spenders. They will regard it as an extreme proposal, neither attractive nor practical.

But it should be possible to lop $6,000,000,000 off a budget that grew from $3,000,000,000 to $43,000,000,000 in less than 20 years. Certainly many of the "services" for which this money is spent can be dispensed with.

Instead of advocating too drastic a cut, the Chamber of Commerce leaned toward expediency in making its suggestion. It probably realized that Congress won't make any cut at all, but will content itself with piling tax upon tax.

Honoring Marriage

In these days of divorce and broken homes special attention should be called to a recent gala day in Parsons, Kans., in which the community turned out to honor three couples who were observing their 60th wedding anniversaries. A crowd so large it filled the sanctuary to one of the leading churches attended a reception arranged by a woman's society.

Asked to give their rules for long and happy married lives, all agreed understanding and consideration for each other was most vital. Life was more simple when they were wed, and there wasn't so much to worry about. "Those who get married with the intention of living together and making it a 50-year job will have no trouble," declared one of the women

Those who exalt marriage, who take its vows seriously, have found the real joy to be had in society's greatest institution, which still remains the hope of the world.

Blame The President

Charges are multiplying daily that the nation's deplorable international situation is attributable to the fact this nation's foreign policy has not been evolved by both major political parties.

While there has been much talk of a bipartisan program, President Truman has all but ignored the opposition party. Bipartisanship has consisted of Truman, Acheson et al deciding the policy and then permitting the Republicans to support it.

Secretary of State Acheson continues to be the object of criticism and demands mount that the nation's entire foreign policy be brought into the open and re-examined.

As the matter stands, the United States is deeply involved in war in Asia and the administration is trying appeasement of Red China.

Immunization For Travelers

TRANSPORTATION plays a role in the spread of disease and more than one epidemic has been traced to travelers. The airplane has accentuated this problem because many parts of the world are now within a distance of 24 hours. This is in marked contrast to the oxcart era when it took so long to go from one city to another the victim was either well or dead by the time his destination was reached.

A traveler may sneeze on entering a plane in Chicago and land in London with a fullblown cold. There he is in a position to pass the infection to every one with whom he comes into contact. A plane that lands in New York on Tuesday may have been in the midst of a smallpox epidemic in India the previous Sunday. There is no limit on speculation along this line. Our public health officials are aware of these hazards and certain international and local regulations have been set up to protect all concerned. This explains why tourists are asked to show proof of inoculation against smallpox, typhus, yellow fever, and cholera. The rules vary and it is wise to study the requirements of each country whenever a trip is contemplated.

Smallpox vaccination, for example, is essential before entering any foreign land as well as before returning to the United States. On the other hand, when sailing or flying to England, immunization against yellow fever is not necessary but visitors to certain areas in South America and Asia need to take these "shots." Cholera inoculations are a must before journeying to the near east and Asia. Typhus is rife in many sections of the world and protection is called for should such countries be on the itinerary. Typhoid and paratyphoid injections are not compulsory but are advised frequently before going abroad.

To facilitate health protection an international certificate of inoculation and vaccination has been printed and the blanks usually are issued to a prospective traveler by the state department with his passport. The information as to what immunizations are required before visiting each country also can be obtained from the local or state health officer or the travel agency. Unfortunately, government regulations are prone to change overnight and it is advisable to recheck with the health department before starting on an extended tour. The international certificate avoids most of this bother because it is all inclusive and will be accepted without question.

Vaccination against smallpox should be done at least 14 days prior to leaving home and, once done, is valid for three years. Cholera inoculations are started 14 to 20 days prior to departure. Two or three separate injections are given seven to 10 days apart and booster doses are needed at four to six month intervals to maintain immunity. The international certificate is acceptable for only six months from the date of the last cholera injection. Typhus preventive measures are similar to those of cholera except that the certificate is good for a year from the date of the last injection. A single injection against yellow fever is given at least 10 days before leaving the country and is valid for four years.

TOMORROW: Childbearing at the end of the reproductive period.

STIFF NECK

M. B. writes: At the least little breeze, my neck becomes stiff and painful. What is the cause?

REPLY

This is common after the neck has been injured or when the muscles and fibrous tissue are susceptible to muscular rheumatism (fibrositis). Keeping the parts covered or applying heat after chilling will help.

UNPLEASANT TABLE TALK

Mrs. M. writes: Is it harmful to have continual unpleasant conversation and emotional turmoil while eating? My 65 year old mother is in excellent health but we never sit down to the table for a meal without her bringing up some family quarrel or grudge. This causes the younger members of the family to become upset and excited. If we remain silent she is even worse in her denunciations. Yet she never has indigestion like the rest of us.

REPLY

Yes—the more pleasant the mealtime the better the digestion. Your mother shoud stop this practice; it may mean that you and the other members of the family will have to refuse to eat with her unless she promises to do so. She probably does not have indigestion because she is able to air her grievances while the rest of you are smoldering. In this respect she is justified in discussing her problems but there is a time and place for everything and the table is no place for arguments of this nature.

The losses incurred last year by Britain's nationalized railroads, docks and canals, totaling $58,000,000, were more than four times the $13.2 million deficit reported in 1948.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It was all hushed up, but one day last week practically every top military man in Washington was anxiously scanning the sky in anticipation of an enemy air raid on the nation's capital.

Reason for their concern was a cable from India which read: "Alert all U. S. cities they are due to be bombed within the next twenty-four hours."

Astonished clerks at the message center immediately made a dozen copies — on message center forms —and shot them out to the key offices. The cryptic message, on official stationery, had all the appearances of being an official warning, and remembering how Washington was caught asleep during Pearl Harbor, word of the impending attack was flashed from the Pentagon to every key office throughout the city — including the White House.

Uniformed couriers sped the message to the National Security Council, a sergeant raced into Defense Secretary Marshall's office, the Central Intelligence Agency was alerted, Pentagon stenographers hearing the news made frantic phone calls to advise their friends and relatives. Tension was mounting to the breaking point.

Then the bubble burst amid a sea of very red faces.

A few calm officers decided to check the name signed to the cable from India. They discovered that the signer wasn't employed by the State department, wasn't a CIA agent, wasn't in Army, Navy or Air Intelligence. In fact, he wasn't a U. S. Government employe of any kind.

He was, they learned, an American tourist stopping off in India. Examination of the original cable revealed it had been sent on November 23.

One officer glanced at a calendar. "November 23 was Thanksgiving Day?" he said. Then he queried, "What are some Americans apt to do if they're in India on Thanksgiving Day?"

"Get drunk," was the reply.

Soviet Secret Weapons

American ordnance officers are popeyed at Soviet weapons, captured in Korea. They are so amazed that they are hastily revising their estimates of Russian military might and are convinced that the United States has been underestimating Russian strength by as much as 50 per cent.

A preliminary survey indicates that Russia sent nearly two billion dollars worth of military aid to North Korea, which is more than the total American deliveries to all North Atlantic Pact countries combined. And this does not include planes and ships which the Russians did not supply to North Korea in quantity.

Furthermore, markings on the equipment have ben traced to Russian factories that U. S. Intelligence thought were producing civilian goods. These captured weapons are now being tested and evaluated at the Aberdeen, Md., Ordnance Center.

The most effective weapons captured from the North Koreans are heavy mortars and burp guns, which laid down the most terrific firepower that the American army has ever faced.

For example, the captured Russian 120-MM. trench mortar is heavier than the comparable 4-2-inch U. S. mortar; also fires 1,600 yards farther. In addition, the North Koreans used a mortar even heavier than the 120-MM., which the Army has not yet evaluated.

The Russian burp gun has a drum-type magazine and fires at a terrifically rapid rate. Most of these were inscribed with 1950 manufacturing markings, thus refuting the Soviet claim that they had shipped no arms to North Korea since 1945.

Soviet Jeep

Probably the most fascinating captured equipment is the Russian jeep. This is slightly larger and more comfortable than the U. S. model, is equipped with softer seats, double springs and better shock absorbers. However, its vital parts are still modeled after the outmoded A and B types, made by Ford.

Several BA-64 light-armored cars were also captured. However, they are distinctly inferior to the American M-8 in maneuverability, firepower and defense against small arms.

Most captured Soviet rifles are modeled after the U. S. Springfield 1903. They weigh 10 pounds, use five-round clips and fire at a slower rate than modern U. S. rifles.

However, a novel, hand-shoulder antitank gun was captured that is easy to maneuver and can pierce armor up to two and one-half inches. The Russian-made Goryunov machine gun can also be used against aircraft by reversing the gun and elevating the tail. Its effective range is 900 yards but it is difficult to carry and load. The North Koreans also used an SU-76 self-propelled gun, mounted on a T-34 tank, which was effective until the U. S. Pershing and Patton tanks showed up and outshot it.

Lady Judges

India Edwards, the shrewd and dynamic woman's Jim Farley, believes female judges will bring a needed dose of common sense to justice. That is back of her campaign to get more of her sex on the federal judiciary.

Mrs. Edwards, who is woman's director of the Democratic National Committee, boldly told President Truman: "It's a disgrace there aren't more women on the bench. Why, women make wonderful judges. They are fair, interested in justice, and have lots more common sense than men."

Few people realize it, but Mrs. Edwards, with the help of Harry Truman, has smashed the men-only rule in federal court appointments. Some of the topflight women lawyers brought to the bench by India Edwards' drive are:

Judge Burnita Shelton Matthews, U. S. District Court, Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Matthews, a native of Mississippi and a distinguished woman jurist, is ex-president of the National Association of Women Lawyers and author of the 1927 law allowing women to serve on D. C. juries.

Judge Edith H. Cockrill, D. C. Juvenile Court—Former OPA attorney and specialist in domestic relations.

Judge Marion Harron of the U.S. Tax Court—Her reappointment was pushed through the administration and Senate against the American Bar Association by Mrs. Edwards. The bar association disapproved of a woman in that postiion.

India Edwards has her eye on the Supreme Court, and only lost out by an eyelash when Justice Sherman Minton was appointed. Her choice was Ohio's Florence Allen, judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals. She recounts: "I think we would have won, if it hadn't been for certain justices who are old fashioned in their views about women."

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

More Babies, More Wolves

WASHINGTON

AFTER his customary initial reaction of rather cocky defiance, President Truman seems to have settled glumly down to face the post-election facts. At least this is the natural inference from a reliable report that the President will no longer press for the two great, symbolic measures of the Fair Deal, the Brannan Farm Plan and the Ewing Health Plan.

If Truman had not himself announced that he would continue to fight for his entire Fair Deal program, without abating one jot or one tittle, the abandonment of the Brannan and Ewing plans would have no great meaning. After all, they proved to be such obvious political poison that even the most ardent and official Fair Deal Senatorial candidates, like Lucas in Illinois, Loveland in Iowa, and Campbell in Indiana, had declared against them before election day. Thus no one needs to worry whether the Brannan and Ewing plans will be enacted.

The President's decision not to press for these plans is vitally important, none-the-less, for the curious reason that it bears directly on the future of American foreign and domestic policy.

Three-Element Majority

In brief, there is only one way for the President to save his foreign and defense program, and this is to upset the new balance in Congress established by the November 7 voting. And this is so, in turn, because Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio now commands a potential majority of the Senate which, if solidified, he can use to cut the American foreign and defense policy to ribbons.

This potential Taft majority is composed of three elements. First, there are the habitually isolationist, right-wing Republicans, whose representation in the Senate has been heavily increased by the victories of such men as Welcker of Idaho. Second, there are the relatively moderate Republicans like Hickenlooper of Iowa, who will now tend to follow Taft because they think his political line has been proved good medicine at the polls. Third, there are the Southern Democrats, who will also tend to follow Taft because they are innately conservative and hate Truman more and more with every passing day.

In tackling this formidable array of enemies, sworn and potential, Truman can ignore the isolationist, right-wing Republicans. Nothing can be done with them. But much can still be done with the Republican moderates, if Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson is sacrificed, and another man like former ECA chief Paul Hoffman is named Secretary of State.

As to the Southern Democrats, nothing much can be done with the two or three like Sen. Harry F. Byrd, who actually went to Ohio during the campaign to proclaim his affection and admiration for Sen. Taft. But much can certainly be done with the Southern rank and file if the President is also willing to sacrifice the items on the Fair Deal program the Southerners dislike the most.

Must Do The Expedient

Unfortunately, however, the sacrifice of the Brannan and Ewing plans is a mere hors d'oeuvres, a mere commencement of the oblation, in the view of these Southerners. What they really want is to see Truman sacrifice most of his civil rights measures. Such leaders as the two influential Georgia senators, Walter George and Richard Russell, have sworn they will be satisfied with nothing less.

Dropping Acheson and putting civil rights temporarily on the shelf will produce a changed Congressional situation, in which enough of our foreign and defense policy can survive so that this nation can survive. It may be very unfortunate; in the case of Acheson, it is surely grossly unjust, that the babies should have to be thrown to the wolves in this manner. But the important thing now, as suggested in the last report in this space, is to get the sleigh out of the woods. The practical facts of the Congressional situation in effect demand that the President should forget what is distasteful, or unpleasant, or even by most tests wrong, and proceed to do what is expedient.

Luckily there are a good many men around Truman, and among these several of the most ordinarily ardent Fair Dealers, who see the problem in precisely this light. Ex-

Impending Decisions Can Affect Destiny Of World

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 — Firmness without bluster, a willingness to discuss and negotiate a peaceful settlement but a readiness to accept the consequences even though they mean war — this about sums up the over-all thinking of the government. It will be reflected in policy decisions here and before the United Nations in the next three days, which, it is conceded on all sides, may present America with grave decisions that can affect the destiny of the free world for a long time to come.

The sad fact which is basic is that America is unprepared to fight a war in both Asia and Europe. Hence a withdrawal from Asia could be forced as a military necessity if large-scale war breaks out in Europe.

If, on the other hand, Russia does not want to precipitate large-scale war and is ready for a settlement in the Far East, a patched-up peace is in prospect. Appeasement may win again as it did in Munich in 1938 — but primarily to gain time, to get America prepared in a military way for the eventual conflict which, in the event of an American withdrawal from Asia, would then become inevitable.

Allies Tragically Weak

The next and most important fact of a basic nature in the dilemma is the little-realized but tragic weakness of our allies. They do not have the military power organized to fight in Europe or in Asia.

Britain is involved militarily in Malaya. France is bogged down in Indo-China. Germany is not rearmed. Italy is weak. The Red armies could march across Europe and sweep triumphantly into the strategic capitals of the continent.

All this means simply that the billions which have been spent by America for a system of defense in the free world now are dependent solely for their effectiveness on the use of the atom bomb. Russia, it is assumed, has some bombs but not as many as the United States possesses.

If America will not use the atom bomb, Russia will have a free hand.

Demands are arising that the United States use the atom bomb in the Far East to defend American troops against further attacks by the Chinese Communists. The same Congress which permitted our defense strategy to be built around the bomb is now hearing cries that the atom bomb should be dropped on strategic targets. Some senators are saying, as did Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrat, that an ultimatum should be sent to Soviet Russia demanding that Moscow withdraw the Chinese Communist armies — her puppets — from Korea.

The passage by the U. N. of a resolution declaring either Russia or Communist China or both to be aggressors depends entirely on what the U. N. members will do to back up such a resolution. If, for example, the United States hasn't the power, without the atom bomb, to fight back at the Chinese or the Russians in the Far East, then it will be of little avail for the U. N. to get tough with anybody.

The whole affair may be shocking but, just as Munich shocked the British and taught them that they were buying time by appeasement, so it will be argued now that appeasement is a military necessity.

Drift Is Toward Retreat

The drift is toward retreat in our foreign policy for the simple reason that, while we were equipped to defeat the North Koreans, we do not have enough manpower to fight the Chinese Communists and their Russian allies in Siberia.

If the Chinese Communists insist on forcing us out of Korea altogether, it seems likely that we would then actively aid the Chinese Nationalists to get their 300,000 troops to the mainland. America would supply them with munitions and give them air and sea support in and around Formosa. The fact that President Truman's order last June forbade the Nationalists to attack the Chinese mainland has, curiously enough, worked out to enable the Communists to transfer their own forces to Korea without fear of attack in their rear. This situation may be revised at any moment now if a negotiated peace fails.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Lowenthal's Memory

MOST of my colleagues have written about Max Lowenthal's book on J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI. Apparently, they have read the book, but I must plead that I had other business on hand.

Anybody can be negative about such a job as J. Edgar Hoover does. Did Hoover catch the fellows who stole the ballot boxes in the Kansas City, Missouri election? No! He did not. Was Harry Truman in Kansas City when the safe containing the ballot boxes was blown up? Yes, he was there. So!

That kind of argument can lead to nothing. A police department is to be judged by its general record, by the honesty and efficiency of its employes, and by its own adherence to the law.

The most provable criticism of the FBI is that while it collected evidence to convict spies, traitors, Communists and their fellow-travelers, its accomplishments in this field have, on the whole, been unsatisfactory because on orders from the State Department and the Department of Justice, spies were not to be arrested. In the evidence of Larry Kerley before the McCarran committee, the evidence shows that the FBI had Arthur Alexandrovich Adams, one of the worst spies Soviet Russia ever sent to this country, but the State Department safeguarded him from arrest.

In 1917, Lowenthal went on a secret foreign mission. This is what he says on the subject:

"It was a confidential mission that I don't care to go into. It was only for a short time, and I never discuss that kind of government work with anybody."

You would imagine that in 1917 this secret mission was so terrific that it could only have been to Lenin or Trotzky or somebody ilke that, although I was in Petrograd in those days and do not recall Lowenthall, whose mission must have been too important even for history.

Max Lowenthal has held innumerable jobs with various branches of the government from 1912 almost up to date. Some of them were of this character, to use his own words:

"In 1942 or 1943 there was some kind of problem, it is not quite clear in my mind; There was a war commission, I don't remember its name; it was headed by Mr. McNutt.

"MR. WHEELER. Paul McNutt?

"MR. LOWENTHAL. Yes, Paul McNutt. I was sworn to assist them for a very temporary period on something or other, trying to straighten out some difficulties among some men who were not part of the Government.

"Mr. Chairman, I wouldn't remember these things too definitely, and anything any records would show that would correct me, I would accept those corrections.

"Toward the end of 1943 or early 1944 I left that work. During all that period and since that period I have been consulted informally by various people in the government, but so far as I can recollect at this moment, I don't think ever in any official capacity. There might be some, and I would be very glad to have those noted for the record."

It is a little difficult to believe that Mr. Lowenthal cannot remember what he did for Paul McNutt. It was not so long ago nor could it have been very important. Mr. Lowenthal's lapse of memory at this point is, to say the least, fascinating.

Mr. Lowenthal was asked who had recommended him for employment by the War department. This is his reply:

"I couldn't say for certain. I was asked by a group of organizations whether I would permit my name to be submitted for recommendation by General Clay, and I agreed . . ."

What are those organizations? He must know, but he does not say. No names of organizations. No names of individuals. It all hangs in the vacuum of secrecy and mystery.

Some of the pages of this hearing would interest a psychologist, who might write a Ph.D. thesis about them. Here is a man who started his career as secretary to Judge Julian Mack, a jurist of distinction who would not take on a dope. He goes through years of government service and is associated with Senator Burton K. Wheeler of the Interstate Commerce of the Senate. Wheeler is an extraordinarily shrewd man. He would not hire a forgetful Jane. Yet, time after time, Mr. Lowenthal cannot remember dates, names, facts which no ordinary man could forget.

It is difficult to help wondering how a man, who forgets so much so easily, could remember so much about the FBI.

Language Barrier

Few differences build so difficult a wall between persons as does the lack of a common language. Affirmations of good will may die on the lips when it is realized that they may be met with blank looks.

This is a fact to be reckoned with in our work in Germany. A speaker at a recent foreign language conference in New York pointed out that if we are to re-orient the Germans thoroughly and to gain their esteem, we must send representatives who can speak German fluently. More emphasis, he said, must be placed on the study of French, German, Italian, Spanish and Russian in our schools.

Experts who are in actual daily contact with the people of other nations argue, too, that too much teaching emphasis may be placed on grammar and on the background literature of a foreign language, and not enough on the colloquial use of the tongue. A knowledge of the literature of a foreign country is of value, but the nuances, the intonations and even the slang which characterize the everyday use of a language are equally if not more important to those who will use it for personal contact. The very fact that the visitor has gone to the trouble of learning to communicate with him in his own tongue is heart-warming to the citizen of another country.

After a long study it has been announced in England that 2,500 different species of birds have been known to use bits of paper to build their nests. Under socialism there is no limit to what may be learned.

Say It With Turtles

A collection agency, perhaps fresh from reading "White Collar Zoo," is trying a new stunt. As a gentle hint to slowpayers, it mails them live turtles. The New York Journal of Commerce, reporting the incident and viewing it with alarm, foresees the day when a confirmed bad debtor will open an envelope and discover a black widow spider. But the Journal seems unduly worried. Deadbeats don't open letters from collection agencies.

The usual collection agency technique is to start mildly with a letter saying, "No doubt you have overlooked . . . appreciate your early attention . . ." and then proceed by stages to a bare-knuckled missive containing such expressions as ". . . last warning . . . within 48 hours . . . or else." But they could say it all with turtles.

The first turtle, no doubt, is one of those itsy-bitsy dime store jobs, perhaps with a spray of forget-me-nots painted on its shell. Some agencies might even start with a snail. The follow-up turtles would be progressively larger, naturally. If the delinquent still tried to dodge his debts, he would eventually get a big, bad-tempered snapping turtle that would put his dodging ability to a real test.

But the technique needn't be monopolized by collection agencies. If the say-it-with-animals device becomes popular, some acid-tongued ladies are going to find the postman bringing them cats. A letter saying, "I know you'll try to wriggle out of it, you slippery . . ." would be replaced by a live eel. Americans wishing to express themselves to Stalin would have a choice ranging from rats through snakes to skunks.

Where Does It Begin?

Everybody subscribes to the principle that Congress should begin its attack on the problem of financing rearmament by cutting non-military expenditures to the bone. The difficulty is to decide just where the bone begins—that is, just where saving money would do damage to the basic structure of the nation. Whether Congress will ever have to decide this question is debatable.

The United States Chamber of Commerce is convinced the $6,000,000,000 cut it advocates is not too much of a good thing. But that opinion will get little support from the spenders. They will regard it as an extreme proposal, neither attractive nor practical.

But it should be possible to lop $6,000,000,000 off a budget that grew from $3,000,000,000 to $43,000,000,000 in less than 20 years. Certainly many of the "services" for which this money is spent can be dispensed with.

Instead of advocating too drastic a cut, the Chamber of Commerce leaned toward expediency in making its suggestion. It probably realized that Congress won't make any cut at all, but will content itself with piling tax upon tax.

Honoring Marriage

In these days of divorce and broken homes special attention should be called to a recent gala day in Parsons, Kans., in which the community turned out to honor three couples who were observing their 60th wedding anniversaries. A crowd so large it filled the sanctuary to one of the leading churches attended a reception arranged by a woman's society.

Asked to give their rules for long and happy married lives, all agreed understanding and consideration for each other was most vital. Life was more simple when they were wed, and there wasn't so much to worry about. "Those who get married with the intention of living together and making it a 50-year job will have no trouble," declared one of the women

Those who exalt marriage, who take its vows seriously, have found the real joy to be had in society's greatest institution, which still remains the hope of the world.

Blame The President

Charges are multiplying daily that the nation's deplorable international situation is attributable to the fact this nation's foreign policy has not been evolved by both major political parties.

While there has been much talk of a bipartisan program, President Truman has all but ignored the opposition party. Bipartisanship has consisted of Truman, Acheson et al deciding the policy and then permitting the Republicans to support it.

Secretary of State Acheson continues to be the object of criticism and demands mount that the nation's entire foreign policy be brought into the open and re-examined.

As the matter stands, the United States is deeply involved in war in Asia and the administration is trying appeasement of Red China.

Immunization For Travelers

TRANSPORTATION plays a role in the spread of disease and more than one epidemic has been traced to travelers. The airplane has accentuated this problem because many parts of the world are now within a distance of 24 hours. This is in marked contrast to the oxcart era when it took so long to go from one city to another the victim was either well or dead by the time his destination was reached.

A traveler may sneeze on entering a plane in Chicago and land in London with a fullblown cold. There he is in a position to pass the infection to every one with whom he comes into contact. A plane that lands in New York on Tuesday may have been in the midst of a smallpox epidemic in India the previous Sunday. There is no limit on speculation along this line. Our public health officials are aware of these hazards and certain international and local regulations have been set up to protect all concerned. This explains why tourists are asked to show proof of inoculation against smallpox, typhus, yellow fever, and cholera. The rules vary and it is wise to study the requirements of each country whenever a trip is contemplated.

Smallpox vaccination, for example, is essential before entering any foreign land as well as before returning to the United States. On the other hand, when sailing or flying to England, immunization against yellow fever is not necessary but visitors to certain areas in South America and Asia need to take these "shots." Cholera inoculations are a must before journeying to the near east and Asia. Typhus is rife in many sections of the world and protection is called for should such countries be on the itinerary. Typhoid and paratyphoid injections are not compulsory but are advised frequently before going abroad.

To facilitate health protection an international certificate of inoculation and vaccination has been printed and the blanks usually are issued to a prospective traveler by the state department with his passport. The information as to what immunizations are required before visiting each country also can be obtained from the local or state health officer or the travel agency. Unfortunately, government regulations are prone to change overnight and it is advisable to recheck with the health department before starting on an extended tour. The international certificate avoids most of this bother because it is all inclusive and will be accepted without question.

● — ● — ●

Vaccination against smallpox should be done at least 14 days prior to leaving home and, once done, is valid for three years. Cholera inoculations are started 14 to 20 days prior to departure. Two or three separate injections are given seven to 10 days apart and booster doses are needed at four to six month intervals to maintain immunity. The international certificate is acceptable for only six months from the date of the last cholera injection. Typhus preventive measures are similar to those of cholera except that the certificate is good for a year from the date of the last injection. A single injection against yellow fever is given at least 10 days before leaving the country and is valid for four years.

TOMORROW: Childbearing at the end of the reproductive period.

STIFF NECK

M. B. writes: At the least little breeze, my neck becomes stiff and painful. What is the cause?

REPLY

This is common after the neck has been injured or when the muscles and fibrous tissue are susceptible to muscular rheumatism (fibrositis). Keeping the parts covered or applying heat after chilling will help.

UNPLEASANT TABLE TALK

Mrs. M. writes: Is it harmful to have continual unpleasant conversation and emotional turmoil while eating? My 65 year old mother is in excellent health but we never sit down to the table for a meal without her bringing up some family quarrel or grudge. This causes the younger members of the family to become upset and excited. If we remain silent she is even worse in her denunciations. Yet she never has indigestion like the rest of us.

REPLY

Yes—the more pleasant the mealtime the better the digestion. Your mother shoud stop this practice; it may mean that you and the other members of the family will have to refuse to eat with her unless she promises to do so. She probably does not have indigestion because she is able to air her grievances while the rest of you are smoldering. In this respect she is justified in discussing her problems but there is a time and place for everything and the table is no place for arguments of this nature.

The losses incurred last year by Britain's nationalized railroads, docks and canals, totaling $58,000,000, were more than four times the $13.2 million deficit reported in 1948.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It was all hushed up, but one day last week practically every top military man in Washington was anxiously scanning the sky in anticipation of an enemy air raid on the nation's capital.

Reason for their concern was a cable from India which read: "Alert all U. S. cities they are due to be bombed within the next twenty-four hours."

Astonished clerks at the message center immediately made a dozen copies — on message center forms —and shot them out to the key offices. The cryptic message, on official stationery, had all the appearances of being an official warning, and remembering how Washington was caught asleep during Pearl Harbor, word of the impending attack was flashed from the Pentagon to every key office throughout the city — including the White House.

Uniformed couriers sped the message to the National Security Council, a sergeant raced into Defense Secretary Marshall's office, the Central Intelligence Agency was alerted, Pentagon stenographers hearing the news made frantic phone calls to advise their friends and relatives. Tension was mounting to the breaking point.

Then the bubble burst amid a sea of very red faces.

A few calm officers decided to check the name signed to the cable from India. They discovered that the signer wasn't employed by the State department, wasn't a CIA agent, wasn't in Army, Navy or Air Intelligence. In fact, he wasn't a U. S. Government employe of any kind.

He was, they learned, an American tourist stopping off in India. Examination of the original cable revealed it had been sent on November 23.

One officer glanced at a calendar. "November 23 was Thanksgiving Day?" he said. Then he queried, "What are some Americans apt to do if they're in India on Thanksgiving Day?"

"Get drunk," was the reply.

Soviet Secret Weapons

American ordnance officers are popeyed at Soviet weapons, captured in Korea. They are so amazed that they are hastily revising their estimates of Russian military might and are convinced that the United States has been underestimating Russian strength by as much as 50 per cent.

A preliminary survey indicates that Russia sent nearly two billion dollars worth of military aid to North Korea, which is more than the total American deliveries to all North Atlantic Pact countries combined. And this does not include planes and ships which the Russians did not supply to North Korea in quantity.

Furthermore, markings on the equipment have ben traced to Russian factories that U. S. Intelligence thought were producing civilian goods. These captured weapons are now being tested and evaluated at the Aberdeen, Md., Ordnance Center.

The most effective weapons captured from the North Koreans are heavy mortars and burp guns, which laid down the most terrific firepower that the American army has ever faced.

For example, the captured Russian 120-MM. trench mortar is heavier than the comparable 4-2-inch U. S. mortar; also fires 1,600 yards farther. In addition, the North Koreans used a mortar even heavier than the 120-MM., which the Army has not yet evaluated.

The Russian burp gun has a drum-type magazine and fires at a terrifically rapid rate. Most of these were inscribed with 1950 manufacturing markings, thus refuting the Soviet claim that they had shipped no arms to North Korea since 1945.

Soviet Jeep

Probably the most fascinating captured equipment is the Russian jeep. This is slightly larger and more comfortable than the U. S. model, is equipped with softer seats, double springs and better shock absorbers. However, its vital parts are still modeled after the outmoded A and B types, made by Ford.

Several BA-64 light-armored cars were also captured. However, they are distinctly inferior to the American M-8 in maneuverability, firepower and defense against small arms.

Most captured Soviet rifles are modeled after the U. S. Springfield 1903. They weigh 10 pounds, use five-round clips and fire at a slower rate than modern U. S. rifles.

However, a novel, hand-shoulder antitank gun was captured that is easy to maneuver and can pierce armor up to two and one-half inches. The Russian-made Goryunov machine gun can also be used against aircraft by reversing the gun and elevating the tail. Its effective range is 900 yards but it is difficult to carry and load. The North Koreans also used an SU-76 self-propelled gun, mounted on a T-34 tank, which was effective until the U. S. Pershing and Patton tanks showed up and outshot it.

Lady Judges

India Edwards, the shrewd and dynamic woman's Jim Farley, believes female judges will bring a needed dose of common sense to justice. That is back of her campaign to get more of her sex on the federal judiciary.

Mrs. Edwards, who is woman's director of the Democratic National Committee, boldly told President Truman: "It's a disgrace there aren't more women on the bench. Why, women make wonderful judges. They are fair, interested in justice, and have lots more common sense than men."

Few people realize it, but Mrs. Edwards, with the help of Harry Truman, has smashed the men-only rule in federal court appointments. Some of the topflight women lawyers brought to the bench by India Edwards' drive are:

Judge Burnita Shelton Matthews, U. S. District Court, Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Matthews, a native of Mississippi and a distinguished woman jurist, is ex-president of the National Association of Women Lawyers and author of the 1927 law allowing women to serve on D. C. juries.

Judge Edith H. Cockrill, D. C. Juvenile Court—Former OPA attorney and specialist in domestic relations.

Judge Marion Harron of the U. S. Tax Court—Her reappointment was pushed through the administration and Senate against the American Bar Association by Mrs. Edwards. The bar association disapproved of a woman in that postiion.

India Edwards has her eye on the Supreme Court, and only lost out by an eyelash when Justice Sherman Minton was appointed. Her choice was Ohio's Florence Allen, judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals. She recounts: "I think we would have won, if it hadn't been for certain justices who are old fashioned in their views about women."

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

More Babies, More Wolves

WASHINGTON

AFTER his customary initial reaction of rather cocky defiance, President Truman seems to have settled glumly down to face the post-election facts. At least this is the natural inference from a reliable report that the President will no longer press for the two great, symbolic measures of the Fair Deal, the Brannan Farm Plan and the Ewing Health Plan.

If Truman had not himself announced that he would continue to fight for his entire Fair Deal program, without abating one jot or one tittle, the abandonment of the Brannan and Ewing plans would have no great meaning. After all, they proved to be such obvious political poison that even the most ardent and official Fair Deal Senatorial candidates, like Lucas in Illinois, Loveland in Iowa, and Campbell in Indiana, had declared against them before election day. Thus no one needs to worry whether the Brannan and Ewing plans will be enacted.

The President's decision not to press for these plans is vitally important, none-the-less, for the curious reason that it bears directly on the future of American foreign and domestic policy.

Three-Element Majority

In brief, there is only one way for the President to save his foreign and defense program, and this is to upset the new balance in Congress established by the November 7 voting. And this is so, in turn, because Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio now commands a potential majority of the Senate which, if solidified, he can use to cut the American foreign and defense policy to ribbons.

This potential Taft majority is composed of three elements. First, there are the habitually isolationist, right-wing Republicans, whose representation in the Senate has been heavily increased by the victories of such men as Welcker of Idaho. Second, there are the relatively moderate Republicans like Hickenlooper of Iowa, who will now tend to follow Taft because they think his political line has been proved good medicine at the polls. Third, there are the Southern Democrats, who will also tend to follow Taft because they are innately conservative and hate Truman more and more with every passing day.

In tackling this formidable array of enemies, sworn and potential, Truman can ignore the isolationist, right-wing Republicans. Nothing can be done with them. But much can still be done with the Republican moderates, if Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson is sacrificed, and another man like former ECA chief Paul Hoffman is named Secretary of State.

As to the Southern Democrats, nothing much can be done with the two or three like Sen. Harry F. Byrd, who actually went to Ohio during the campaign to proclaim his affection and admiration for Sen. Taft. But much can certainly be done with the Southern rank and file if the President is also willing to sacrifice the items on the Fair Deal program the Southerners dislike the most.

Must Do The Expedient

Unfortunately, however, the sacrifice of the Brannan and Ewing plans is a mere hors d'oeuvres, a mere commencement of the oblation, in the view of these Southerners. What they really want is to see Truman sacrifice most of his civil rights measures. Such leaders as the two influential Georgia senators, Walter George and Richard Russell, have sworn they will be satisfied with nothing less.

Dropping Acheson and putting civil rights temporarily on the shelf will produce a changed Congressional situation, in which enough of our foreign and defense policy can survive so that this nation can survive. It may be very unfortunate; in the case of Acheson, it is surely grossly unjust, that the babies should have to be thrown to the wolves in this manner. But the important thing now, as suggested in the last report in this space, is to get the sleigh out of the woods. The practical facts of the Congressional situation in effect demand that the President should forget what is distasteful, or unpleasant, or even by most tests wrong, and proceed to do what is expedient.

Luckily there are a good many men around Truman, and among these several of the most ordinarily ardent Fair Dealers, who see the problem in precisely this light. Ex-

Impending Decisions Can Affect Destiny Of World

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 — Firmness without bluster, a willingness to discuss and negotiate a peaceful settlement but a readiness to accept the consequences even though they mean war — this about sums up the over-all thinking of the government. It will be reflected in policy decisions here and before the United Nations in the next three days, which, it is conceded on all sides, may present America with grave decisions that can affect the destiny of the free world for a long time to come.

The sad fact which is basic is that America is unprepared to fight a war in both Asia and Europe. Hence a withdrawal from Asia could be forced as a military necessity if large-scale war breaks out in Europe.

If, on the other hand, Russia does not want to precipitate large-scale war and is ready for a settlement in the Far East, a patched-up peace is in prospect. Appeasement may win again as it did in Munich in 1938 — but primarily to gain time, to get America prepared in a military way for the eventual conflict which, in the event of an American withdrawal from Asia, would then become inevitable.

Allies Tragically Weak

The next and most important fact of a basic nature in the dilemma is the little-realized but tragic weakness of our allies. They do not have the military power organized to fight in Europe or in Asia.

Britain is involved militarily in Malaya. France is bogged down in Indo-China. Germany is not rearmed. Italy is weak. The Red armies could march across Europe and sweep triumphantly into the strategic capitals of the continent.

All this means simply that the billions which have been spent by America for a system of defense in the free world now are dependent solely for their effectiveness on the use of the atom bomb. Russia, it is assumed, has some bombs but not as many as the United States possesses.

If America will not use the atom bomb, Russia will have a free hand.

Demands are arising that the United States use the atom bomb in the Far East to defend American troops against further attacks by the Chinese Communists. The same Congress which permitted our defense strategy to be built around the bomb is now hearing cries that the atom bomb should be dropped on strategic targets. Some senators are saying, as did Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrat, that an ultimatum should be sent to Soviet Russia demanding that Moscow withdraw the Chinese Communist armies — her puppets — from Korea.

The passage by the U. N. of a resolution declaring either Russia or Communist China or both to be aggressors depends entirely on what the U. N. members will do to back up such a resolution. If, for example, the United States hasn't the power, without the atom bomb, to fight back at the Chinese or the Russians in the Far East, then it will be of little avail for the U. N. to get tough with anybody.

The whole affair may be shocking but, just as Munich shocked the British and taught them that they were buying time by appeasement, so it will be argued now that appeasement is a military necessity.

Drift Is Toward Retreat

The drift is toward retreat in our foreign policy for the simple reason that, while we were equipped to defeat the North Koreans, we do not have enough manpower to fight the Chinese Communists and their Russian allies in Siberia.

If the Chinese Communists insist on forcing us out of Korea altogether, it seems likely that we would then actively aid the Chinese Nationalists to get their 300,000 troops to the mainland. America would supply them with munitions and give them air and sea support in and around Formosa. The fact that President Truman's order last June forbade the Nationalists to attack the Chinese mainland has, curiously enough, worked out to enable the Communists to transfer their own forces to Korea without fear of attack in their rear. This situation may be revised at any moment now if a negotiated peace fails.

District Deer Plentiful, Season Opens December 4

Garrett, Allegany and Washington Counties abound in deer this year, providing plenty of targets for nimrods when the season opens December 4.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, predicted a larger deer kill for Allegany county during the season which ends December 9. He said the game supply throughout the district will be as good if not better than last year.

Minke expects that last year's bag of 177 deer in Allegany will be exceeded. He said that Garrett county's 1949 total of 493 should be equalled and predicted the same for Washington county which reported 98.

Eleven checking stations will be in operation in the three counties, Minke said. A new station is being established in Washington county at Athony Ankeney's Store at Clear Spring, 12 miles west of Hagerstown. The other station in the same county is Powers' Service Station near the bridge at Hancock.

Minke said he is investigating the report that two does were killed Tuesday just accross the Maryland line in Garrett County by Pennsylvania hunters. Pennsylvania has had open season on antlerless deer the past two days except in 14 Counties and opens its season on bucks or deer with two or more points to the antler today.

Nearby Bedford County was closed for antlerless deer.

All Counties were opened yesterday morning at 7 for the regular deer season in Pennsylvania. Shooting hours are from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. The state has relaxed its party hunting regulation. Every hunter may take a deer regardless of the number hunting together.

Former Nurse Head Accepts New Position

Former director of nurses at Memorial Hospital, Miss Frances L. Loftus, R. N., will serve in the same capacity at Wilmington, Del., General Hospital, effective December 5.

She was succeeded here last June by Miss Joan Wilson, R.N., New York, who came to Cumberland from New London, Conn.

Miss Loftus' appointment was announced today by Benjamin W. Wright, director of Wilmington Hospital and former superintendent of Memorial Hospital here, after he reported the resignation of Miss Jane K. Smith, R.N.

Hostesses for the various groups will be Mrs. Stanley Bane, Allegany Grove section; Mrs. John Lewis, Winchester Road; Mrs. Barncord, Vocke Drive; Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Arthur Christner, LaVale sections. Each group will choose its leader.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. John Lewis and Mrs. David Lauder conducted the business sessions. Members answered roll call with a verse of Scripture.

A stewardship program was planned for the evening service December 24 Mrs. Donald McGill announced. Mrs. Fred Gates read a letter from the Baptist Children's Aid Society asking for donations of used toys and clothing.

The program for the evening was entitled "Wings for Speeding the Light." Taking part were Miss Dora Lewis, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Barncord and Mrs. Lauder. Mrs. John Lewis reviewed several chapters of the book, "So this Is Africa," by Miss Susan Anderson, a missionary to Africa.

Mrs. William Kauffman was hostess for the meeting. Visitors were Rev. Clifford Frith and Mrs. Vintner Kauffman and assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

The next meeting is to be December 19 and will be at the home of Mrs. Bane.

Others present were Mrs. Joseph Snow, Mrs. Frank Byer, Mrs. George Berl and Mrs. Harvey Hurr.

WSCS To Send Gifts To Church Servicemen

The Pleasant Grove WSCS voted to send Christmas gifts to members of the church serving in the armed forces. The committee to send the boxes consists of Mrs. Sarabelle Weatherholt and Mrs. Nellie Charlton. They were appointed by Mrs. Amanda Wilson at the meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Pleasant Messick, Baltimore Pike.

A Christmas party with revealing of secret sisters will be held at the December meeting at the home of Mrs. Mabel Schwab, Mt. Pleasant Road. Mrs. Hazel Luttrell conducted devotionals. There was group singing and a skit presented by Mrs. Luttrell and Mrs. Bernadette Hinkle. Mrs. Wilson offered the closing prayer.

Refreshments were served. Others attending were Mrs. Jessie Wilson, Mrs. Barbara Garland, Mrs. Thelma Chambers and Mrs. Howard Messick.

Full Master Point Night To Be Dec. 1

The Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club will hold its monthly Full Master Point Night, tomorrow evening at the Cumberland Country Club.

All members of the Country Club are invited to play Albert Heacox, president, said last night. Games are to begin at 8:15 p. m. Regardless of whether players belong to the Duplicates Club or have attended any of the regular Thursday night sessions, they can play in tomorrow night's session and be able to qualify for a Full Master Point, Mr. Heacox explains.

Members of the Duplicate Club who do not have any transportation to the Country Club are urged to be at the Fort Cumberland Hotel entrance at 7:45 and those who have cars are asked to stop at the hotel to take care of the transportation.

Anyone caring to have dinner at the club are asked to call 184 for reservations.

District Group Meets

Taking part in the program were Jane Widdows, Vera Clark, Gerald Matlick, Mary Alice Travis, Alma Lauder and Mrs. Earl Gross. Gilbert Storey showed the pictures and Rev. Karl Kauffman, Frostburg, led the recreation. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Randolph Keefe.

Chapter Has Program

A program on home decorations was given by Miss Margaret Connell at the meeting of Alpha Alpha chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, held recently at the home of Miss Thurlene Cassell, Ridgeley. Mrs. Jeanne Fradiska presided.

Announcement was made of the Christmas party to be held December 19 when jingles will be exchanged. Mrs. Juanita Mullan is to be hostess for the December 5 meeting at her home, 609 Piedmont Avenue.

Mrs. Gurley Heads Class, Party Planned

The Emmanuel Bible Class of Kingsley Methodist Church elected officers and formulated plans for a Christmas celebration at the meeting recently at the church.

Mrs. Harry Gurley was elected president; Mrs. Ora Penner, vice president; Mrs. Blanche Rosenhauser, treasurer; Mrs. George Gore, assistant; Mrs. Hugh McCoy, secretary; and Miss Idella Couters, assistant. Mr. L. H. Woods was named teacher for the year and Mrs. E. W. Yates, pianist.

Plans were formulated for a Christmas party and covered dish ham dinner. It is to be held December 12 at 6 o'clock, at the church. Class sisters are to be revealed and gifts exchanged. Mrs. Harry Gurley is chairman of arrangements.

Mrs. Bessie Henry presided at the meeting and the devotionals were led by Mrs. Penner. Mrs. Thelma Wigal offered prayer.

Others attending were Mrs. Ray Moreland, Mrs. Sadie Weaverling, Mrs. M. A. Keesecker, Mrs. Fred Couters, Mrs. Artie Durrett, Mrs. Thomas Bell, Mrs. John Leasure, Mrs. Leafy Leith, Mrs. Sarah Bean, Miss Ellen Rinker, and Miss Lulu Pyles.

Santa's Pack Will Be Loaded This Year With Glitter And Scents To Make A Charming Christmas

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Santa's pack will be brimming with glitter and scents and all those charming things that make Yuletide a gala season for the ladies.

He'll stuff his pack with compacts and makeup kits, beauty books and perfume, gift certificates and manicure sets. The jolly fellow knows it takes more than sugar and spice to keep the girls looking nice.

Young girls will adore home permanent wave kits or pastel ribbon curlers to anchor their pin-sets. They'll love gimmick gifts—wallets with lipsticks, bracelets with charms containing solid cologne, perfume in glass cinderella slippers or in small glass dumbells. A little plastic snowman containing a wind and weather lotion can be used as a mantel decoration during the Christmas season. Young girls also would appreciate the new "How to be Your Own Hair Stylist" by Victor Vito.

The over 25 girl will be ecstatic with a gift certificate from her favorite beauty salon, manicure implements and polishes in the new fashion shades. She'll like sachet for her lingerie drawers and in particular lavender tablets in little drawstring bags which can be hung on clothes hangers. Give her liquid sachet which can be brushed inside bureau drawers for lasting fragrance. A treatment kit, containing an assortment of creams labeled "dry skin" or "oily skin" depending on her needs, will please her.

She will love a beauty book or even a home beauty course planned by experts. Anything that will make her look prettier, more glamorous and younger is welcome. Gayelord Hauser's latest book, "Look Younger, Live Longer," will be tops on the Yule list of the girl who wants to preserve charm.

Older women also will look forward to glamor in their Christmas stockings. Scented soaps, powders, perfumes and sachets are top-drawer gifts with them. Cosmetics which make traveling simpler also will be welcome. Much in demand are beauty kits and packable objects such as folding eyelash curlers, scented cotton washcloths and sets of plastic bottles and purse-size perfume atomizers.

Edyth Thornton McLeod's "Beauty after Forty" also will appeal to this group. It contains many worthwhile tips for the young matron.

How friendly are you in your everyday contacts with people? Your happiness is in direct ratio!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

THE unhappiest woman I know has earned this unenvied title as surely as though she had set out in life to capture it.

She doles out complaints, unpleasant attitudes and unlovely facial expressions to everyone who sees her. She can steal the happiness and good feeling toward others from a whole roomful of people. In a matter of minutes, she can rob the sunniest day of all of its brilliance and turn it into gloom. No wonder she thinks the world is against her. She's actually against herself!

People and You

The essence of friendliness is liking people. Do you like people—really? Not just those in your close, intimate circle, but the fellow human beings you see or meet as you go about your daily routine—the relative strangers, like the bus driver, butcher, tailor, elevator operators, clerks, the postman, and people in general.

Friendliness and neighborliness (even the anonymous kind that is found in big cities) are commodities with which the world has never been overburdened. And the curious thing is that those who most long to have such attitudes extended toward them are usually people who withhold any such expressions themselves.

If you find yourself unhappy much of the time, alone more than you like—if you have trouble getting courteous service everywhere you go, perhaps it's time for you to look at the face you display to the world of "just people." Your examination of your unconscious, habitual attitude may be the starting point for a new kind of life and the kind you wish to have. If your face reflects distrust, distaste, prejudice and irritation with people as a whole you'll know immediately that it's a lack of friendliness in your own heart that is preventing you from finding the happiness you desire.

Known By Your Words

Are you really a friendly person? When your instinct suggests a kind word or deed or a simple thank you do you immediately translate that impulse into action? That's what friendly people do. If you are out of practice, there's no time to be lost. Start now to present to the world the kind of face you like to meet as you go down the street. If you do, the kind of welcome you receive will make it easy for you to say the kind words, the human words, the courteous words that only the foolish, deluded cynic keeps from passing his or her lips.

Washington Whirl

THE Yugoslav diplomats shot the works at a fancy blowout on their national holiday yesterday. . . And don't worry, the Capital officials who attended the party were bigger and better and more plentiful than the ones who went to the Soviet Embassy celebration a couple of weeks ago.

The ex-satellite is doing all right on its own, thanks.

However, one society matron's husband refused to let her join a "very fashionable" club just organized by a group of her friends. . . Some Washington ladies have worked themselves into a lather of well-meant sympathy for the poor Yugoslavs. . . And will start sending food, clothes and money over to them.

The mystified husband, who refused to let his wife join up, asked "Why don't you all get together and send some things to the boys in Korea?"

He says he can understand that on an official level our statesmen might want to be civil and even polite to Yugoslavia. "But I can't understand why all these American society women want to start having tea parties, packing up clothes and knocking themselves out for the Yugoslavs. I don't get the pitch."

AUSTINE

Fleur and Mike Cowles have knocked themselves out to entertain Margaret Truman and Perle Mesta in New York. . . During the '48 presidential elections, Mr. and Mrs. Cowles of Look-Quick-and Flair fame were all-out Republicans for Stassen. . . But a couple of nights ago they unrolled the red carpet for Mrs. Mesta and Miss Truman at a large, lavish and off-the-record party. . . And the heck with politics.

Marvin Braverman was at Margaret's elbow every minute . . . Although Margaret was the only President's daughter at the party, she wasn't the only singer. . . Shared the spotlight with Frank Sinatra and Morton Downey. . . But Margaret and Perle were, as usual, the Big Stars. . . That team has certainly charmed many fine-feathered Republican birds out of the trees. . . Sometimes even made the birds start crowing for the Democrats!

Last year when the Vienna Boys' Choir, the world-renowned choral group of boys from 7 to 12 appeared in this country, many of them became ill — from drinking our milk! . . . Accustomed to skim milk in Vienna, our was too creamy for them!

This year the talented children will be back again. . . Making only one appearance in this country, they're flying over just to sing at Constitution Hall on January 7. . . This year the choral director has asked the kind hostesses clamoring to entertain them, please not to have any milk on hand — unless it's skimmed.

Profits from their appearance will benefit the Blessed Sacrament Church in Alexandria.

FROM THE CHINESE EMBASSY: A whisper buzzes that while Chiang Kai-shek has stuck to his agreement not to help with the fighting on the mainland or send arms to anti-Communist guerrillas, he has been operating his own airlift. . . Dropping thousands of bags of rice for the Chinese peasants. . . The little bags are printed with propaganda urging them to oppose the Communists.

TO THE INDIAN EMBASSY a widow has waved goodbye. . . She's Madame Nayar, a graduate of Madras College in Southern India and one of the few practicing physicians in her country. . . Her husband, who was public relations attache at the Indian Embassy, was sent to Korea last August as a representative from the United Nations. . . Shortly after his arrival the jeep in which he was riding hit a land mine and he was killed.

The couple had been stationed here in Washington about a year or so. . . Their little daughter, Ammu, which means "My little darling," was enjoying life in America. . . Now she and her doctor mother have gone sadly home.

Recently-paroled Parnell Thomas, former congressman from New Jersey, convicted of payroll kick-backing, works daily on his book. . . In it he'll mention the famous hearings on Hollywood Communism held while he was chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The ten unfriendly Hollywood witnesses refused to answer any questions before the committee even though their party cards, in some cases, were introduced into evidence . . . As a result, they were put on trial for contempt and convicted.

Imagine Parnell Thomas' surprise when some of them turned up in the same federal pen with him! . . . Small world, isn't it?

And don't think the other inmates didn't have political convictions. . . They all sided with Thomas. . . Took his part against the alleged Commies.

Thomas had helped convict a physician as a member of a Commie front organization. . . And darned if that doctor didn't turn up as a trustee doctor at the prison! . . . Thomas had to take liver shots from him often. . . But he would insist on taking the contents of each shot to the prison chemist beforehand . . . He was that scared of being poisoned.

Don't be HALF-SAFE

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid today—only 39¢ plus tax.

Are You Safe from "B.O." on All 13 Parts of Your Body?

Amazingly mild soap deodorizes your entire body because it gets skin cleaner, doctors find.

Stops "B.O." Before It Begins!
Stops "B.O." Up to 48 Hours!

● Is your popularity safe? Doctors know there are 13 parts of the body where body dirt causes body odor and the cleaner you get these 13 body parts, the safer you are from "B.O." (body odor).

In 10-day bath tests, doctors proved Lifebuoy with its PURIFYING INGREDIENT gets skin cleaner than any other leading soap. That's why it deodorizes best!

Stops "B.O." 3 Ways at Once!

1. Lifebuoy Health Soap stops "B.O." where "B.O." begins—on all 13 parts of your body.

2. Lifebuoy stops "B.O." before it begins because Lifebuoy Health Soap with its PURIFYING INGREDIENT helps your skin build up its own resistance to "B.O."

3. Lifebuoy stops "B.O." up to 48 hours because Lifebuoy gets skin cleaner than any other leading soap.

No soap MILDER—Better for Complexions! Lifebuoy's rich coconut oil lather guards against choked up pores because Lifebuoy removes dirt and cosmetics as no other leading soap can! Safe for a baby's tender skin!

Enjoy Lifebuoy Health Soap's fresh, clean scent. Use it daily! Buy the big bath size.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

THE Yugoslav diplomats shot the works at a fancy blowout on their national holiday yesterday. . . And don't worry, the Capital officials who attended the party were bigger and better and more plentiful than the ones who went to the Soviet Embassy celebration a couple of weeks ago.

The ex-satellite is doing all right on its own, thanks.

However, one society matron's husband refused to let her join a "very fashionable" club just organized by a group of her friends. . . Some Washington ladies have worked themselves into a lather of well-meant sympathy for the poor Yugoslavs. . . And will start sending food, clothes and money over to them.

The mystified husband, who refused to let his wife join up, asked "Why don't you all get together and send some things to the boys in Korea?"

He says he can understand that on an official level our statesmen might want to be civil and even polite to Yugoslavia. "But I can't understand why all these American society women want to start having tea parties, packing up clothes and knocking themselves out for the Yugoslavs. I don't get the pitch."

AUSTINE

Fleur and Mike Cowles have knocked themselves out to entertain Margaret Truman and Perle Mesta in New York. . . During the '48 presidential elections, Mr. and Mrs. Cowles of Look-Quick-and Flair fame were all-out Republicans for Stassen. . . But a couple of nights ago they unrolled the red carpet for Mrs. Mesta and Miss Truman at a large, lavish and off-the-record party. . . And the heck with politics.

Marvin Braverman was at Margaret's elbow every minute . . . Although Margaret was the only President's daughter at the party, she wasn't the only singer. . . Shared the spotlight with Frank Sinatra and Morton Downey. . . But Margaret and Perle were, as usual, the Big Stars. . . That team has certainly charmed many fine-feathered Republican birds out of the trees. . . Sometimes even made the birds start crowing for the Democrats!

Last year when the Vienna Boys' Choir, the world-renowned choral group of boys from 7 to 12 appeared in this country, many of them became ill — from drinking our milk! . . . Accustomed to skim milk in Vienna, our was too creamy for them!

This year the talented children will be back again. . . Making only one appearance in this country, they're flying over just to sing at Constitution Hall on January 7... This year the choral director has asked the kind hostesses clamoring to entertain them, please not to have any milk on hand — unless it's skimmed.

Profits from their appearance will benefit the Blessed Sacrament Church in Alexandria.

FROM THE CHINESE EMBASSY: A whisper buzzes that while Chiang Kai-shek has stuck to his agreement not to help with the fighting on the mainland or send arms to anti-Communist guerrillas, he has been operating his own airlift. . . Dropping thousands of bags of rice for the Chinese peasants. . . The little bags are printed with propaganda urging them to oppose the Communists.

TO THE INDIAN EMBASSY a widow has waved goodbye. . . She's Madame Nayar, a graduate of Madras College in Southern India and one of the few practicing physicians in her country. . . Her husband, who was public relations attache at the Indian Embassy, was sent to Korea last August as a representative from the United Nations. . . Shortly after his arrival the jeep in which he was riding hit a land mine and he was killed.

The couple had been stationed here in Washington about a year or so. . . Their little daughter, Ammu, which means "My little darling," was enjoying life in America. . . Now she and her doctor mother have gone sadly home.

Recently-paroled Parnell Thomas, former congressman from New Jersey, convicted of payroll kickbacking, works daily on his book. . . In it he'll mention the famous hearings on Hollywood Communism held while he was chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The ten unfriendly Hollywood witnesses refused to answer any questions before the committee even though their party cards, in some cases, were introduced into evidence . . . As a result, they were put on trial for contempt and convicted.

Imagine Parnell Thomas' surprise when some of them turned up in the same federal pen with him! . . . Small world, isn't it?

And don't think the other inmates didn't have political convictions. . . They all sided with Thomas. . . Took his part against the alleged Commies.

Thomas had helped convict a physician as a member of a Commie front organization. . . And darned if that doctor didn't turn up as a trustee doctor at the prison! . . . Thomas had to take liver shots from him often. . . But he would insist on taking the contents of each shot to the prison chemist beforehand . . . He was that scared of being poisoned.

Don't be HALF-SAFE
by VALDA SHERMAN
Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor
You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.
As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.
Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.
So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid today—only 39¢ plus tax.

eral Social Security program, including increase of old-age and survivors benefits and coverage of all workers not now affected by the program or by similar programs such as the Railway Retirement plan.

10. Easing laws on financing home building, curtailment of home building only as a last resort as the government mobilizes materials for the defense program, and continuing the present federal housing program as long as possible.

11. Proper school housing for all pupils in Maryland, regardless of race, and equal modern educational requirements. Last year the U. S. Office of Education estimated that Maryland needed 3,102 additional classrooms, with the greatest needs found to be for colored pupils, Bender said.

12. Support of the union label campaign of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, one of the founding unions of the CIO. This campaign promotes the sale of union-made clothing.

Outlining the history of the CIO, Bender said the organization "has not and does not accept direction from communists or any outside organization; nor dies it collaborate with communists or outside organizations on the internal affairs of the union, or the course it is to follow."

The report termed the Taft-Hartley Law "a pestilence, a scourge and an abomination in a free country" and called for its repeal and replacement by a "genuine labor relations law."

Possibilities For Industrial Location In This Area Cited

A few industries have been listed as "possibilities" for locating here according to information received by the Cumberland Industrial Development Corporation.

None was identified by name.

The report was given Tuesday night by Richardson Wood, New York, industrial consultant for Cumberland and Allegany County. Wood discussed the position of a number of prospects for the area, according to Harold W. Smith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Tuesday night's meeting of the directors of the industrial group was held primarily to get some idea of a course to follow after Wood's contract expires February 15. The consultant has been hired under a $10,000, six-month agreement as an exploratory measure to set a pattern for economic development here.

Discuss Procedure

Wood, Smith said, discussed several methods of procedure, among which were direct employment by the city of an industrial expert; continued employment of a consultant engineer; and dependence upon a publicity program.

No definite action was taken.

The Chamber of Commerce has recommended that the Industrial Corporation extend Wood's contract for a period of three years.

No conclusion was reached on the suggestion at the meeting but Wood was asked to put his ideas in writing and submit it to the executive committee of the corporation.

Wood was in Frostburg yesterday conferring with group's there on the expansion projects planned for the Berkowitz Pajama Factory.

Chamber To Meet

Meanwhile, the Chamber of Commerce announced that traffic and parking will be discussed at a luncheon meeting of the chamber Friday, December 8 at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

The discussion will be in charge of the Civic Improvement Committee which said a survey of members revealed they are more interested in the traffic and parking problems than any others facing Cumberland at the moment.

The luncheon session is the first of a series of meetings planned by the Membership Activities Committee, William L. Wilson, Jr., chairman, said.

The number of employes of the nation's Class I railroads on Oct. 15, 1950, was 1,290,895, an increase of 0.59 per cent compared with a month earlier.

Lane To Dedicate Dual Highway

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP) — An important link in Maryland's highway overhaul program will go into service tomorrow when a new section of the expressway from Baltimore toward Frederick is opened.

It is the first sector of "denied-access" dual highway in the state. This means long stretches without side roads or cross roads. At only a few places can you get on or off the main trafficway.

Maryland is building many miles of denied-access dual highway in its $200,000,000 road program.

The Washington National Pike between Frederick and Washington, the Washington-Annapolis Expressway, the Washington-Baltimore Expressway, and some of the roads fanning out from the Chesapeake bay bridge are all denied-access type.

Gov. Lane will dedicate the new 5½ mile stretch on the Baltimore National Pike at 11 a. m. Thursday.

It runs from Pine Orchard, near Ellicott City, west to state Route 32 just above West Friendship.

Because it is difficult for rats to find food in winter, greater care is needed in the storage of such items as chicken feed and small quantities of grain.

The sweet potato is the national food of the Ryukyu Islands.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD
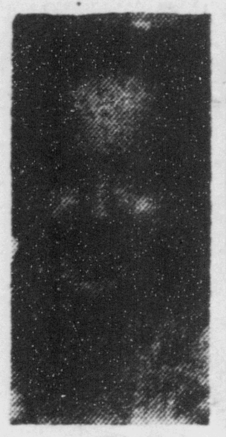
By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29—(INS)—Our petite Ann Blyth gets the princess treatment in her role of Princess of Samarkand, at U-I, opposite David Farrar in "The Golden Horde," an historical extravaganza. Didn't Yvonne De Carlo used to get these princess roles?



Ann Blythe

Farrar, as you know, is the British actor who made a deal with Bill Goetz for all his American-made pictures while retaining his contract with Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger for English films.

They tell me that not since "Chu Chin Chow" has there been an Oriental story with the power, sweep and beauty of this adventure tale about the Genghis Khan, Mongolian invader who had Hitler and Mussolini ideas way back in the 12th century.

Like those boys, he got stopped, but not until he had reached Austria after overrunning China.

Errol Flynn and his bride, Patrice Wymore, are on his yacht and have left Cannes. When Mrs. Margaret Eddington can get in touch with them she will tell them that Patrice is wanted for Bing Crosby's next picture, "Here Comes The Groom."

I believe if Errol is working when he gets back that Patrice will want to be busy, too, and that if she likes this role she will accept it. It's not the lead—Jane Wyman has that—but it's a very good part.

There'll be another Tracy on the MGM lot this summer. Spencer's lovely 17-year-old daughter, Susie, who is a freshman at the University of Arizona, has told her dad she wants to get a job in some branch of the film business, and you know very well that wasn't difficult to do.

So, Susie will spend the summer hard at work and when fall comes she'll go to Stanford. She hopes she'll be assigned to the writing department at the studio, because she wants to be a writer.

Spence is proud as punch of her, and I don't wonder. She's a darling girl.

Marian Anderson, famed negro singer, whose beautiful voice has brought her so much acclaim, has persuaded Sol Hurok, impresario, to make his film debut in a motion picture starring her.

Marian, who was a failure in the United States early in her career, was persuaded by Hurok to return and give her native country another chance. You know the story—she became world famous and she has always been grateful to him.

Budd Schulberg's best seller, "The Disenchanted," has brought countless offers to him as a writer from the Hollywood studios. But it remained for an independent production company named Monticello Pictures to sign Bud to write the screenplay for Malcolm Johnson's Pulitzer prize winner "Crime On The Waterfront."

Robert Siodmak, director of thrillers, will do the directing and the film will be made in New York early next year.

Ever since "Disenchanted" hit the bookstands there have been discussions pro and con about making this picture, which is not very kind to our business, but which we all admit makes interesting reading.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dick Haymes flew to Palm Springs last night after his radio show to recuperate from the virus attack that hit him in Milwaukee and caused him to call off his tour.

Ginger Rogers is considering an offer to go to Italy and make an independent picture.

Ezio Pinza's two children, Clelia, 9, and Pietro, 6, made their radio debut last night with their father on Jo Stafford's "Voice Of America" show Ezio tells me if the new baby is a girl it will be called Gloria, and if a boy, Antonio.

At the Tallyho at a table for two were Lisa Ferreday and Vic Damone. That's one of our later duos.

Carmen Miranda, who has been a blonde for months and before that was brunette, has dyed her hair red. Says it shows off the fruits on her turban better.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

French Ballet Star Scared By U. S. "Marriage Mania"

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Colette Marchand, the tired businessman's dream come true of a leggy French dancer, is a mite unhappy about her art these days.

She is also "frightened" (that's what she said) by the American male's mania for marriage.

For some weeks now Mmle. Marchand has been making Broadway a brighter place in company with the rest of Roland Petit's ballets de Paris company. The troupe next week is off on an extended joy-spreading mission to the hinterlands. About a half-hundred big and little cities of the U.S. and Canada are to see the Parisian impression of what is becoming of ballet.

Among other dancing duties, it is the Marchand achievement to step on-stage from a huge egg and then whirl, split and provocatively shrug through 15 minutes of fast-stepping latter day terpsichore.

The applause and the whistles evoked thereby are good, Colette gravely concurs, but the dance itself—"it does nothing for me."

Her heart, like that of the comic who would play "Hamlet," is set on doing classical ballet.

"I should like very much to do a long, traditional ballet like 'Swan Lake' some time," she says. "A serious ballet and 'hard boiled egg' together, that would be very good."

To help wind up the New York run, she has been doing also a very leggy "Carmen," but it is her "hard boiled egg" that has set her big town reputation.

To keep herself set for any classical opportunity, Colette, who at 25 has been dancing 20 years, has been studying in ballet school daily during her visit here. The glances, shoulder-tossing and hip-swaying strut of her current success, one gathers, need no such rehearsal. A lot of spectators call it her "Mae West stuff," but Colette herself confesses such mannerisms "they come naturally" and she never saw Miss West until last season.

"She is very good," says La Marchand. "But I do not think what I do is anything like her."

Which brings us to another of the lady's concerns. She is besieged by fan mail and phone calls, mostly masculine.

"It is frightening," says Colette, "the way so many American men want to 'marry me, and take me to France with you. I must marry a French girl.' I do not understand how so many want to get married. It is not that way in France. There the men seem more satisfied.

"HOW DR. EDWARDS' HELPED ME LICK CONSTIPATION the clogging, TRANSIENT kind!"

Mr. William Tirrell, brilliant top-flight account executive of New York City, says:

"For years Dr. F. M. Edwards, a noted Ohio physician, recommended Olive Tablets to patients troubled with constipation and its headaches, bad breath and lack of pep.

"I myself have taken Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets a number of years and find nothing better to relieve constipation. Olive Tablets are so gentle yet thorough in action. They give complete relief from transient constipation."

Olive Tablets work on BOTH upper and lower bowels and give more natural-like movements. 15¢, 30¢.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD
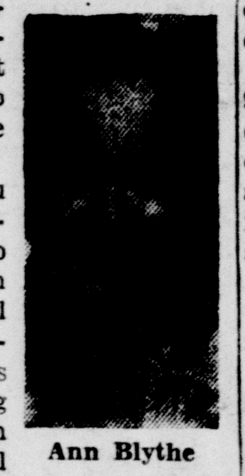
By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29—(INS)—Our petite Ann Blyth gets the princess treatment in her role of Princess of Samarkand, at U-I, opposite David Farrar in "The Golden Horde," an historical extravaganza. Didn't Yvonne De Carlo used to get these princess roles?



Ann Blythe

Farrar, as you know, is the British actor who made a deal with Bill Goetz for all his American-made pictures while retaining his contract with Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger for English films.

They tell me that not since "Chu Chin Chow" has there been an Oriental story with the power, sweep and beauty of this adventure tale about the Genghis Khan, Mongolian invader who had Hitler and Mussolini ideas way back in the 12th century.

Like those boys, he got stopped, but not until he had reached Austria after overrunning China.

Errol Flynn and his bride, Patrice Wymore, are on his yacht and have left Cannes. When Mrs. Margaret Eddington can get in touch with them she will tell them that Patrice is wanted for Bing Crosby's next picture, "Here Comes The Groom."

I believe if Errol is working when he gets back that Patrice will want to be busy, too, and that if she likes this role she will accept it. It's not the lead—Jane Wyman has that—but it's a very good part.

•—•—•

There'll be another Tracy on the MGM lot this summer. Spencer's lovely 17-year-old daughter, Susie, who is a freshman at the University of Arizona, has told her dad she wants to get a job in some branch of the film business, and you know very well that wasn't difficult to do.

So, Susie will spend the summer hard at work and when fall comes she'll go to Stanford. She hopes she'll be assigned to the writing department at the studio, because she wants to be a writer.

Spence is proud as punch of her, and I don't wonder. She's a darling girl.

Marian Anderson, famed negro singer, whose beautiful voice has brought her so much acclaim, has persuaded Sol Hurok, impresario, to make his film debut in a motion picture starring her.

Marian, who was a failure in the United States early in her career, was persuaded by Hurok to return and give her native country another chance. You know the story—she became world famous and she has always been grateful to him.

Budd Schulberg's best seller, "The Disenchanted," has brought countless offers to him as a writer from the Hollywood studios. But it remained for an independent production company named Monticello Pictures to sign Bud to write the screenplay for Malcolm Johnson's Pulitzer prize winner "Crime On The Waterfront."

Robert Siodmak, director of thrillers, will do the directing and the film will be made in New York early next year.

Ever since "Disenchanted" hit the bookstands there have been discussions pro and con about making this picture, which is not very kind to our business, but which we all admit makes interesting reading.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dick Haymes flew to Palm Springs last night after his radio show to recuperate from the virus attack that hit him in Milwaukee and caused him to call off his tour.

Ginger Rogers is considering an offer to go to Italy and make an independent picture.

Ezio Pinza's two children, Clelia, 9, and Pietro, 6, made their radio debut last night with their father on Jo Stafford's "Voice Of America" show Ezio tells me if the new baby is a girl it will be called Gloria, and if a boy, Antonio.

At the Tallyho at a table for two were Lisa Ferreday and Vic Damone. That's one of our later duos.

Carmen Miranda, who has been a blonde for months and before that was brunette, has dyed her hair red. Says it shows off the fruits on her turban better.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Colette Marchand, the tired businessman's dream come true of a leggy French dancer, is a mite unhappy about her art these days.

She is also "frightened" (that's what she said) by the American male's mania for marriage.

For some weeks now Mmle. Marchand has been making Broadway a brighter place in company with the rest of Roland Petit's ballets de Paris company. The troupe next week is off on an extended joy-spreading mission to the hinterlands. About a half-hundred big and little cities of the U.S. and Canada are to see the Parisian impression of what is becoming of ballet.

Among other dancing duties, it is the Marchand achievement to step on-stage from a huge egg and then whirl, split and provocatively shrug through 15 minutes of fast-stepping latter day terpsichore.

The applause and the whistles evoked thereby are good, Colette gravely concurs, but the dance itself—"it does nothing for me."

Her heart, like that of the comic who would play "Hamlet," is set on doing classical ballet.

"I should like very much to do a long, traditional ballet like 'Swan Lake' some time," she says. "A serious ballet and 'hard boiled egg' together, that would be very good."

To help wind up the New York run, she has been doing also a very leggy "Carmen," but it is her "hard boiled egg" that has set her big town reputation.

To keep herself set for any classical opportunity, Colette, who at 25 has been dancing 20 years, has been studying in ballet school daily during her visit here. The glances, shoulder-tossing and hip-swaying strut of her current success, one gathers, need no such rehearsal. A lot of spectators call it her "Mae West stuff," but Colette herself confesses such mannerisms "they come naturally" and she never saw Miss West until last season.

"She is very good," says La Marchand. "But I do not think what I do is anything like her."

Which brings us to another of the lady's concerns. She is besieged by fan mail and phone calls, mostly masculine.

"It is frightening," says Colette, "the way so many American men want to 'marry me, and take me to France with you. I must marry a French girl.' I do not understand how so many want to get married. It is not that way in France. There the men seem more satisfied.

"HOW DR. EDWARDS' HELPED ME LICK CONSTIPATION the clogging, TRANSIENT kind!"

Mr. William Tirrell, brilliant top-flight account executive of New York City, says: "For years Dr. F. M. Edwards, a noted Ohio physician, recommended Olive Tablets to patients troubled with constipation and its headaches, bad breath and lack of pep.

"I myself have taken Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets a number of years and find nothing better to relieve constipation. Olive Tablets are so gentle yet thorough in action. They give complete relief from transient constipation."

Olive Tablets work on BOTH upper and lower bowels and give more natural-like movements. 15¢, 30¢.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Sales Tax Cut Will Save County About $123,050

A savings of $123,050 will be made by Allegany County residents during the next year under the reduction program for the Maryland sales tax. The cut is effective at midnight tonight.

A spokesman at headquarters of the state Retail Sales Tax Division in Baltimore said the figure represents a 25 per cent saving by taxpayers and could be more or less depending on general business conditions.

Garrett County residents stand to save $30,755.

Last year, Allegany County paid in $892,189.91 or 3.14 per cent of the total sales tax collected by the state. Garrett County paid in $123,020.45 or .43 per cent, the spokesman said.

Effective at midnight tonight here's what the cut in taxes will do:

All meals, no matter where sold or eaten will be tax free.

Purchases up to 50 cents will require no tax.

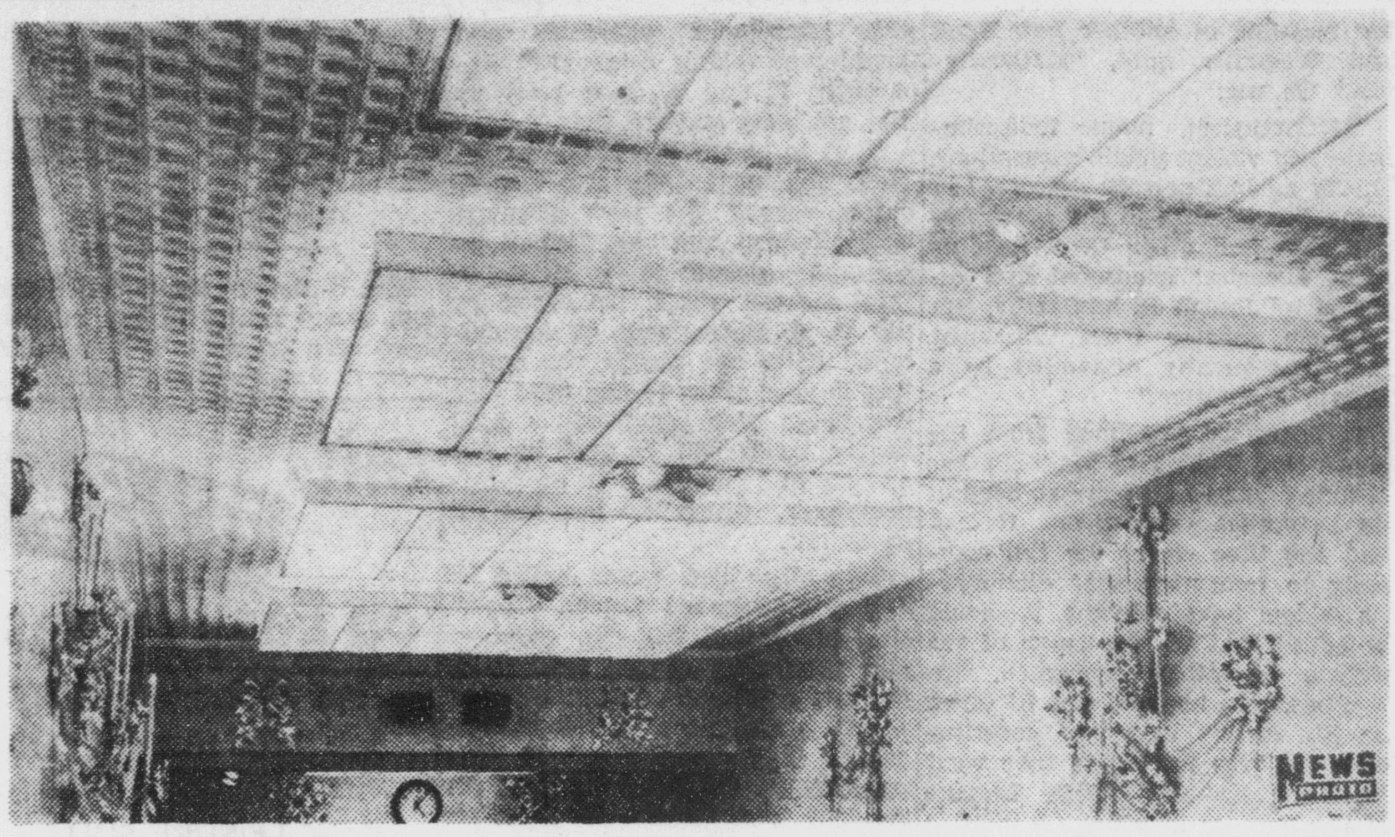
Tax is eliminated on soaps, soap powders, cleansers, cleaning fluids, detergents, baby powders and baby oils.

The reduction of the tax was voted by the General Assembly at a special session called by Governor Lane on November 10. The legislature enacted the Governor's program of recommendation.

The program was first proposed by the Governor in July when it became evident that revenues from the sales tax, because of the defense program, would exceed earlier estimates and that the reduction could be made without impairing the state's sound fiscal position.

It is estimated that the broadening of the base of the sales tax will save Marylanders $7,000,000 annually.

Based on present estimates, the reduction in the yield of the sales tax will leave a surplus at the end of the current fiscal year of nearly $5,000,000 as a backlog against the 1952 budget to be presented at the coming session of the General Assembly.



NEW CEILING LIGHTS—A showing of the most modern type of lighting installation is being held at Potomac Edison Company's Baltimore Street store. The lighting arrangement, according to E. L. Ewald, commercial manager, is a permanent installation of four Panelux, louvred panels, each 8 x 12 feet, mounted directly on the ceiling. Each unit is equipped with "slim line" instant starting flourescent lamps. To furnish accent lighting, incandescent spot lamps are shown.

Kiwanis Apple Sale Postponed By Weather

The Cumberland Kiwanis Club's annual sale of apples for the benefit of its Sunshine Camp was postponed last Saturday because of unfavorable weather.

William J. Edwards, a member of the committee, said a later date for the sale is contemplated.

Carl F. Schmutz, committee chairman, has estimated $750 would be raised by the apple sale. Members of the club and their wives will man eight downtown booths.

$125 Stolen From City Clubroom

About $125 was stolen Tuesday from the barroom of William Paca Lodge No. 1689, Sons of Italy, 119 North Centre Street. The culprit used a cable wire to drop from a rear second-story window.

During November entries were also reported at two other clubs, Cumberland Lodge No. 271, L.O.O. Moose, where $100 was taken, and Cumberland Lodge No. 176, I.B.P. O.E.W. Police arrested a Negro for allegedly stealing $100 from the latter place and he was held for grand jury action.

Tuesday's breaking and entering was discovered by a bartender at 12:45 p. m. and Detective Thomas J. See investigated.

Approximately $90 in a money bag and $40 in a drawer behind the bar were taken. Entrance was gained by breaking a window in a door leading to the second-floor barroom.

Detective See surmised that the culprit remained in the building after closing hours Monday night. The thief apparently went to a landing between the second and third floors and waited for the place to close down. The main door on Centre Street had been locked.

Merchandise at the bar was not disturbed, See said, adding that the intruder also neglected to ransack an office and chamber room on the third floor.

After stealing the money, the culprit went to the rear of the building and used a heavy cable to descend to the ground.

NEW YORK (INS)

AS A DEALER in words, a writer approaches the new models with the eager eye and bated breath of an incorrigible automobile fancier bearing down on a show room displaying the '51 models. And sometimes both are let down.

The American language, being a much more vigorous limb of its solid English trunk than the rest of the tree, has sprouted several dozen new twigs—according to a couple of fellows who should know: The Messrs. Funk and Wagnalls.

They lack the exciting bite of words recently coined and popularized by Walter Winchell, who has unquestionably placed more new models into our native tongue than any other individual. But some of the words accepted by Funk and approved by Wagnalls might last, too, at least in the circles noted for their imperviousness to jaw-break. And some of them are quite odd.

"Satellize," is a new one meaning to make a satellite of, or to subjugate with intent to control. But F. and W., with an odd twist of reasoning, credit the origin of the word to Jean Servan Schreiber, "French conservative journalist," who apparently coined it to describe "U. S. foreign policy in Europe." We've had a hunch in recent years that "satellize," when it was finally coined, might apply to the only big power which is actively engaged in that business.

We have a complaint, too, against the editorializing which innundates the meaning of another new Funk and Wagnalls word, "McCarthyism." To wit:

"McCarthyism, noun, indiscriminate and violent public accusations, chiefly against persons suspected of being Communists in the State Department and other U. S. government agencies; sponsored and directed by Joseph R. McCarthy, Republican senator from Wisconsin, and subsequently disavowed by a Senate committee."

It might be presumed from the above that Funk and Wagnalls has retained Owen Lattimore as head of its semantics department. If not, and the time comes for the company to remember that dictionaries seldom have opinions, it should be added that the chairman of the Senate committee concerned, Mr. Tydings, was bounced out of office on his ear by indignant constituents the very next time they went to the polls—and chiefly because of the manner in which he muffled McCarthy's "indiscriminate and violent public accusations."

Among the new words in the current F. and W. supplement one finds, also, "atomshik." Two atomshiks equal one "atomshiki." This, we are assured, is a noun meaning "a fanatical advocate of atomic warfare." The firm credits "Pravda" with the creation of the word, and reminds us that the Commy blat applies it to "certain American statesmen and military men."

The new word "beef-cake," seems good. It is the masculine form of "cheesecake," and a more descriptive word than its root. A "motelman," naturally is the prop, or mgr. of a motel. "G-string," finally has won recognition but not as a bare item of apparel. Seems it means a wire that can substitute for the co-axial cable of TV. "Teleset" makes the grade this time, but TV remains barred, though we beg to suggest to the Messrs. that it might prove more popular than "comediantator, a radio master of ceremonies who enlivens the program with impromptu witticisms and laughter-provoking comment." Apparently, F. and W. have receivers that get more stations than I do.

Want to be the life of the party? Well, the next time the hostess passes around the hors d'oeuvres look offended and say, "What, no alayam?" Alayam is "a sweet-potato cocktail snack developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture." After she pushes the whole tray in your kisser (a fine word that has never been approved) a good hearty laugh will be had by one and all. And you will need an "anti-perspirant," which is a new one for deodorant.

Two other new words hailed by F. and W. make me wonder. "Gook," they point out, was "an offensive and derogatory epithet applied by military personnel . . . to Koreans." Is this a defense of North Korean gooks? And "ostrichism" is "the practice of an excessive and irrational concealment of matters which are already known or easily accessible to others; term applied by the American physicist, L. N. Ridenour, to certain security regulations of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission."

Marty Marion Named Playing-Manager Of St. Louis Cards

Shortstop Gets One-Year Pact With NL Club

Financial Terms Not Revealed When Owner Makes Announcement

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Shortstop Marty Marion was named player-manager of the St. Louis Cardinals today. He immediately predicted the club would cause trouble for the other national league teams in 1951.

Marion's appointment was announced at an afternoon press conference today by owner Fred Saigh, who said he settled on Marty at 9 a. m. this morning.

Signs One-Year Contract

The long, lanky shortstop has signed a contract for one year, Saigh said. Financial terms were not disclosed.

Twenty five men had been intervened for the job left open by the resignation of Eddie Dyer, who threw in the sponge in October minor league training camp at Bar-

The Redbirds wound up the year in fifth place. It was the first time they had finished out of the first division since 1938.

Reports earlier today said the field of potential candidates had been narrowed to Marion and Johnny Keane, manager of Rochester in the International League the past two seasons.

Keane's name was not mentioned at today's press conference.

Marion, who will be 33 years old in two days, will be the youngest manager in the major leagues. He has been with the Cardinal organization 15 years, 11 of them with the St. Louis club.

Called "Mr. Shortstop"

For the past several season the man known as "Mr. Shortstop" has been bothered with back and knee troubles.

Marion has had no managerial experience.

Saigh described him as a smart, aggressive player.

Saigh said he expects to announce a revised coaching setup within a week or 10 days and that Marion will have a hand in the selections.

Marion has played in four world series and won the most valuable player award in 1944. He played in 106 games last year, which is the lowest number for one season in his career.

He was born in Richburg, S. C., the second of a railroad man's four boys. Shortly after his birth, the family moved to Atlanta, Ga., where at the age of 11 Marty suffered a broken leg while playing cops and robbers.

Had Tryout In 1935

The leg began to heal but was rebroken for a better setting. The boy spent a year in the hospital and another year on crutches.

He first came to the attention of baseball scouts in a tryout camp at Rome, Ga., that was in 1935, a year before he graduated from high school.

Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Cardinals, invited Marion to St. Louis to sign a contract but Marty refused. He signed instead with Chattanooga, where he drew a speedy release slip for leaving without permission to visit home.

Marion reported to the Cardinals' minor leagce training camp at Bartow, Fla., in 1936. Noting that he was one of 11 third basemen and that there were no shortstops in camp, he tried out for the position.

Marion is married and the father of three daughters. The family lives in Suburban Ladue. Marion will be the first player-manager of the Cardinals since Frank Frisch, who piloted the Redbirds from 1933 to 1938.

Re-signing Expected For Happy Chandler

CINCINNATI, Nov. 29 (AP)—The 13th of December may well be one of the most important days in the life of baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

For on that day, in St. Petersburg, Fla., the chances are that he will be informed whether he is to be retained for another seven years in his $65,000 a year job.

There is reason to believe that the baseball leaders in whose hands his job rests—the—owners—will vote him another seven years' tenure.

The question should come up on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 11 and 12, at separate meetings of the American and National League owners.

Then, huddling with Chandler the following day in joint session, the decision probably will be given.

Re-election will take 12 of the 16 votes.

NEW CARDS PILOT — Marty "Slats" Marion, stringbean, 33-year-old shortstop has been named playing manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Fred Saigh, owner of the National League baseball club announced yesterday. Marion, who has been with the Cardinal organization for 15 years, will be the youngest pilot in the majors next season. He predicated his team will be "tough" next year.

Wyoming Sends Top Defensive Team To Bowl

Meets W. & L. Jan. 1 In Fla. Gator Bowl

By F. T. MACFEELY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — Wyoming today became the second of the nation's four major record football teams to book a Jan. 1 bowl engagement.

The Wyoming Cowboys will meet Southern Conference champion Washington and Lee in the Gator Bowl. This announcement rounded out the schedule of the five major bowls for New Year's Day.

Oklahoma, also with a perfect record, is in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans against Southeastern Conference champion Kentucky. The Cotton Bowl at Dallas matches Texas with Tennessee. In the Orange Bowl at Miami it will be University of Miami against Clemson. California and Michigan are down for the Rose Bowl in California.

Princeton and Army, major unbeaten and untied teams along with Wyoming and Oklahoma, pass up the bowl engagements.

Wyoming Coach Bowden Wyatt, a star end at Tennessee in 1937-38, took a cue on defense from his coach there, Gen. Bob Neyland and has made Wyoming the top defensive team in the nation.

On top of that Wyatt has produced a high-scoring combination off the Tennessee single wing formation. Key man is running, passing tailback Eddie Talboom. He scored 130 of Wyoming's 343 points in nine straight victories. The combined opposition got but 52.

Champion of the Skyline Six for the second straight year, Wyoming placed 11 men on the two-platoon conference all-star team.

Washington and Lee, coached by George Barclay who was an All-America guard at North Carolina in 1934, operates in the split T formation in the hands of quarterback Gil Bocetti.

The W. and L. Generals won six straight Southern Conference games to edge Clemson for the title. W. and L. lost by a touchdown to Tennessee and by five points in an upset by Virginia.

Cats To Open Season Dec. 2

KEYSER, W. Va., Nov. 29 — The Potomac State Catamounts basketball team will open its 1950-51 cage season against Altoona Center of Penn State College here Saturday.

The locals have been practicing with only a part of their squad this week with several of the players still snowbound away from school by the area storm.

The Altoona squad is a farm team for Penn State's great cage squads and is expected to be a tough opening foe for the Keyser five.

Only two regulars are back on the Cats squad. They are Ted Lauer and Boyd Pyles. Jay Demarest, Gus Fisher, Cliff Rollins, Charles Smith, Walt Devlin, John Kaldy, and Bill Gannon, Piedmont high star last year, are slated to round out the team.

Game time is set for 8 p. m. with a 7 o'clock preliminary.

Stadium Loses Two In Shuffle League

Stadium Inn lost ground in the women's shuffleboard league last night by dropping a 2-1 decision to Clingerman's while Ruth's Tavern copped three from Woodmen of the World. In a third match Cresap Tavern won 2-1 over South End Republican Club.

High scorers for the teams were Helen Metz, Dotty Scarpelli, Pauline Stegmaier, Ruth's Tavern, 22 apiece, W. Auvil, WOW, 12, B. Lee, J. Glisson, S. Smith, Cresap Tavern, all 21, Genevieve Lewis, SERC, 24, Betty McKenny, Clingerman's, 18, and D. Minnicks, Stadium Inn, 27.

Brigham Young Cage Team To Tour East

PROVO, Utah, Nov. 29 (AP) — Brigham Young University's basketball team leaves tomorrow night on an eastern barnstorming tour. The Cougars will travel by plane, arriving in Buffalo, N. Y., for a Friday night game against Niagara University.

Next Tuesday Brigham Young meets City College of New York in Madison Square Garden. The Cougars tangle with Eastern Kentucky at Richmond, Ky., Dec. 7, and Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 9.

YMCA Senior Men's Cage League To Open Dec. 4

Eight Teams Start Loop's Sixth Year

Eight teams were represented last night at the YMCA Senior Men's Basketball League's final organization meeting held at 7:30 p. m. at the "Y", Clifton Van Roby, director, stated.

Plans were made to continue operating on Monday's, Wednesdays and Thursdays as has been done in Final pairings for the opening of scheduled. Opening games will be played at the "Y" Dec. 4.

Teams attending the meeting, Roby said, were 40 and 8, last year's champions, Charles Barnes, Telephone Co., George Evans, Sport Shoppe, Earl Nonneman, BPO Elks, Jack Robb, Peter Pan Cleaners, John Kellar, and two independent quints represented by Paul Mason and Harold Corrigan. Charles Edenhart represented the eighth team, Cumberland American Legion. Peter Pan Cleaners is a new team, Roby said.

It was decided at last night's meeting that a change in playing time would be utilized this year with teams playing 8, 10, 8 and 10 minute quarters, Roby revealed.

Final pairings for the opening of the schedule Dec. 4 were not decided at the confab, Roby said, as the two independent teams were not fully organized and named. The opening schedule will be released at the end of the week, Roby added.

This will be the sixth year of operation for the league with the 40 and 8 quint the defending champion. Other winners have been LaSalle Alumni (1945-46), First Methodist Church (1946-47), Ridgeley American Legion (1947-48), Amvets (1948-49).

The league began in 1945 with six teams, Lacy Delicatets, LaSalle Alumni, Allegany Alumni, Fort Hill Alumni, Celanese Chemist and YMCA Seniors. It was started for returning ex-service men and all veterans were given a complimentary three-months membership to the "Y". The 1948-49 season was comprised of nine teams, largest in the history of the loop.

Buddy Giles, Cumberland American Legion player, was voted the outstanding player last season, while Jimmy Eckard, Jack Stotler, Jack Steiner, Giles and Ace Comer were listed on the all-league team. Charles Barnes of the 40 and 8, received the outstanding sportsman award and a trophy was given to the 40 and 8 champions.

Roby is director of the league and a board of governors is composed of the managers of the eight teams to supervise play and carry by-laws of the loop.

Snow Causes WVU To Cancel Its Cage And Wrestling Clinic

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 29 (AP) — Snow wiped from the schedule today two of the 10 season-opening collegiate basketball games carded for state teams this week end.

Bethany College announced that, because of impassable roads, it would not make trips to Rio Grande, O., Friday night and Transylvania College at Lexington, Ky., Saturday night.

Meanwhile, West Virginia University officials announced cancellation of a basketball and wrestling clinic which was to be held in connection with a cage contest at Morgantown Saturday.

The Mountaineer basketball squad, however, will open its campaign as scheduled Saturday night against West Virginia Wesleyan.

K-C To Defend 14-Game String

League Leaders Play In Frostburg Tonight

Cumberland's Knights of Columbus take a 14-game winning streak to Frostburg tonight when they tackle the Mountain City K. of C. team (7-8) in the Men's National Shuffleboard League of Allegany County.

The 1949-50 league champions lost the first game of a three-game match to Clingerman's Restaurant on October 26, the opening night of the season. Then Coach Lloyd "Rip" Collins outfit went on a tear and has bagged its last 14 starts.

Bob Frame, Bill Mackert, Joe Love, Hugh Kilroy, Ray Swach, Paul Stitcher, DeSales McDade, Stanley "Pete" Fretwell and Collins comprise the team that now leads the league by one-full game with a 14-1 record.

Stadium Inn and the Alhambra Club, the second and fourth place teams in the league will tangle tonight at the local K. of C. Home. The Frostburg club has a 13-2 record while Alhambra has won 10 and lost 5.

Frostburg Legion (11-4), holder of third place, tests the Frostburg Moose (7-8) at the latter place.

Clingerman's Restaurant (6-9) visits Mt. Savage V. F. W. (4-11), Viaduct Inn (6-9) invades Henry Hart Post's Home to tackle the VFW (7-8) and the Cumberland Amvets (4-11) play hosts to the Century A. C. of Frostburg (7-8).

The Goodfellowship - Woodmen of the World match is set for Friday at the W. O. W. Home.

Bullets Purchase Otten From Caps

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association announced tonight the purchase of Don Otten from the Washington Capitols.

Otten, who stands exactly 7 feet, is pro basketball's tallest player. A graduate of Bowling Green, he has been campaigning professionally since 1946. He led the old National League in scoring during the 1948-49 season with a total of 872 points and was voted the circuit's most valuable player.

Deer Hunting Seen Better Here This Year

Game commission officials say good shooting is in prospect in the three western counties when Maryland's six-day deer season opens next Monday.

Regional Game Warden Joseph A. Minke estimated there will be a larger kill in Allegany County than last year, when 177 deer were taken.

He expects gunning to be as good in Garrett County, where there were 493 kills last year, and in Washington County, where there were 98.

Three Players Named To East Grid Team

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29 (AP) — The co-captains of Purdue's football team and a top Illinois lineman were named today to the East team in San Francisco's annual Shrine East-West game Dec. 30.

Selected were John Beletic, 220-pound Purdue tackle and co-captain; John Kerestes, 190-pound Purdue fullback and co-captain, and Lynn Lynch, All-Big Ten guard from Illinois.

Rain And Snow Seen Saturday For Service Tilt

May Enhance Navy's Chance For An Upset

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — Let 'er snow, let 'er snow, the more the merrier on Saturday for Coach Eddie Erdelatz of Navy's football team.

Admittedly almost at wit's end in trying to figure out how Navy is going to upset Army, Coach Erdelatz perked up at the report from Philadelphia that mixed rain and snow are expected for the week-end.

"I certainly do agree with the belief that a muddy field is the great equalizer in football," said the Navy coach.

"Don't you think that Army would have beaten Stanford by more than 7-0 if the field hadn't been a quagmire?" asked the Navy coach.

Anything that can help him slow down Army will be welcomed, Erdelatz intimated.

"The greatest asset Army has is team speed," said the Navy coach pitted against another undefeated West Point squad in their service classic.

On a fast track, the Navy coach simply refuses to guess what will happen.

The midshipmen's enthusiasm began to come out today after being subdued by the comparative records, Army undefeated and Navy winner of two of eight. But after all, it's the Army-Navy game for which hope never dies and the spontaneous cheers of Middies marching to classes sounded off amidst the usual defiant signs of anticipated victory on dormitory windows.

Miami Open Gets Underway Today

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — A picked field of 175 of the nation's top ranking professional and amateur golfers tee off tomorrow in the opening round of the 72-hole 27th annual $10,000 Miami Open Golf tournament.

The tournament, which inaugurates the winter play-for play circuit, is considered a wide open affair with nine former winners competing, including defending champion Freddy Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, who beat Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., in a spectacular playoff last year.

Sam Snead, the veteran White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro who again is top money this year, arrived without his clubs after a grueling three-day drive in ice and snow. Snead explained his clubs were being shipped from Chicago and apparently were caught in the winter storm.

Colts Give Release To Frank Filchock

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts dropped Frank Filchock from their National Football League roster today, just three weeks after signing him.

The 34-year-old Filchock previously had been barred from the league for failure to report a bribe offer while a member of the New York Giants. He then went to Canada and starred with the Montreal Alouettes.

Louis Hits Comeback Trail With Unanimous Decision Over Brion

Ex-Champ Gets Nod In Unimpressive Win

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 — Joe Louis hit the comeback trail with an unimpressive but unanimous ten round decision over Cesar Brion, Argentine champion, in the Chicago Stadium tonight.

He not only outpunched his younger foe but outpointed him.

Judges Ed Klein and Ed Hintz each scored the bout 55 to 45 in favor of Louis and Referee Frank Gilmer gave Joe 56 points to 44 for Brion.

The 10,000 fans who paid $50,000 to witness the fight shrieked their approval of the decision. Out of curiosity they came to see a caricature of the boxer who once ruled the sports and out of amazement they stayed to see him manhandle his younger and better-conditioned opponent.

The crowd pleaded with old Joe to slam home the knockout blow but the 36-year-old former champion just could not break through the crouch that Brion brought to the match via Arturo Godoy's trainer.

Sunday School Cage Schedule Set For Saturday Tilts

A change in plans for Saturday's schedule in the YMCA-Sunday School basketball league was announced last night by Clifton Van Roby, director of the loop. All games originally set for Allegany High's gym have been moved to the Fort Hill boys gym, Roby stated. The schedule follows:

Jockey Club Gets Funds

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Maryland Jockey Club got back $717,488 from the Maryland state racing fund today after promising to use it for improvements at its Pimlico track—as soon as the government lets it.

The money had been collected from a share of the money bet at all three tracks formerly owned by the club—Pimlico, Laurel and Timonium. Since September it has sold the last two to help finance planned renovations at old Pimlico.

More than half of the total amount, about $407,000, would have been forfeit to the state if the club had not committed it to improving the track by the end of the year.

Today the club said plans for the modernization had been completed and would be submitted to the state racing commission for approval. It has agreed to spend or commit the $717,488.88 "within one year after the repeal of federal prohibitions on the construction of any buildings or structure for or in connection with race tracks."

Among new features will be a new double-deck building housing the club house, paddock, grandstand and administration facilities. The building will overlook a sloping lawn with "ample x x x space for standees."

Total seating capacity in the club house and grandstand sections will be 10,000.

Grid Game Changed To Forbes Field Park

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh and Penn State will play their postponed football game this Saturday at Forbes Field.

Game-time is 1:30 p.m. (EST).

Snow-buried Pitt Stadium was ruled out earlier as a likely place for the contest.

The game originally was carded for last Saturday but was postponed due to Pittsburgh's record snow.

Tropical Park Opens Florida Race Season

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — Tropical Park race course tomorrow inaugurates South Florida's 142-day 1950-51 winter thoroughbred racing season optimistic its 41-day meeting will bring new stature and more money to the Coral Gables oval.

Officials are predicting opening day will lure between 15,000 and 16,000 horse lovers who will wager upwards of $600,000. Last year the season debut brought out 11,201 who bet $423,896.

An extra day has been added to the regular 40-day meeting by the racing commission. Revenue from the 41st day goes to the University of Florida athletic fund.

Tropical's meeting continues through Jan. 16. Hialeah runs 40-days from Jan. 17 to March 3 and Gulfstream Park concludes the season with 41 days between March 4 and April 20.

Marty Marion Named Playing-Manager Of St. Louis Cards

Shortstop Gets One-Year Pact With NL Club

Financial Terms Not Revealed When Owner Makes Announcement

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Shortstop Marty Marion was named player-manager of the St. Louis Cardinals today. He immediately predicted the club would cause trouble for the other national league teams in 1951.

Marion's appointment was announced at an afternoon press conference today by owner Fred Saigh, who said he settled on Marty at 9 a. m. this morning.

Signs One-Year Contract

The long, lanky shortstop has signed a contract for one year, Saigh said. Financial terms were not disclosed.

Twenty five men had been intervened for the job left open by the resignation of Eddie Dyer, who threw in the sponge in October minor league training camp at Bar-

The Redbirds wound up the year in fifth place. It was the first time they had finished out of the first division since 1938.

Reports earlier today said the field of potential candidates had been narrowed to Marion and Johnny Keane, manager of Rochester in the International League the past two seasons.

Keane's name was not mentioned at today's press conference.

Marion, who will be 33 years old in two days, will be the youngest manager in the major leagues. He has been with the Cardinal organization 15 years, 11 of them with the St. Louis club.

Called "Mr. Shortstop"

For the past several season the man known as "Mr. Shortstop" has been bothered with back and knee troubles.

Marion has had no managerial experience.

Saigh described him as a smart, aggressive player.

Saigh said he expects to announce a revised coaching setup within a week or 10 days and that Marion will have a hand in the selections.

Marion has played in four world series and won the most valuable player award in 1944. He played in 106 games last year, which is the lowest number for one season in his career.

He was born in Richburg, S. C., the second of a railroad man's four boys. Shortly after his birth, the family moved to Atlanta, Ga., where at the age of 11 Marty suffered a broken leg while playing cops and robbers.

Had Tryout In 1935

The leg began to heal but was rebroken for a better setting. The boy spent a year in the hospital and another year on crutches.

He first came to the attention of baseball scouts in a tryout camp at Rome, Ga., that was in 1935, a year before he graduated from high school.

Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Cardinals, invited Marion to St. Louis to sign a contract but Marty refused. He signed instead with Chattanooga, where he drew a speedy release slip for leaving without permission to visit home.

Marion reported to the Cardinals' minor leagce training camp at Bartow, Fla., in 1936. Noting that he was one of 11 third basemen and that there were no shortstops in camp, he tried out for the position.

Marion is married and the father of three daughters. The family lives in Suburban Ladue. Marion will be the first player-manager of the Cardinals since Frank Frisch, who piloted the Redbirds from 1933 to 1938.

Re-signing Expected For Happy Chandler

CINCINNATI, Nov. 29 (AP)—The 13th of December may well be one of the most important days in the life of baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

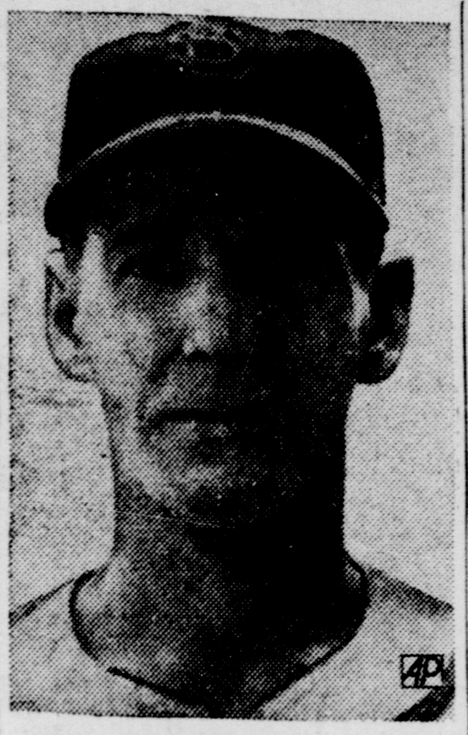
For on that day, in St. Petersburg, Fla., the chances are that he will be informed whether he is to be retained for another seven years in his $65,000 a year job.

There is reason to believe that the baseball leaders in whose hands his job rests—the—owners—will vote him another seven years' tenure.

The question should come up on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 11 and 12, at separate meetings of the American and National League owners.

Then, huddling with Chandler the following day in joint session, the decision probably will be given.

Re-election will take 12 of the 16 votes.



NEW CARDS PILOT — Marty "Slats" Marion, stringbean, 33-year-old shortstop has been named playing manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Fred Saigh, owner of the National League baseball club announced yesterday. Marion, who has been with the Cardinal organization for 15 years, will be the youngest pilot in the majors next season. He predicated his team will be "tough" next year.

Wyoming Sends Top Defensive Team To Bowl

Meets W. & L. Jan. 1 In Fla. Gator Bowl

By F. T. MACFEELY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — Wyoming today became the second of the nation's four major record football teams to book a Jan. 1 bowl engagement.

The Wyoming Cowboys will meet Southern Conference champion Washington and Lee in the Gator Bowl. This announcement rounded out the schedule of the five major bowls for New Year's Day.

Oklahoma, also with a perfect record, is in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans against Southeastern Conference champion Kentucky. The Cotton Bowl at Dallas matches Texas with Tennessee. In the Orange Bowl at Miami it will be University of Miami against Clemson. California and Michigan are down for the Rose Bowl in California.

Princeton and Army, major unbeaten and untied teams along with Wyoming and Oklahoma, pass up the bowl engagements.

Wyoming Coach Bowden Wyatt, a star end at Tennessee in 1937-38, took a cue on defense from his coach there, Gen. Bob Neyland and has made Wyoming the top defensive team in the nation.

On top of that Wyatt has produced a high-scoring combination off the Tennessee single wing formation. Key man is running, passing tailback Eddie Talboom. He scored 130 of Wyoming's 343 points in nine straight victories. The combined opposition got but 52.

Champion of the Skyline Six for the second straight year, Wyoming placed 11 men on the two-platoon conference all-star team.

Washington and Lee, coached by George Barclay who was an All-America guard at North Carolina in 1934, operates in the split T formation in the hands of quarterback Gil Bocetti.

The W. and L. Generals won six straight Southern Conference games to edge Clemson for the title. W. and L. lost by a touchdown to Tennessee and by five points in an upset by Virginia.

Cats To Open Season Dec. 2

KEYSER, W. Va., Nov. 29 — The Potomac State Catamounts basketball team will open its 1950-51 cage season against Altoona Center of Penn State College here Saturday.

The locals have been practicing with only a part of their squad this week with several of the players still snowbound away from school by the area storm.

The Altoona squad is a farm team for Penn State's great cage squads and is expected to be a tough opening foe for the Keyser five.

Only two regulars are back on the Cats squad. They are Ted Lauer and Boyd Pyles. Jay Demarest, Gus Fisher, Cliff Rollins, Charles Smith, Walt Devlin, John Kaldy, and Bill Gannon, Piedmont high star last year, are slated to round out the team.

Game time is set for 8 p. m. with a 7 o'clock preliminary.

Stadium Loses Two In Shuffle League

Stadium Inn lost ground in the women's shuffleboard league last night by dropping a 2-1 decision to Clingerman's while Ruth's Tavern copped three from Woodmen of the World. In a third match Cresap Tavern won 2-1 over South End Republican Club.

High scorers for the teams were Helen Metz, Dotty Scarpelli, Pauline Stegmaier, Ruth's Tavern, 22 apiece, W. Auvil, WOW, 12, B. Lee, J. Glisson, S. Smith, Cresap Tavern, all 21, Genevieve Lewis, SERC, 24, Betty McKenny, Clingerman's, 18, and D. Minnicks, Stadium Inn, 27.

Brigham Young Cage Team To Tour East

PROVO, Utah, Nov. 29 (AP) — Brigham Young University's basketball team leaves tomorrow night on an eastern barnstorming tour. The Cougars will travel by plane, arriving in Buffalo, N. Y., for a Friday night game against Niagara University.

Next Tuesday Brigham Young meets City College of New York in Madison Square Garden. The Cougars tangle with Eastern Kentucky at Richmond, Ky., Dec. 7, and Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 9.

Eight Teams Start Loop's Sixth Year

Eight teams were represented last night at the YMCA Senior Men's Basketball League's final organization meeting held at 7:30 p. m. at the "Y", Clifton Van Roby, director, stated.

Plans were made to continue operating on Monday's, Wednesdays and Thursdays as has been done in Final pairings for the opening of scheduled. Opening games will be played at the "Y" Dec. 4.

Teams attending the meeting, Roby said, were 40 and 8, last year's champions, Charles Barnes, Telephone Co., George Evans, Sport Shoppe, Earl Nonneman, BPO Elks, Jack Robb, Peter Pan Cleaners, John Kellar, and two independent quints represented by Paul Mason and Harold Corrigan. Charles Edenhart represented the eighth team, Cumberland American Legion. Peter Pan Cleaners is a new team, Roby said.

It was decided at last night's meeting that a change in playing time would be utilized this year with teams playing 8, 10, 8 and 10 minute quarters, Roby revealed.

Final pairings for the opening of the schedule Dec. 4 were not decided at the confab, Roby said, as the two independent teams were not fully organized and named. The opening schedule will be released at the end of the week, Roby added.

This will be the sixth year of operation for the league with the 40 and 8 quint the defending champion. Other winners have been LaSalle Alumni (1945-46), First Methodist Church (1946-47), Ridgeley American Legion (1947-48), Amvets (1948-49).

The league began in 1945 with six teams, Lacy Delicatets, LaSalle Alumni, Allegany Alumni, Fort Hill Alumni, Celanese Chemist and YMCA Seniors. It was started for returning ex-service men and all veterans were given a complimentary three-months membership to the "Y". The 1948-49 season was comprised of nine teams, largest in the history of the loop.

Buddy Giles, Cumberland American Legion player, was voted the outstanding player last season, while Jimmy Eckard, Jack Stotler, Jack Steiner, Giles and Ace Comer were listed on the all-league team. Charles Barnes of the 40 and 8, received the outstanding sportsman award and a trophy was given to the 40 and 8 champions.

Roby is director of the league and a board of governors is composed of the managers of the eight teams to supervise play and carry by-laws of the loop.

Snow Causes WVU To Cancel Its Cage And Wrestling Clinic

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 29 (AP) — Snow wiped from the schedule today two of the 10 season-opening collegiate basketball games carded for state teams this week end.

Bethany College announced that, because of impassable roads, it would not make trips to Rio Grande, O., Friday night and Transylvania College at Lexington, Ky., Saturday night.

Meanwhile, West Virginia University officials announced cancellation of a basketball and wrestling clinic which was to be held in connection with a cage contest at Morgantown Saturday.

The Mountaineer basketball squad, however, will open its campaign as scheduled Saturday night against West Virginia Wesleyan.

Rain And Snow Seen Saturday For Service Tilt

May Enhance Navy's Chance For An Upset

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — Let 'er snow, let 'er snow, the more the merrier on Saturday for Coach Eddie Erdelatz of Navy's football team.

Admittedly almost at wit's end in trying to figure out how Navy is going to upset Army, Coach Erdelatz perked up at the report from Philadelphia that mixed rain and snow are expected for the week-end.

"I certainly do agree with the belief that a muddy field is the great equalizer in football," said the Navy coach.

"Don't you think that Army would have beaten Stanford by more than 7-0 if the field hadn't been a quagmire?" asked the Navy coach.

Anything that can help him slow down Army will be welcomed, Erdelatz intimated.

"The greatest asset Army has is team speed," said the Navy coach pitted against another undefeated West Point squad in their service classic.

On a fast track, the Navy coach simply refuses to guess what will happen.

The midshipmen's enthusiasm began to come out today after being subdued by the comparative records, Army undefeated and Navy winner of two of eight. But after all, it's the Army-Navy game for which hope never dies and the spontaneous cheers of Middies marching to classes sounded off amidst the usual defiant signs of anticipated victory on dormitory windows.

Miami Open Gets Underway Today

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — A picked field of 175 of the nation's top ranking professional and amateur golfers tee off tomorrow in the opening round of the 72-hole 27th annual $10,000 Miami Open Golf tournament.

The tournament, which inaugurates the winter play-for play circuit, is considered a wide open affair with nine former winners competing, including defending champion Freddy Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, who beat Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., in a spectacular playoff last year.

Sam Snead, the veteran White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro who again is top money this year, arrived without his clubs after a grueling three-day drive in ice and snow. Snead explained his clubs were being shipped from Chicago and apparently were caught in the winter storm.

Colts Give Release To Frank Filchock

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts dropped Frank Filchock from their National Football League roster today, just three weeks after signing him.

The 34-year-old Filchock previously had been barred from the league for failure to report a bribe offer while a member of the New York Giants. He then went to Canada and starred with the Montreal Alouettes.

Jockey Club Gets Funds

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Maryland Jockey Club got back $717,488 from the Maryland state racing fund today after promising to use it for improvements at its Pimlico track—as soon as the government lets it.

The money had been collected from a share of the money bet at all three tracks formerly owned by the club—Pimlico, Laurel and Timonium. Since September it has sold the last two to help finance planned renovations at old Pimlico.

More than half of the total amount, about $407,000, would have been forfeit to the state if the club had not committed it to improving the track by the end of the year.

Today the club said plans for the modernization had been completed and would be submitted to the state racing commission for approval. It has agreed to spend or commit the $717,488.88 "within one year after the repeal of federal prohibitions on the construction of any buildings or structure for or in connection with race tracks."

Among new features will be a new double-deck building housing the club house, paddock, grandstand and administration facilities. The building will overlook a sloping lawn with "ample x x x space for standees."

Total seating capacity in the club house and grandstand sections will be 10,000.

Grid Game Changed To Forbes Field Park

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh and Penn State will play their postponed football game this Saturday at Forbes Field.

Game-time is 1:30 p.m. (EST).

Snow-buried Pitt Stadium was ruled out earlier as a likely place for the contest.

The game originally was carded for last Saturday but was postponed due to Pittsburgh's record snow.

Ex-Champ Gets Nod In Unimpressive Win

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 — Joe Louis hit the comeback trail with an unimpressive but unanimous ten round decision over Cesar Brion, Argentine champion, in the Chicago Stadium tonight.

He not only outpunched his younger foe but outpointed him.

Judges Ed Klein and Ed Hintz each scored the bout 55 to 45 in favor of Louis and Referee Frank Gilmer gave Joe 56 points to 44 for Brion.

The 10,000 fans who paid $50,000 to witness the fight shrieked their approval of the decision. Out of curiosity they came to see a caricature of the boxer who once ruled the sports and out of amazement they stayed to see him manhandle his younger and better-conditioned opponent.

The crowd pleaded with old Joe to slam home the knockout blow but the 36-year-old former champion just could not break through the crouch that Brion brought to the match via Arturo Godoy's trainer.

Tropical Park Opens Florida Race Season

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — Tropical Park race course tomorrow inaugurates South Florida's 142-day 1950-51 winter thoroughbred racing season optimistic its 41-day meeting will bring new stature and more money to the Coral Gables oval.

Officials are predicting opening day will lure between 15,000 and 16,000 horse lovers who will wager upwards of $600,000. Last year the season debut brought out 11,201 who bet $423,896.

An extra day has been added to the regular 40-day meeting by the racing commission. Revenue from the 41st day goes to the University of Florida athletic fund.

Tropical's meeting continues through Jan. 16. Hialeah runs 40-days from Jan. 17 to March 3 and Gulfstream Park concludes the season with 41 days between March 4 and April 20.

No Jockey Rematch

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — Joe Culmone, leading jockey in the nation, said today he would not accept any offer to fly to California for a rematch against his west coast rival, Willie Shoemaker.

Bob Considine Takes Feature At Bowie Oval

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP)—Bob Considine, owned by Joseph Tucci of Washington, D. C., came from last with a terrific stretch rush to win the $7,500 added Bowie Breeders Stakes by three-quarters of a length here this afternoon.

Dr. Wilmer C. Ensor's Hocotia gained second 3¾ lengths ahead of Alan T. Clarke's Senator Joe. The winner was heavily favored as a result of his victory in last week's $10,000 Endurance Handicap here and paid $3.40, $2.20 and $2.20 across the board.

Nine Maryland bred two-year-olds went postward in today's feature and a brief time in the mile and sixteenth event it appeared that Senator Joe, named for Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, would upset the figures.

Bob Considine, however, with Bobby Martin riding, did most of his running in the last quarter mile and easily passed Senator Joe, which weakened near the end, and Hocotia in the last sixteenth to score in going-away fashion.

Bob Considine in annexing his second straight stakes on the Bowie oval earned a winner's share of $5,829.50.

More clear but frigid weather here held attendance down to 4,415.

Jockey Joe Culmone, blanked here yesterday, added two victories to his mounting total by scoring with Sir Ridgewell in the second at $5.60 and Eternal City, $3.80, in the sixth event. These two triumphs gave the nation's leading booter 352 winners for the year.

ALTHOUGH NAVY has had a poor season, the annual Army-Navy game in Philadelphia's huge Municipal stadium Saturday, Dec. 2, highlights the last big football Saturday of the season. Army goes into the game with an undefeated record and is ranked among the top teams in the nation. Navy last defeated Army in 1943 when the Middies won, 13 to 0. The game is the 51st in the series. Bob Considine Takes Feature At Bowie Oval

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP)—Bob Considine, owned by Joseph Tucci of Washington, D. C., came from last with a terrific stretch rush to win the $7,500 added Bowie Breeders Stakes by three-quarters of a length here this afternoon.

Dr. Wilmer C. Ensor's Hocotia gained second 3¾ lengths ahead of Alan T. Clarke's Senator Joe. The winner was heavily favored as a result of his victory in last week's $10,000 Endurance Handicap here and paid $3.40, $2.20 and $2.20 across the board.

Nine Maryland bred two-year-olds went postward in today's feature and a brief time in the mile and sixteenth event it appeared that Senator Joe, named for Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, would upset the figures.

Bob Considine, however, with Bobby Martin riding, did most of his running in the last quarter mile and easily passed Senator Joe, which weakened near the end, and Hocotia in the last sixteenth to score in going-away fashion.

Bob Considine in annexing his second straight stakes on the Bowie oval earned a winner's share of $5,829.50.

More clear but frigid weather here held attendance down to 4,415.

Jockey Joe Culmone, blanked here yesterday, added two victories to his mounting total by scoring with Sir Ridgewell in the second at $5.60 and Eternal City, $3.80, in the sixth event. These two triumphs gave the nation's leading booter 352 winners for the year.

ALTHOUGH NAVY has had a poor season, the annual Army-Navy game in Philadelphia's huge Municipal stadium Saturday, Dec. 2, highlights the last big football Saturday of the season. Army goes into the game with an undefeated record and is ranked among the top teams in the nation. Navy last defeated Army in 1943 when the Middies won, 13 to 0. The game is the 51st in the series. Pa. Governor-Elect Took Licking Entering Politics At Five Years

By JOHN DEITRICK

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's Governor-elect John S. Fine started learning politics as a boy of five when he sneaked into a hometown political caucus.

"I was caught by my father and spanked," the balding, round-faced Fine recalls but smilingly adds it didn't cure his interest in politics.

Pennsylvania's 56-year-old governor-elect is the next to the youngest of 11 children. He attended Nanticoke high school in Pennsylvania's hard coal fields and got through Dickinson law school by working summers as a coal miner.

In the early 1920s, Fine made his first direct plunge into politics to help a friend gain the state House of Representatives.

"I became enmeshed," he said. "The political world is a power that lures you through a friend or a desire to help a cause and do good. Before you realize it you are a part of it and can't get away."

Fine was appointed a judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne county at the age of 33 by the late Gov. Gifford Pinchot. For 19 years he was on the lower court bench and in 1947 was elected to the Pennsylvania Superior Court.

He resigned that post last spring after Gov. James H. Duff, senator-elect, hand-picked him to run for nomination for governor of Pennsylvania's stormiest Republican primary campaign in recent years.

Fine is a staunch admirer of Duff. They have been friends since 1930.

"We just gravitated together," Fine said. "When the Governor decided to run for the Senate, he said to me: 'Your ideas are the same as mine. Why not team up with me?'"

Fine thinks so much of Duff's program of public improvements as governor that he intends to follow it "lock, stock and barrel."

For recreation Fine fishes, golfs and gardens. He was varsity center on his high school football team and played some football in college.

pedient action to regain control of Congress has already been urged upon Truman. It will continue to be urged upon him.

Barring the Yugoslav aid bill, the present special session is of course no more than an interlude. But if the President has not faced and acted upon the practical facts by Jan. 3, when the new Congress assembles, it will be time to expect the worst. Many Congressional acts of blind folly and wilful ignorance will then be inevitable. And in the present world situation, even one such act will be enough to shelter the whole Western alliance against Soviet agression.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Barring the Yugoslav aid bill, the present special session is of course no more than an interlude. But if the President has not faced and acted upon the practical facts by Jan. 3, when the new Congress assembles, it will be time to expect the worst. Many Congressional acts of blind folly and wilful ignorance will then be inevitable. And in the present world situation, even one such act will be enough to shelter the whole Western alliance against Soviet agression.

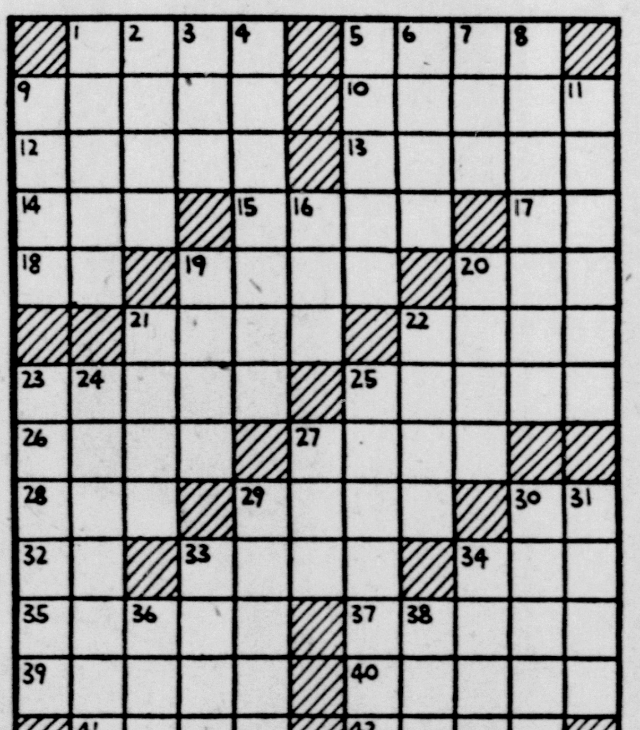
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Custodian To Be Named By City Firemen

Frostburg Group To Meet Next Week

FROSTBURG — Police Commissioner Perry W. Myers and Water Commissioner Arthur Thomas met with the Frostburg Fire Department Tuesday evening to approve an arrangement between the city and firemen for employing a night custodian for the city Hall and the Central Fire Station.

Applicants for the position will be limited to members of the Fire Department and the salary of the successful applicant will be paid jointly by the city and the firemen.

G. Woodrow Layman, chief of the Fire Department, announced that a special meeting of the firemen will be called next week, when members wishing to apply for the position will be given application blanks.

After all applications are received the firemen will select three, regarded as most eligible, by secret ballot.

The names of the eligibles will be turnd over to the Mayor and City Commissioners who will appoint one of the three for the position. The successful applicant will also be sworn in as a special policeman, Layman said.

Keyser High To Give Winter Concert Dec. 8

Beginners Will Make First Appearance

KEYSER, W. Va. — The Keyser High School band will give its winter concert in the Keyser High School auditorium on Friday, December 8, beginning at 7:30 p. m., under direction of Nunzio Barbera, director.

The program will be divided into two parts with the prelude to the program by the beginners, making their first appearance, followed by the High School band, that has made a very favorable impression in the short time it has been active.

The beginners are practicing regularly and preparing for regular positions in the band. They have made wonderful progress under Mr. Barbera's instruction and guidance and this young group may make as favorable an impression on local persons as has the older group, the director believes.

Tickets for the concert will be placed on sale within a few days. They may be obtained from the band players, at local schools, or secured at the High School auditorium the evening of the concert.

A number of popularity known Christmas numbers will be included in the evening's program.

Mt. Savage Soldier Writes From Korea

20 Keyser City Employes To Get SS Coverage

Council Agrees On Benefit Program

,KEYSER, W. Va.—Approximately 20 City of Keyser employes will be included in Social Security benefits as a result of the action of the city council at a special meeting Tuesday evening. The plan, as adopted must be submitted to the state auditor for his approval before tomorrow, to be eligible for benefits beginning January 1.

When the plan becomes effective, each employe will contribute one and a half of one percent of his wages and the city will add another one and a half percent providing a deposit of three percent for each employe monthly.

Under the state law, the city employes are divided into two groups, proprietary and non-proprietary. The amount contributed by the city to the employes share will come from revenue received from the business in which the proprietary group participates. The non-proprietary group will receive its city payment from the contingent fund set up in the budget. It is estimated that the cost of the plan for the period from January 1 to June 30, next will amount to $326.14 from the city and an equal amount from the employes.

Church Hill 4-H Club Meets This Afternoon

MT. SAVAGE—The Church Hill 4-H Club will receive instructions on making Christmas cookies and Christmas decorations at a meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Deffenbaugh.

The instructions will be given by Miss Thelma Allin, assistant home demonstration agent.

Women Plan Dinner

BARTON—A dinner will be held Thursday at 6 p. m. in the social room of the Barton Methodist Church by the Mission Study class and members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The class has been studying "Men of Faith" and the closing chapter will be given by Mrs. William R. Harvey.

A general review of the book "Rural Prospect" will be given by Mrs. Lloyd Shaw, leader of the group.

An open forum on various problems and phases of small churches and community life will be discussed. Members of other churches are expected to attend.

The study class will be resumed in January when the book, "A Christian's Vocation" by G. Bromley O'Xnam will be studied.

Custodian To Be Named By City Firemen

Frostburg Group To Meet Next Week

FROSTBURG — Police Commissioner Perry W. Myers and Water Commissioner Arthur Thomas met with the Frostburg Fire Department Tuesday evening to approve an arrangement between the city and firemen for employing a night custodian for the city Hall and the Central Fire Station.

Applicants for the position will be limited to members of the Fire Department and the salary of the successful applicant will be paid jointly by the city and the firemen.

G. Woodrow Layman, chief of the Fire Department, announced that a special meeting of the firemen will be called next week, when members wishing to apply for the position will be given application blanks.

After all applications are received the firemen will select three, regarded as most eligible, by secret ballot.

The names of the eligibles will be turnd over to the Mayor and City Commissioners who will appoint one of the three for the position. The successful applicant will also be sworn in as a special policeman, Layman said.

Keyser High To Give Winter Concert Dec. 8

Beginners Will Make First Appearance

KEYSER, W. Va. — The Keyser High School band will give its winter concert in the Keyser High School auditorium on Friday, December 8, beginning at 7:30 p. m., under direction of Nunzio Barbera, director.

The program will be divided into two parts with the prelude to the program by the beginners, making their first appearance, followed by the High School band, that has made a very favorable impression in the short time it has been active.

The beginners are practicing regularly and preparing for regular positions in the band. They have made wonderful progress under Mr. Barbera's instruction and guidance and this young group may make as favorable an impression on local persons as has the older group, the director believes.

Tickets for the concert will be placed on sale within a few days. They may be obtained from the band players, at local schools, or secured at the High School auditorium the evening of the concert.

A number of popularity known Christmas numbers will be included in the evening's program.

Mt. Savage Soldier Writes From Korea

MT. SAVAGE — Pfc. Victor A. Robison has written to his mother, Mrs. Ruth Robison, that he was one of the first Americans to enter the North Korean capital of Pyangyang in October.

This occurred when Pyangyang was captured by the First Cavalry Division. Pfc. Robison is in the Fifth Cavalry Regiment.

20 Keyser City Employes To Get SS Coverage

Council Agrees On Benefit Program

KEYSER, W. Va.—Approximately 20 City of Keyser employes will be included in Social Security benefits as a result of the action of the city council at a special meeting Tuesday evening. The plan, as adopted must be submitted to the state auditor for his approval before tomorrow, to be eligible for benefits beginning January 1.

When the plan becomes effective, each employe will contribute one and a half of one percent of his wages and the city will add another one and a half percent providing a deposit of three percent for each employe monthly.

Under the state law, the city employes are divided into two groups, proprietary and non-proprietary. The amount contributed by the city to the employes share will come from revenue received from the business in which the proprietary group participates. The non-proprietary group will receive its city payment from the contingent fund set up in the budget. It is estimated that the cost of the plan for the period from January 1 to June 30, next will amount to $326.14 from the city and an equal amount from the employes.

FOR SALE

To highest bidder, 8 room frame residence in Eckhart. Bath, hot water heat, double lot. Mail bids to Edward Rephan, Route 2, Box 480, Frostburg.

Parsons Tree Nursery Leased To State Group

Conservation Unit To Expand Program

PARSONS, W. Va.—The Parsons Nursery established in Parsons 22 years ago was leased by the Conservation Commission for a period of 15 years.

The Nursery site contains more than 100 acres of land and has been under the direction of D. A. Oliver since its establishment. Under his charge more than 26,370,000 small trees have been grown and shipped from here. Over 50 percent of the trees were planted on deforested lands in West Virginia within the Monongahela National Forest. Also 13,000 acres have been planted on this National forest.

The Nursery has a potential maximum productive capacity of five million transplants and seedlings annually. However it has not been operating at full capacity in the past few years due to lack of demand for the trees.

A. H. Anderson of the Monongahela National Forest said that three years would be required to put the plant in full operation. Approximately that length of time is needed from the time of planting to transplanting. Trees are usually planted at the age of three years but some are planted that are four and five years old. The lease to the Conservation Commission for a nominal sum will be turned over sometime during this fiscal year.

Veteran Mailman Is Host To Co-Workers

KEYSER, W. Va. — John J. Rader, E Street, a veteran carrier on Star Route between Keyser and Maysville, was host to his Keyser Postoffice co-workers at Hamill's Restaurant.

The eteran carrier, who has been delivering mail over his route for 15 years, held his first party for the postoffice employes one year ago this month and decided to make it an annual event.

Those present were Thomas F. Ward, postmaster; Boyd K. Oss, money order clerk; William C. Knott, register clerk; J. Paul Kiser, parcel post clerk; Robert F. Finnell, stamp and general delivery clerk; Henry B. Montgomery, floor and dispatch clerk; R. Lee Allen, floor and dispatch clerk; Oron Brown, substitute clerk; William D. Wolfe, Charles T. Cutter, Hubert S. Hartman, and Raymond Wolford, carriers; Junior Z. Clark, temporary clerk-carrier; Charles E. Kiser, Clemm E. Montgomery and Chester K. Bishoff, rural carriers; John J. Radar and Glenn McCoy, star carriers; T. E. Hines and Earl Roberts, mail messengers; Douglas J. Carter, fireman-laborer and Cosimo J. Cirello, chairman.

Keyser School Guards Against Polio Attack

KEYSER, W. Va. — Ten students have been temporarily withdrawn from Keyser Elementary School and an employe of the school cafeteria has also been relieved as a precautionary action, on advice of the Mineral County Health Department.

The action follows the removal of Mona Walker, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Julia Walker, Potomac Heights, to a hospital in Morgantown recently, who was suffering from a serious attack of infantile paralysis.

Those who have been withdrawn from school had contact with the afflicted child prior to her removal to the hospital. Three families are affected by the withdrawal request.

The Walker child is said to be paralyzed from the waist down through her legs.

Weather Postpones Recreation Class

KEYSER, W. Va. — The night classes for the recreation course, with collegiate credits offered for the full winter period, at Keyser High School every two weeks, was not held last night.

Prof. John Scherlacher, head of the recreation department at West Virginia University, instructor of the class, was unable to be present, having been stranded in Pittsburgh by the heavy snow storm since last week.

The class will be resumed on Wednesday evening, December 13.

Howdyshell Resigns As Keyser Policeman

KEYSER, W. Va.—Paul Howdyshell, who has been with the police department of Keyser since March 1, 1948, has tendered his resignation as an officer. He will retire from the department today, after he completes the 4 to 11 o'clock shift this evening. He recently accepted a position with the B&O, Railroad Company, as a police officer, and will take over his new duties Friday. Howdyshell will be succeeded on the city police job by Harry Workman, recently placed on the auxiliary police force list.

Sorority Conducts Essay Program

KEYSER, W. Va. — At the regular meeting of Epsilon Chapter, Beta Phi Sorority Monday evening, an essay program was given following a short business session. The meeting was held in the Sorority Room. Mrs. Daisy Goldsborough conducted the program.

Attending were Henrietta Allen, Helen Criner, Christine Fuller, Laura Grayson, Jean Heare, Dawn Jeffries, Elsie Mae Kirtley, Ethel Shaffer, Eileen Stafford, Caroline Swisher and Faye Hawk.

Keyser Auxiliary Opens Bazaar

KEYSER, W. Va. — The Ladies Auxiliary to the Vigilant Reel and Hose Company, Keyser, will hold its bazaar Friday and Saturday in the downstairs of the Fire Hall. There will be fancywork, crocheting, aprons, taffy apples and baked goods for sale.

The bazaar will open at 10 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. each day. Taffy apples will be on sale at a special price for school children.

Keyser Personals

W. Gibson Jaworek, petroleum engineering student at Penn State College, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Jaworek, Blundon Apartments. He returned to State College, Pa., Tuesday to resume his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Williamson, Keyser, announce the birth of a daughter, Monday, in Potomac Valley Hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Llewelyn, Keyser, Monday, in Potomac Valley Hospital.

Keyser Council Asks Court Aid On Lot Blocking

Injunction Sought In Property Dispute

KEYSER, W. Va.—A suit for an injunction against Horace M. Lewis, owner of two lots on Lincoln Street, has been filed in Mineral County Circuit Court, subject to December rules, by James H. Swadley, Jr., attorney for the City of Keyser.

The town council of Keyser ordered the action to be taken at a recent meeting, following complaints made by Frank Snyder, owner of an adjoining parcel of land beyond the Lewis lots. Snyder claims that Lewis has a fence blocking the complainant from access to the street.

The fence, it is said, has been on the property for several years, and the action, as ordered by Keyser City Council, is to force opening of the thoroughfare, as the fence flocks its use in a westerly direction.

The action also involves the correctness of the right of way, as to its westerly terminus. It should clear the much discussed question of how far the street extends westerly from Mineral Street.

Yangku, China, has a leaning pagoda dating from the Sung Dynasty of 960-1260.

Sgt. Nine, Keyser Recruiter, Re-enlists

KEYSER, W. Va. — Sergeant First Class Kenneth C. Nine, who has been recruiter in charge at the Army and Air Force station here for the past 18 months, received his discharge on November 22 at Camp Halibird, Md. and re-enlisted for another six years in the infantry.

He has returned to Keyser to continue recruiting duties.

A veteran of ten years active service, seven during World War II action, Sgt. Nine saw service in both the Pacific and European theaters with the 25th Infantry Division and the 35th Santa Fe Infantry Division.

At the close of his war service, Sgt. Nine worked at the Celanese plant for two years. He re-enlisted in 1947 for three years and was assigned to recruiting service at Masontown, Pa. as a sub-station commander, coming later to Keyser. He is married and has two sons, Kenneth Clifford, Jr., aged three and a half years, and Vernon Robert, three months old. He lives with his family in Westernport.

Supper Postponed

NEW CREEK, W. Va. — The Claysville WSCS family night supper program, scheduled for last night, has been postponed. The meeting, scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. S. V. Ward, at Claysville, will be held at a date to be announced later.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Fred Bosley, secretary of the WSCS.

Miss Johnson Is Bride-Elect

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Johnson, Sr., East Hampshire Street, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Rebekah, to Galen Daniel Ludwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Worth Ludwick, Burlington, W. Va.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. O. Clarence Witchell, pastor, at Piedmont Trinity Methodist Church on Saturday December 9, at 6:30 p. m.

Miss Irene Johnson, of Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, will be her sister's maid of honor, and Howard Ludwick, Burlington, will serve as his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony a reception for the wedding party and immediate families will be held at the home of the bride's brother, Oscar W. Johnson, Jr., Keyser.

The prospective bride is a graduate of Piedmont High School and has been employed in personnel work at Richmond Dry Goods Company, Inc., Richmond, Va.

Mr. Ludwick is a veteran of 18 months with the armed forces in the Pacific Theatre and also served a year with U. N. R. R. A. in China. At the present time he is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in Baltimore, where they will reside.

New Mexico's ancient capital city, Santa Fe, is situated at an altitude of over 7,000 feet.

WSCS Holiday Bazaar Opens Today

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Kenneth Malicolm, Westernport, will sing, "Come to the Fair", Martin, and "Think of Me", Scott. Mrs. Malcolm will play the piano accompaniment. Before the program starts at 8 p. m. a silver offering will be received.

The bazaar will open at 4 p. m. Booths will have a large selection of art objects, fancy work, aprons, handmake handkerchiefs, plants, flowers, home-canned food, cakes, pies, rolls and candy available.

A buffet supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. The affair is sponsored by the WSCS.

Standing, same order, are Carolyn Dusic, Geraldine Davis, Mrs. McFarland Cara Weber, leader; Rebecca White and Barbara Biser.

Parsons Tree Nursery Leased To State Group

Conservation Unit To Expand Program

PARSONS, W. Va.—The Parsons Nursery established in Parsons 22 years ago was leased by the Conservation Commission for a period of 15 years.

The Nursery site contains more than 100 acres of land and has been under the direction of D. A. Oliver since its establishment. Under his charge more than 26,370,000 small trees have been grown and shipped from here. Over 50 percent of the trees were planted on deforested lands in West Virginia within the Monongahela National Forest. Also 13,000 acres have been planted on this National forest.

The Nursery has a potential maximum productive capacity of five million transplants and seedlings annually. However it has not been operating at full capacity in the past few years due to lack of demand for the trees.

A. H. Anderson of the Monongahela National Forest said that three years would be required to put the plant in full operation. Approximately that length of time is needed from the time of planting to transplanting. Trees are usually planted at the age of three years but some are planted that are four and five years old. The lease to the Conservation Commission for a nominal sum will be turned over sometime during this fiscal year.

Veteran Mailman Is Host To Co-Workers

KEYSER, W. Va. — John J. Rader, E Street, a veteran carrier on Star Route between Keyser and Maysville, was host to his Keyser Postoffice co-workers at Hamill's Restaurant.

The veteran carrier, who has been delivering mail over his route for 15 years, held his first party for the postoffice employes one year ago this month and decided to make it an annual event.

Those present were Thomas F. Ward, postmaster; Boyd K. Oss, money order clerk; William C. Knott, register clerk; J. Paul Kiser, parcel post clerk; Robert F. Finnell, stamp and general delivery clerk; Henry B. Montgomery, floor and dispatch clerk; R. Lee Allen, floor and dispatch clerk; Oron Brown, substitute clerk; William D. Wolfe, Charles T. Cutter, Hubert S. Hartman, and Raymond Wolford, carriers; Junior Z. Clark, temporary clerk-carrier; Charles E. Kiser, Clemm E. Montgomery and Chester K. Bishoff, rural carriers; John J. Radar and Glenn McCoy, star carriers; T. E. Hines and Earl Roberts, mail messengers; Douglas J. Carter, fireman-laborer and Cosimo J. Cirello, chairman.

Keyser School Guards Against Polio Attack

KEYSER, W. Va. — Ten students have been temporarily withdrawn from Keyser Elementary School and an employe of the school cafeteria has also been relieved as a precautionary action, on advice of the Mineral County Health Department.

The action follows the removal of Mona Walker, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Julia Walker, Potomac Heights, to a hospital in Morgantown recently, who was suffering from a serious attack of infantile paralysis.

Those who have been withdrawn from school had contact with the afflicted child prior to her removal to the hospital. Three families are affected by the withdrawal request.

The Walker child is said to be paralyzed from the waist down through her legs.

Weather Postpones Recreation Class

KEYSER, W. Va. — The night classes for the recreation course, with collegiate credits offered for the full winter period, at Keyser High School every two weeks, was not held last night.

Prof. John Scherlacher, head of the recreation department at West Virginia University, instructor of the class, was unable to be present, having been stranded in Pittsburgh by the heavy snow storm since last week.

The class will be resumed on Wednesday evening, December 13.

Howdyshell Resigns As Keyser Policeman

KEYSER, W. Va.—Paul Howdyshell, who has been with the police department of Keyser since March 1, 1948, has tendered his resignation as an officer. He will retire from the department today, after he completes the 4 to 11 o'clock shift this evening. He recently accepted a position with the B&O, Railroad Company, as a police officer, and will take over his new duties Friday. Howdyshell will be succeeded on the city police job by Harry Workman, recently placed on the auxiliary police force list.

Sorority Conducts Essay Program

KEYSER, W. Va. — At the regular meeting of Epsilon Chapter, Beta Phi Sorority Monday evening, an essay program was given following a short business session. The meeting was held in the Sorority Room. Mrs. Daisy Goldsborough conducted the program.

Attending were Henrietta Allen, Helen Criner, Christine Fuller, Laura Grayson, Jean Heare, Dawn Jeffries, Elsie Mae Kirtley, Ethel Shaffer, Eileen Stafford, Caroline Swisher and Faye Hawk.

Keyser Auxiliary Opens Bazaar

KEYSER, W. Va. — The Ladies Auxiliary to the Vigilant Reel and Hose Company, Keyser, will hold its bazaar Friday and Saturday in the downstairs of the Fire Hall. There will be fancywork, crocheting, aprons, taffy apples and baked goods for sale.

The bazaar will open at 10 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. each day. Taffy apples will be on sale at a special price for school children.

Keyser Personals

W. Gibson Jaworek, petroleum engineering student at Penn State College, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Jaworek, Blundon Apartments. He returned to State College, Pa., Tuesday to resume his studies.

Recent admittances to Potomac Valley Hospital were: Mrs. Hazel Rogers, Mrs. Elizabeth Harmon, Mrs. Bertha Melody, Mrs. Madelyn Wetzel, Mrs. Jessie Rotruck, W. E. Coffman, all of Keyser; Mrs. Dan Staley, Mrs. Lois Linkswiler, both of Westernport; William T. Broadwater, Swanton, Md.; Mrs. Albert Kaiser, Luke; Jerry Via, Elk Garden; Earl Wildman, Beryl; Mrs. Anna Myers, Piedmont.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Williamson, Keyser, announce the birth of a daughter, Monday, in Potomac Valley Hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Llewelyn, Keyser, Monday, in Potomac Valley Hospital.

Keyser Council Asks Court Aid On Lot Blocking

Injunction Sought In Property Dispute

KEYSER, W. Va.—A suit for an injunction against Horace M. Lewis, owner of two lots on Lincoln Street, has been filed in Mineral County Circuit Court, subject to December rules, by James H. Swadley, Jr., attorney for the City of Keyser.

The town council of Keyser ordered the action to be taken at a recent meeting, following complaints made by Frank Snyder, owner of an adjoining parcel of land beyond the Lewis lots. Snyder claims that Lewis has a fence blocking the complainant from access to the street.

The fence, it is said, has been on the property for several years, and the action, as ordered by Keyser City Council, is to force opening of the thoroughfare, as the fence flocks its use in a westerly direction.

The action also involves the correctness of the right of way, as to its westerly terminus. It should clear the much discussed question of how far the street extends westerly from Mineral Street.

Yangku, China, has a leaning pagoda dating from the Sung Dynasty of 960-1260.

Sgt. Nine, Keyser Recruiter, Re-enlists

KEYSER, W. Va. — Sergeant First Class Kenneth C. Nine, who has been recruiter in charge at the Army and Air Force station here for the past 18 months, received his discharge on November 22 at Camp Halibird, Md. and re-enlisted for another six years in the infantry.

He has returned to Keyser to continue recruiting duties.

A veteran of ten years active service, seven during World War II action, Sgt. Nine saw service in both the Pacific and European theaters with the 25th Infantry Division and the 35th Santa Fe Infantry Division.

At the close of his war service, Sgt. Nine worked at the Celanese plant for two years. He re-enlisted in 1947 for three years and was assigned to recruiting service at Masontown, Pa. as a sub-station commander, coming later to Keyser. He is married and has two sons, Kenneth Clifford, Jr., aged three and a half years, and Vernon Robert, three months old. He lives with his family in Westernport.

Soviet Hitch-Hikers Stop Americans' Cars

VIENNA, Nov. 29 (AP)—U. S. military police said yesterday American autoists were being forced to pick up unwanted Soviet soldier hitch-hikers on the international highway between Vienna and the west.

The highway is the only authorized route for Americans travelling through the Soviet zone of Austria to and from Vienna. Police said Soviet sentries were halting American cars and refusing them permission to go ahead unless they made room for the hitch-hikers.

War-Skittish Stock Market Pulls Out Of Morning Slump

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP) — A war-skittish stock market pulled out of a morning slump with a long slow rally today.

Losses outnumbered gains by a heavy majority at the closing bell. Numerous sharp early declines, however, were cut down or even converted into small gains.

Final quotations were tops for the day in most cases and the market was headed upward at the finish.

Fastest trading was packed into the morning's business when prices were skidding. Activity slackened during the recovery but, at that, turnover amounted to 2,760,000 shares, not far behind a whopping 2,970,000 shares on Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 50 cents to $82.70. Modest improvement in the railroad group was easily outweighed by a drop in industrial stocks. The utility group ended a shade lower.

Lower prices were paid for 658 out of the 1,179 individual issues traded while 305 advanced.

New highs for 1950 or longer were touched during the day by about 10 issues and roughly the same number dropped to 1950 lows. Nine of the 15 most active issues advanced.

Missouri Pacific preferred was again a standout performer on the plus side. The stock ran against the main trend Tuesday for a gain of $1.87 and added another $1 at $16.75 today.

Several other rails stepped ahead, among them Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, and St. Paul.

Chrysler found a steady footing through the day, closing 12 cents up at $68.25. General Motors lost 50 cents at $45.75. News of a $1.25 a share Studebaker year-end dividend came after the close of the market, with the stock up 12 cents on the day at $31.

Oils were a bit balky, with both Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co. off more than $1 a share each. Smaller losses were posted for Socony-Vacuum, Sinclair and Gulf Oil.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SPEED NOT DESIRABLE

DEVELOPMENT of speed at the bridge table is far from desirable, though you would never know it from the way some people conduct themselves. Every once in a while you see somebody throw away his chances for success on a deal merely because he acts hastily before studying out his situation. This seems to happen much more in apparently simple circumstances than when a puzzling problem is faced. The feeling of easy security causes certain players to act first and then immediately afterward see what they should have done, and would have if they had thought a bit.

After the diamond 4 to the A and the 9 to the K, the 3 to the Q put South in with the necessity apparently of running nine consecutive tricks to make his contract. But that looked like a cinch if the clubs were evenly divided. Six tricks there plus one in each other suit would make nine. And, since it was rubber bridge, who cared about risking the game for the sake of a finesse for an extra?

It was really too easy for South. For the fourth trick, he scored the club K and led the 6 to the A. Happy to see both opponents follow, clearing the suit, he was then rudely shocked to note that the 10 in his own hand was higher than the dummy's 9. The suit was blocked.

He scored the club 10 and then desperately led the spade 4. His forlorn hope was that West, with the K, would play low, whereupon the J could win as a re-entry to run the rest of the clubs. But West came in with the K, scored two more diamonds and the contract was beaten.

What a simple boner. If South had merely led the club 10 to the second trick of that suit, overtaking with the A, nothing could have prevented his easy game.

Soviet Hitch-Hikers Stop Americans' Cars

VIENNA, Nov. 29 (AP)—U. S. military police said yesterday American autoists were being forced to pick up unwanted Soviet soldier hitch-hikers on the international highway between Vienna and the west.

The highway is the only authorized route for Americans travelling through the Soviet zone of Austria to and from Vienna. Police said Soviet sentries were halting American cars and refusing them permission to go ahead unless they made room for the hitch-hikers.

War-Skittish Stock Market Pulls Out Of Morning Slump

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP) — A war-skittish stock market pulled out of a morning slump with a long slow rally today.

Losses outnumbered gains by a heavy majority at the closing bell. Numerous sharp early declines, however, were cut down or even converted into small gains.

Final quotations were tops for the day in most cases and the market was headed upward at the finish.

Fastest trading was packed into the morning's business when prices were skidding. Activity slackened during the recovery but, at that, turnover amounted to 2,760,000 shares, not far behind a whopping 2,970,000 shares on Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 50 cents to $82.70. Modest improvement in the railroad group was easily outweighed by a drop in industrial stocks. The utility group ended a shade lower.

Lower prices were paid for 658 out of the 1,179 individual issues traded while 305 advanced.

New highs for 1950 or longer were touched during the day by about 10 issues and roughly the same number dropped to 1950 lows. Nine of the 15 most active issues advanced.

Missouri Pacific preferred was again a standout performer on the plus side. The stock ran against the main trend Tuesday for a gain of $1.87 and added another $1 at $16.75 today.

Several other rails stepped ahead, among them Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, and St. Paul.

Chrysler found a steady footing through the day, closing 12 cents up at $68.25. General Motors lost 50 cents at $45.75. News of a $1.25 a share Studebaker year-end dividend came after the close of the market, with the stock up 12 cents on the day at $31.

Oils were a bit balky, with both Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co. off more than $1 a share each. Smaller losses were posted for Socony-Vacuum, Sinclair and Gulf Oil.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SPEED NOT DESIRABLE

DEVELOPMENT of speed at the bridge table is far from desirable, though you would never know it from the way some people conduct themselves. Every once in a while you see somebody throw away his chances for success on a deal merely because he acts hastily before studying out his situation. This seems to happen much more in apparently simple circumstances than when a puzzling problem is faced. The feeling of easy security causes certain players to act first and then immediately afterward see what they should have done, and would have if they had thought a bit.

After the diamond 4 to the A and the 9 to the K, the 3 to the Q put South in with the necessity apparently of running nine consecutive tricks to make his contract. But that looked like a cinch if the clubs were evenly divided. Six tricks there plus one in each other suit would make nine. And, since it was rubber bridge, who cared about risking the game for the sake of a finesse for an extra?

It was really too easy for South. For the fourth trick, he scored the club K and led the 6 to the A. Happy to see both opponents follow, clearing the suit, he was then rudely shocked to note that the 10 in his own hand was higher than the dummy's 9. The suit was blocked.

He scored the club 10 and then desperately led the spade 4. His forlorn hope was that West, with the K, would play low, whereupon the J could win as a re-entry to run the rest of the clubs. But West came in with the K, scored two more diamonds and the contract was beaten.

What a simple boner. If South had merely led the club 10 to the second trick of that suit, overtaking with the A, nothing could have prevented his easy game.

150 Delegates To Attend CIO Conclave Here

Convention Opens This Morning For Three-Day Session

Approximately 150 delegates from all parts of Maryland are expected to attend the 12th annual convention of the Maryland Industrial Union Council, CIO, which opens here this morning at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Registration began last night and will resume today at 9 a.m., with the first session to get underway at 10.

Harry E. Castle, this city, council vice president, will open the meeting as temporary chairman, introducing a local minister who will give the invocation.

Mayor Thomas S. Post will welcome the delegates on behalf of the city, after which Castle will give a talk of welcome and turn the gavel over to Frank J. Bender, Baltimore, council president.

Plans for the speaking program during the three-day convention, and resolutions to be introduced were made at preliminary committee meetings yesterday.

Director To Speak

Guest speaker this morning will be Anthony Wayne Smith, Washington, D. C., assistant director of the Councils of the CIO in the United States and Canada.

Smith will give a general discussion on organization.

Speaking at the Friday afternoon session will be Max Orlow, Baltimore, labor representative in liaison personnel of the Maryland Employment Security Board.

Other scheduled speakers are State Senator Robert B. Kimble and a representative of the federal government.

Resolutions Listed

It prepared the following resolutions to be presented for action by the delegates:

1. Calling for the state relief program to provide more adequate relief for unemployed persons.
2. Urging continuance of rent control in Baltimore City and in Maryland.
3. Asking the governor to call a constitutional convention to revise and bring up to date Maryland's constitution, which was passed in 1869.
4. Providing another Congressional district in the state or allowing for a Maryland Congressman-at-large in the House of Representatives.
5. Setting up booths at state fairs to disseminate labor propaganda.

Over 40 delegates were registered last night by the credentials committee, which includes Frank Finke, John Smith and Robert Crowther, all of Baltimore.

The Cumberland Brewing Company will be host to the delegates at a lunch tomorrow from noon until 2 p. m. at the brewery.

The convention dinner will be held Friday night in Bowman's Addition Fire Hall and Saturday the election of officers is scheduled. The sessions will adjourn following installation of officers.

Members of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, of which Castle is a former president; Laundry Workers Local and Brewery Workers Local are arranging the convention.

Charles A. Della, Baltimore, is secretary-treasurer of the council. Other vice presidents, besides Castle, are:

Joseph Craig, Hagerstown; Miss Nettie Mahaffey, Salisbury; and Miss Audrey Smid, Baltimore.

Wiley Ford Youth Hurt In Sled Mishap

A 10-year-old youth received a possible skull fracture when his sled collided into a sled of one of his playmates.

He is Eugene Poland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Poland, Wiley Ford, W. Va.

The accident occurred at about 6:05 p.m. yesterday while the boy was sledding on Johnson's Hill.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital at 6:35 p.m., he was treated for shock and was listed as being in "serious" condition late last night.

His father is an employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Births Announced

Allegany Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Harrison, RFD 2, Christie Road, a daughter, Tuesday night.

Memorial Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. Reggie A. Smith, Petersburg, W. Va., a son, Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. David Volkin, Romney, W. Va., a son, Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Thomas Sowards, RFD 6, Bowling Green, a daughter, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Dodge, Salisbury, a son, Philip Whitney, Tuesday in Salisbury Hospital. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dodge, LaVale.

Teen-Age Council Organizes

Snow Removal Continuing On All-Out Basis

Entire Department Assigned To Task

The entire 60-man force of the Street Department is working every day on snow removal and all available equipment is being used, Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder said yesterday.

Snow and ice is being removed only from main business streets and bus routes because the hardpacked surface makes it almost impossible to clean it away.

Mrs. Roeder said snow plows cannot be used to clear the streets because they have no effect.

The blade on the grader is being used to break loose the snow and ice on main streets and bus routes.

However, that is the only piece of equipment with a blade "and we can't be everywhere at once," Mrs. Roeder said.

As the snow and ice are gradually churned into slush by traffic, snowplows are clearing heavily travelled streets, she explained.

In residential sections cinders are being used on hilly spots where streets are icy because bumps and ruts have hardened and streets cannot be plowed out, she explained.

The motor sweeper crew is standing by each night for emergency calls where cinders are needed, Mrs. Roeder said.

Piled up snow has been removed from in front of funeral homes and is being removed from in front of churches.

Streets where snow and ice are being removed are roped off so traffic will not interfere with the snow loader.

Street Department crews worked Friday night and all day Saturday and Sunday, all at overtime cost.

Sometimes in previous years the crews worked overtime at night to clear streets of snow, but this practice will not be continued because the same men would have to work around the clock, and because expense would be too great, Mrs. Roeder said.

Treiber Returns Home

Jack J. Treiber, Jr., 209 Central Avenue, a draftsman in the City Engineering Department, has returned home from Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where he was a patient for four weeks for observation.

Birds Suffering For Need Of Food

Winter weather brings hardship to many humans, but the storm of the last few days has been a reign of terror to wild life.

Many residents in the area have reported many birds have died because of the lack of food, the snow making it impossible for them to feed themselves at their regular sources.

Lovers of wild life, suggest that residents put feed out for the birds. Food of any kind, grains, crumbs, fats, etc., may be placed on roofs, racks, or even on the snow. It is suggested that this become a hobby for children in the area.

Donald Shires Named Times City Editor

T. Donald Shires, 506 Patterson Avenue, has been named city editor of The Cumberland Evening Times, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Shires, a native of Cumberland, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Shires, Park Heights. He was graduated from Allegany High School in 1927 and from Temple University, Philadelphia, in 1931.

He joined the staff of The Evening and Sunday Times in August, 1932, and worked in the sports department until 1936 when he was transferred to the city staff where he covered City Hall assignments until 1947.

Mr. Shires has been serving on the city desk since 1947 and in assuming his new duties as city editor will succeed Eugene T. Gunning, city editor since 1944, who will continue to serve in his additional capacity of assistant managing editor.

Mr. Shires is married to the former Miss Margaret A. Lees, of Twin Rocks, Pa. They have one son, Donald L. Shires, who attends West Side School.

Legislators Ask Bill To Rewrite Md. Constitution

Kimble On Committee To Set Up Convention

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP) — A seven-member committee of the Legislative Council was directed today to draft a bill for the setting up of a constitutional convention.

The calling of a convention to rewrite Maryland's much-amended, 83-year-old constitution was approved by an overwhelming margin at a referendum November 7.

However, the 1951 General Assembly will have the final say as to whether a constitutional convention will be called.

The Legislative Council convention subcommittee was named at today's meeting of the interim fact-finding committee of the General Assembly.

It will be headed by Sen. Byrnes (D-Balto 5th). Other members are Sens. Sothoron (D-Prince Georges), Kimble (R-Allegany) and Hoff (R-Carroll), and Delegates Sybert (D-Howard), Ramsburg (R-Frederick) and Pumphrey (D-Prince Georges).

League Offers Proposals

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — The Maryland League of Women Voters today proposed four provisions for a constitutional convention and endorsed recommendations made by the State Tax Survey Commission.

Approximately 100 delegates from seven counties and Baltimore suggested that a preparatory commission be appointed by the Governor to study the state constitution. It was argued that technical preparation and analysis would save time and money.

The resolution which originally suggested the commission be composed of "men" with political science experience was changed to read "persons" so that women could be included.

Other provisions approved were compensation for delegates, and "an open and unhurried convention."

After long debate, the league endorsed recommendations for a more integrated system of tax administration made by the State Tax Survey Commission. The survey proposed that the present system under which tax collection is made by 11 agencies be changed so that it be handled "in general" by one agency.

Reed Cites Law Covering School Bus Operation

Says His 1941 Act Limits Passengers

Contradicting statements made at a meeting of the City Council here Monday night relative to laws covering operation of school buses, Lester B. Reed, member of the House of Delegates from Allegany county, said last night, "Some of the city officials have been misinformed, there is a law covering school bus operation."

Delegate Reed said that in 1941 he sponsored a law now found in Chapter 448, Maryland Acts of 1941, which provides that the number of passengers on any school bus shall not exceed 25 per cent of the total seating capacity, if the bus has a center aisle, and not more than 10 per cent if there is no center aisle.

It also provides, Delegate Reed said, that 13 inches' seating space must be provided for each seated passenger, that buses must be of steel construction, must be equipped with various adequate safety devices and must be marked to designate them as school buses.

The law applies only to Allegany county, Reed said, and he plans to make an effort to extend its provisions to cover other counties.

The Delegate also observed that he believes the county law is obeyed by the Board of Education and operators of the School Board's 80 school buses.

"Unfortunately," he commented, "this law does not apply to public carriers which haul school children in the city, and it might be that the city officials who commented on 'over-crowding of buses hauling school children', had these public carriers in mind.

Peace Provision Found In Old Volume

Today is the anniversary of the signing of a peace treaty between Great Britain and the United States of America.

Thomas L. Myers, of Bethlehem, Pa., a former local business man and one-time member of the Cumberland City Council, now retired, called the date to the attention of a reporter yesterday.

Mr. Meyers who is visiting his sister, Mrs. William L. Wilson, Sr., Washington Street, said he has been "snowbound" and has spent several days browsing through a collection of old volumes.

In an 1819 edition of American Universal Geography, he ran across this interesting passage.

"On November 30, 1782, provisional articles of peace were signed at Paris by which Great Britain acknowledged the independence and sovereignty of the United States of America thus ending a long and arduous conflict which cost $100,000,000 and 100,000 lives and won the British nothing."

The volume was prepared by Judith Morse, DD.

Deaths

WELLS FUNERAL

A funeral service for John Wells, 73, of 632 North Mechanic Street, who died Saturday at Allegany Hospital, was conducted yesterday afternoon at the Kight Funeral Home, with Rev. J. F. Zimmerman officiating.

Pallbearers were S. E. Miller, J. W. Ager, Robert Meyers, Walter Witt, Thomas Witt, and Albert Witt.

Interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

DANIEL COUTHARD

Daniel Couthard, 67, of 405 North Centre Street, died early yesterday morning.

Born in Cumberland, he was the son of John and Nancy Lyeberger Couthard. He is survived by one brother, Charles Couthard, 420 Pine Place.

The body is at Stein Funeral Home.

The much discussed traffic boxes on Baltimore Street corners are back again, following countless public protests over their removal. This box, providing at least temporary shelter from the wind and cold is occupied by Patrolman John Sherry, wearing a broad smile of gratitude.

Use Of Maryland-Mined Coal By State Institutions Urged By CIO

Council President Makes List Of Recommendations In Convention Report

Use of Maryland-mined coal for all state institutions and buildings is urged in the annual report of Frank J. Bender, Baltimore president of the Maryland Industrial Union Council, CIO.

Bender cited the large number of men and women in Allegany and Garrett Counties who are unemployed.

"Our state government should act at once to relieve and remedy this situation, not by giving pauper aid, but provide employment at gainful labor," he said.

Bender will preside at the three-day annual convention of the Council which will get underway this morning at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

His report was prepared for delivery at the opening session today.

"Many of the unemployed in these counties are former coal miners, who became unemployed when the mines in which they were working were closed, because the mine owners could not sell their coal in open competition," Bender said.

If state buildings used coal from Maryland mines, the mine workers would become employed and thus removed from the relief rolls, the report said.

Bender, himself a former miner in Illinois, Ohio and West Virginia, said action also should be taken to conserve coal deposits for future generations.

"Today, there is less than 100 years of coal supply under the ground. It is therefore a serious error to permit these Maryland mines to be closed and the mineable coal lost forever, when they should be kept in operation and providing employment," Bender said.

Recommendations Noted

The report also makes the following recommendations:

1. Commending President Truman and the United Nations for their stand in the "Korean affair" and urging further strengthening of the UN by giving it an international army, internationally financed and supplied, as a police force against aggressor nations.
2. Expansion of the armed forces and manufacture of more arms and war material.
3. Equal number of labor and industry representation on all public and semi-public administrative and advisory boards which may be established as a part of the mobilization program.
4. Price controls and rationing if serious shortages of consumer goods or sharply rising prices appear.
5. Government drafting of factories and materials for use in the war effort at such time as it becomes necessary to exercise controls on wages and workers.

Profits Tax Cited

6. Levying of a heavy federal excess profits tax to discourage making of profit on defense or war production.
7. Continuing of efforts to have the Maryland General Assembly enact legislation to provide benefit payments for permanent disability and temporary sickness, with the disability insurance to be handled entirely through a state government fund.

Bender commented that the National CIO has been attempting to have the Federal Security Act amended to provide such payments.

8. Reaffirming of the Maryland Council's support and immediate adoption of the National Health Insurance plan recommended to Congress by President Truman.
9. Further expansion of the fed-

Long Cites Burma Road Improvement

Police To Continue Close Supervision

City Police are continuing close supervision of the city's Burma Road area on Front Street, and find conditions there somewhat improved, Police Commissioner John J. Long has informed Walter C. Capper, chairman of the Allegany County Liquor Control Board.

An accurate account of arrests made on Burma Road for the past 90 days, Commissioner Long indicated, shows 45 arrested for being drunk, nine for disorderly conduct, and 19 drunk and disorderly.

Long said no persons were arrested inside any of the places on Burma Road. The Commissioner indicated however, that occasional complaints regarding the area, or the conduct of some of the establishments have come to his attention.

Chief among these seems to be, he indicated, that some proprietors persist in selling intoxicants to men already drunk, in violation of the law.

Long said police will continue to closely supervise this and other areas, and if conditions again appear to be out of control, the Board will be presented with the facts and license suspension recommended if necessary.

Assistant Needed In Milk Testing

An announcement was made of the need for an assistant to work with Harry E. Miller, the tester in the Milk Testing Association, last night at a meeting of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association held in the Court House.

Marvin Senger, of the University of Maryland, and J. E. Pieppyman, County Agent of Mineral County, W. Va., gave talks, urging more farmers to join the organization.

John P. Mason, president of the Association presided at the meeting.

Edward C. Cavey Is Promoted To Trainmaster

C .E. Bertrand Also Gets Advancement

Edward C. Cavey, 818 Camden Avenue, has been named trainmaster of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, according to C. T. Williams, division superintendent.

Cavey is replacing C. E. Bertrand, who is going to the Chicago division as assistant superintendent. Cavey assumes his new duties as trainmaster tomorrow.

Prior to this appointment, Cavey was assistant trainmaster at the local terminal, a position he has held for the past five years.

A native of Baltimore, he attended the school there, graduating from St. Mary's High School in 1911. Later, he studied law at the Baltimore School of Law.

Soon thereafter, he joined the B. and O. organization, beginning in the general offices in Baltimore. During World War II, he worked in the Office of Defense Transportation, in Washington.

In 1945, at the close of the war, he rejoined the railroad and came to Cumberland as assistant trainmaster.

Bertrand, whom Cavey is succeeding, left yesterday to assume his duties as assistant superintendent for the railroad at the Chicago division.

He is a native of Pine Bluff, Ark., received his schooling there, and for a number of years was labor foreman of a construction company.

He has been associated with the B. and O. Railroad since 1937, serving as a conductor, a switchman, and later a dispatcher at the Chicago terminal.

In 1946 he was promoted to trainmaster in Chicago. He has served in the same capacity at the local terminal since October 20, 1950.

Meyersdale Post Urges Decisive Korean Action

Legion Wants U. S. To Use New Weapons

Double-barreled action has been taken by the Meyersdale, Pa., American Legion Post to urge all-out warfare to obtain a "quick and decisive victory in Korea."

Charles A. Darrah, post commander, said telegrams were sent to high Legion officials and legislators with a view to bring to matter to the attention of the United Nations and to Congress.

Telegrams were sent to National Legion Commander Earl Cocke, Indianapolis, and the Joseph S. McCracken, Pennsylvania Department commander.

They urged action on a Meyersdale resolution adopted by the Pennsylvania state convention "demanding the use of every means of military warfare at our disposal to obtain a quick and decisive victory and ultimate world peace."

This resolution, passed at the convention in Philadelphia last August, was adopted in principle at the national meet in Los Angeles in October.

At that time, the telegrams said, the Legion's foreign relations committee favored "sponsoring of a resolution by the American delegate to the United Nations to the effect that further aggression in any part of the world by Soviet Russia will meet full force of retaliation by the United Nations police authority, including if necessary the release of atomic weapons on Soviet Russia."

Darrah recalled that the Meyersdale post last July passed a resolution calling for use of every military means by the United States and its allies unless Korean hostilities were stopped at once.

North Koreans were termed "Russia Communist-sponsored, trained, armed and supplied" in that resolution.

Another telegram outlining the Legion action at the local, state and national levels was sent to various members of Congress.

They included U. S. Senators Owen Brewster of Maine, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Francis Meyers and Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, and Reps. W. Sterling Cole and E. Mendel Rivers, members of the House Armed Services Committee.

That telegram concluded:

"The seriousness of the situation we believe warrants bringing this to your attention and that the Red China forces are in the same category as the aggressor North Korean forces, a menace to world peace.

"We demand that the same action should be taken against them as we recommended regarding the North Korean forces in our resolution last July."

Darrah said the telegrams were prepared by a special committee of Charles E. Kelly Post No. 112, including Dr. William Cover, James Hartle, Walter Greff, Thomas Shipley, Frank Reamer and himself.

Quartet To Sing

Evangelistic Services being held at Davis Memorial Methodist Church will have as special music tonight the quartet from Calvary Tabernacle, Cresaptown. Rev. C. N. Hutchinson will have for his subject "The Atom Bomb and The End of The Age."

Friday night the subject will be "The Unpardonable Sin." Special music will be by William "Bill" Wahl of the Salvation Army.

Teen-Age Council Organizes

Snow Removal Continuing On All-Out Basis

Entire Department Assigned To Task

The entire 60-man force of the Street Department is working every day on snow removal and all available equipment is being used, Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder said yesterday.

Snow and ice is being removed only from main business streets and bus routes because the hardpacked surface makes it almost impossible to clean it away.

Mrs. Roeder said snow plows cannot be used to clear the streets because they have no effect.

The blade on the grader is being used to break loose the snow and ice on main streets and bus routes.

However, that is the only piece of equipment with a blade "and we can't be everywhere at once," Mrs. Roeder said.

As the snow and ice are gradually churned into slush by traffic, snowplows are clearing heavily travelled streets, she explained.

In residential sections cinders are being used on hilly spots where streets are icy because bumps and ruts have hardened and streets cannot be plowed out, she explained.

The motor sweeper crew is standing by each night for emergency calls where cinders are needed, Mrs. Roeder said.

Piled up snow has been removed from in front of funeral homes and is being removed from in front of churches.

Streets where snow and ice are being removed are roped off so traffic will not interfere with the snow loader.

Street Department crews worked Friday night and all day Saturday and Sunday, all at overtime cost.

Sometimes in previous years the crews worked overtime at night to clear streets of snow, but this practice will not be continued because the same men would have to work around the clock, and because expense would be too great, Mrs. Roeder said.

Treiber Returns Home

Jack J. Treiber, Jr., 209 Central Avenue, a draftsman in the City Engineering Department, has returned home from Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where he was a patient for four weeks for observation.

Birds Suffering For Need Of Food

Winter weather brings hardship to many humans, but the storm of the last few days has been a reign of terror to wild life.

Many residents in the area have reported many birds have died because of the lack of food, the snow making it impossible for them to feed themselves at their regular sources.

Lovers of wild life, suggest that residents put feed out for the birds. Food of any kind, grains, crumbs, fats, etc., may be placed on roofs, racks, or even on the snow. It is suggested that this become a hobby for children in the area.

Donald Shires Named Times City Editor

T. Donald Shires, 506 Patterson Avenue, has been named city editor of The Cumberland Evening Times, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Shires, a native of Cumberland, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Shires, Park Heights. He was graduated from Allegany High School in 1927 and from Temple University, Philadelphia, in 1931.

He joined the staff of The Evening and Sunday Times in August, 1932, and worked in the sports department until 1936 when he was transferred to the city staff where he covered City Hall assignments until 1947.

Mr. Shires has been serving on the city desk since 1947 and in assuming his new duties as city editor will succeed Eugene T. Gunning, city editor since 1944, who will continue to serve in his additional capacity of assistant managing editor.

Mr. Shires is married to the former Miss Margaret A. Lees, of Twin Rocks, Pa. They have one son, Donald L. Shires, who attends West Side School.

Legislators Ask Bill To Rewrite Md. Constitution

Kimble On Committee To Set Up Convention

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP) — A seven-member committee of the Legislative Council was directed today to draft a bill for the setting up of a constitutional convention.

The calling of a convention to rewrite Maryland's much-amended, 83-year-old constitution was approved by an overwhelming margin at a referendum November 7.

However, the 1951 General Assembly will have the final say as to whether a constitutional convention will be called.

The Legislative Council convention subcommittee was named at today's meeting of the interim fact-finding committee of the General Assembly.

It will be headed by Sen. Byrnes (D-Balto 5th). Other members are Sens. Sothoron (D-Prince Georges), Kimble (R-Allegany) and Hoff (R-Carroll), and Delegates Sybert (D-Howard), Ramsburg (R-Frederick) and Pumphrey (D-Prince Georges).

League Offers Proposals

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — The Maryland League of Women Voters today proposed four provisions for a constitutional convention and endorsed recommendations made by the State Tax Survey Commission.

Approximately 100 delegates from seven counties and Baltimore suggested that a preparatory commission be appointed by the Governor to study the state constitution. It was argued that technical preparation and analysis would save time and money.

The resolution which originally suggested the commission be composed of "men" with political science experience was changed to read "persons" so that women could be included.

Other provisions approved were compensation for delegates, and "an open and unhurried convention."

After long debate, the league endorsed recommendations for a more integrated system of tax administration made by the State Tax Survey Commission. The survey proposed that the present system under which tax collection is made by 11 agencies be changed so that it be handled "in general" by one agency.

Reed Cites Law Covering School Bus Operation

Says His 1941 Act Limits Passengers

Contradicting statements made at a meeting of the City Council here Monday night relative to laws covering operation of school buses, Lester B. Reed, member of the House of Delegates from Allegany county, said last night, "Some of the city officials have been misinformed, there is a law covering school bus operation."

Delegate Reed said that in 1941 he sponsored a law now found in Chapter 448, Maryland Acts of 1941, which provides that the number of passengers on any school bus shall not exceed 25 per cent of the total seating capacity, if the bus has a center aisle, and not more than 10 per cent if there is no center aisle.

It also provides, Delegate Reed said, that 13 inches' seating space must be provided for each seated passenger, that buses must be of steel construction, must be equipped with various adequate safety devices and must be marked to designate them as school buses.

The law applies only to Allegany county, Reed said, and he plans to make an effort to extend its provisions to cover other counties.

The Delegate also observed that he believes the county law is obeyed by the Board of Education and operators of the School Board's 80 school buses.

"Unfortunately," he commented, "this law does not apply to public carriers which haul school children in the city, and it might be that the city officials who commented on 'over-crowding of buses hauling school children', had these public carriers in mind.

Peace Provision Found In Old Volume

Today is the anniversary of the signing of a peace treaty between Great Britain and the United States of America.

Thomas L. Myers, of Bethlehem, Pa., a former local business man and one-time member of the Cumberland City Council, now retired, called the date to the attention of a reporter yesterday.

Mr. Meyers who is visiting his sister, Mrs. William L. Wilson, Sr., Washington Street, said he has been "snowbound" and has spent several days browsing through a collection of old volumes.

In an 1819 edition of American Universal Geography, he ran across this interesting passage.

"On November 30, 1782, provisional articles of peace were signed at Paris by which Great Britain acknowledged the independence and sovereignty of the United States of America thus ending a long and arduous conflict which cost $100,000,000 and 100,000 lives and won the British nothing."

The volume was prepared by Judith Morse, DD.

It's An Ill Wind

The much discussed traffic boxes on Baltimore Street corners are back again, following countless public protests over their removal. This box, providing at least temporary shelter from the wind and cold is occupied by Patrolman John Sherry, wearing a broad smile of gratitude.

Use Of Maryland-Mined Coal By State Institutions Urged By CIO

Council President Makes List Of Recommendations In Convention Report

Use of Maryland-mined coal for all state institutions and buildings is urged in the annual report of Frank J. Bender, Baltimore president of the Maryland Industrial Union Council, CIO.

Bender cited the large number of men and women in Allegany and Garrett Counties who are unemployed.

"Our state government should act at once to relieve and remedy this situation, not by giving pauper aid, but provide employment at gainful labor," he said.

Bender will preside at the three-day annual convention of the Council which will get underway this morning at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

His report was prepared for delivery at the opening session today.

"Many of the unemployed in these counties are former coal miners, who became unemployed when the mines in which they were working were closed, because the mine owners could not sell their coal in open competition," Bender said.

If state buildings used coal from Maryland mines, the mine workers would become employed and thus removed from the relief rolls, the report said.

Bender, himself a former miner in Illinois, Ohio and West Virginia, said action also should be taken to conserve coal deposits for future generations.

"Today, there is less than 100 years of coal supply under the ground. It is therefore a serious error to permit these Maryland mines to be closed and the mineable coal lost forever, when they should be kept in operation and providing employment," Bender said.

Recommendations Noted

The report also makes the following recommendations:

1. Commending President Truman and the United Nations for their stand in the "Korean affair" and urging further strengthening of the UN by giving it an international army, internationally financed and supplied, as a police force against aggressor nations.
2. Expansion of the armed forces and manufacture of more arms and war material.
3. Equal number of labor and industry representation on all public and semi-public administrative and advisory boards which may be established as a part of the mobilization program.
4. Price controls and rationing if serious shortages of consumer goods or sharply rising prices appear.
5. Government drafting of factories and materials for use in the war effort at such time as it becomes necessary to exercise controls on wages and workers.

Profits Tax Cited

6. Levying of a heavy federal excess profits tax to discourage making of profit on defense or war production.
7. Continuing of efforts to have the Maryland General Assembly enact legislation to provide benefit payments for permanent disability and temporary sickness, with the disability insurance to be handled entirely through a state government fund.

Bender commented that the National CIO has been attempting to have the Federal Security Act amended to provide such payments.

8. Reaffirming of the Maryland Council's support and immediate adoption of the National Health Insurance plan recommended to Congress by President Truman.
9. Further expansion of the fed-

Long Cites Burma Road Improvement

Police To Continue Close Supervision

City Police are continuing close supervision of the city's Burma Road area on Front Street, and find conditions there somewhat improved, Police Commissioner John J. Long has informed Walter C. Capper, chairman of the Allegany County Liquor Control Board.

An accurate account of arrests made on Burma Road for the past 90 days, Commissioner Long indicated, shows 45 arrested for being drunk, nine for disorderly conduct, and 19 drunk and disorderly.

Long said no persons were arrested inside any of the places on Burma Road. The Commissioner indicated however, that occasional complaints regarding the area, or the conduct of some of the establishments have come to his attention.

Chief among these seems to be, he indicated, that some proprietors persist in selling intoxicants to men already drunk, in violation of the law.

Long said police will continue to closely supervise this and other areas, and if conditions again appear to be out of control, the Board will be presented with the facts and license suspension recommended if necessary.

Assistant Needed In Milk Testing

An announcement was made of the need for an assistant to work with Harry E. Miller, the tester in the Milk Testing Association, last night at a meeting of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association held in the Court House.

Marvin Senger, of the University of Maryland, and J. E. Pieppyman, County Agent of Mineral County, W. Va., gave talks, urging more farmers to join the organization.

John P. Mason, president of the Association presided at the meeting.

Edward C. Cavey Is Promoted To Trainmaster

C .E. Bertrand Also Gets Advancement

Edward C. Cavey, 818 Camden Avenue, has been named trainmaster of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, according to C. T. Williams, division superintendent.

Cavey is replacing C. E. Bertrand, who is going to the Chicago division as assistant superintendent. Cavey assumes his new duties as trainmaster tomorrow.

Prior to this appointment, Cavey was assistant trainmaster at the local terminal, a position he has held for the past five years.

A native of Baltimore, he attended the school there, graduating from St. Mary's High School in 1911. Later, he studied law at the Baltimore School of Law.

Soon thereafter, he joined the B. and O. organization, beginning in the general offices in Baltimore. During World War II, he worked in the Office of Defense Transportation, in Washington.

In 1945, at the close of the war, he rejoined the railroad and came to Cumberland as assistant trainmaster.

Bertrand, whom Cavey is succeeding, left yesterday to assume his duties as assistant superintendent for the railroad at the Chicago division.

He is a native of Pine Bluff, Ark., received his schooling there, and for a number of years was labor foreman of a construction company.

He has been associated with the B. and O. Railroad since 1937, serving as a conductor, a switchman, and later a dispatcher at the Chicago terminal.

In 1946 he was promoted to trainmaster in Chicago. He has served in the same capacity at the local terminal since October 20, 1950.

Meyersdale Post Urges Decisive Korean Action

Legion Wants U. S. To Use New Weapons

Double-barreled action has been taken by the Meyersdale, Pa., American Legion Post to urge all-out warfare to obtain a "quick and decisive victory in Korea."

Charles A. Darrah, post commander, said telegrams were sent to high Legion officials and legislators with a view to bring to matter to the attention of the United Nations and to Congress.

Telegrams were sent to National Legion Commander Earl Cocke, Indianapolis, and the Joseph S. McCracken, Pennsylvania Department commander.

They urged action on a Meyersdale resolution adopted by the Pennsylvania state convention "demanding the use of every means of military warfare at our disposal to obtain a quick and decisive victory and ultimate world peace."

This resolution, passed at the convention in Philadelphia last August, was adopted in principle at the national meet in Los Angeles in October.

At that time, the telegrams said, the Legion's foreign relations committee favored "sponsoring of a resolution by the American delegate to the United Nations to the effect that further aggression in any part of the world by Soviet Russia will meet full force of retaliation by the United Nations police authority, including if necessary the release of atomic weapons on Soviet Russia."

Darrah recalled that the Meyersdale post last July passed a resolution calling for use of every military means by the United States and its allies unless Korean hostilities were stopped at once.

North Koreans were termed "Russia Communist-sponsored, trained, armed and supplied" in that resolution.

Another telegram outlining the Legion action at the local, state and national levels was sent to various members of Congress.

They included U. S. Senators Owen Brewster of Maine, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Francis Meyers and Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, and Reps. W. Sterling Cole and E. Mendel Rivers, members of the House Armed Services Committee.

That telegram concluded:

"The seriousness of the situation we believe warrants bringing this to your attention and that the Red China forces are in the same category as the aggressor North Korean forces, a menace to world peace.

"We demand that the same action should be taken against them as we recommended regarding the North Korean forces in our resolution last July."

Darrah said the telegrams were prepared by a special committee of Charles E. Kelly Post No. 112, including Dr. William Cover, James Hartle, Walter Greff, Thomas Shipley, Frank Reamer and himself.

Quartet To Sing

Evangelistic Services being held at Davis Memorial Methodist Church will have as special music tonight the quartet from Calvary Tabernacle, Cresaptown. Rev. C. N. Hutchinson will have for his subject "The Atom Bomb and The End of The Age."

Friday night the subject will be "The Unpardonable Sin." Special music will be by William "Bill" Wahl of the Salvation Army.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy and continued rather cold today; tomorrow mostly cloudy and a little warmer.

RED PRESSURE REPORTED EASING

Peace In Grave Danger, Acheson Declares

U. S. Declares China Defying Most Of World

U.N. Told It Must Not Bow To Threats, Use Of Arms

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Chinese Communists are challenging two-thirds of the world, the United States declared today, and the United Nations must show it will not submit to threats nor tolerate military actions against the U. N.

Warren R. Austin, top American delegate, said Peiping's representative here had lied and distorted the facts in a defiance which must be answered by speedy action to stop the spread of war in Asia.

Sharply answering the long attack on the U. S. yesterday by Wu Hsiu-Chuan, Peiping's representative, Austin said he denied categorically Wu's charges that the U. S. and U. N. committed aggression in Korea.

"In the cousre of his speech," Austin told a grave-faced council, "General Wu contrived to challenge two-thirds of the world, defy the United Nations, and dismay the friends of China. Glorifying peace, he sounded threatening. Invited here to give information and shed light, he gave only distortions, slanders, half-truths, and outright lies, some big, some small.

Calls For Resolution Vote

"General Wu went very far yesterday to show that his hand is against all men's. Let him give heed lest he go home from this place with all men's hands against him."

Austin said once more that the U. S. and U. N. have not committed aggression in Korea, and are not threatening China. He then called on the council to vote speedily—perhaps tomorrow—on a six-power resolution which calls on Peiping to pull its soldiers out of Korea quickly and assures Peiping that China's legitimate interests will be protected.

Some delegates were discussing a timetable calling for a vote on the resolution tomorrow. The Soviet Union is expected to veto the proposal.

With that veto, the western delegates would appeal to the General Assembly Friday. They hoped for quick debate in the Assembly and

SUES MAE WEST — Actress Sara Allen (above) yesterday filed a $1,000,000 damage suit against Mae West, complaining the "come up and see me sometime" girl had just about ruined her career. She charged, in verse, that Miss West slandered her and kept her from getting stage jobs. (Story at bottom of page).

We'll Talk Peace If Attacks Cease, Reds Tell Yank

WITH U. S. FORCES IN NORTH KOREA, Nov. 29 (AP)—Chinese Communists sent a captured American soldier back to his unit Monday with orders to tell his commander that the Chinese would talk peace if the Americans would stop their air and artillery attacks.

The soldier is Cpl. Donald R. Rose, 19, Fredericksburg, Va.

He was captured Monday morning east of Kujang on the Chongchon river front. His company's command post had been overrun the night before, in the start of the Chinese counteroffensive.

Rose, a rifleman, said the Reds who attacked the American command post "shot the weapon right out of my hand—shot the stock in two."

Officer Protected Him

He said he lay in a ditch the rest of the night and through the early hours Monday morning. When he thought he was safe he ran for a nearby ridge, but he was taken prisoner.

Red soldiers took him to a Chinese officer.

"One of them (the Red soldiers) wanted to shoot me but the officer wouldn't let him," Rose said.

The English-speaking officer took Rose to the crest of a hill and handed him a pair of field glasses. He pointed to nearby American positions then to groups of Chinese Red soldiers swarming over a hill and through a dry river bed.

As the officer pointed, Rose said, U. S. Mustang and jet fighter planes spotted the Chinese on the hill and strafed them.

Given American Jeep

"He didn't like that," Rose recounted. "He was raising hell about that."

Then the Chinese officer told Rose he was going to send him back to the U. S. lines.

"He told me to get in touch with the commander of American forces and tell him if he will cut out the air and artillery attacks he (the Chinese) would talk peace."

The officer then put on Rose's head a hat or cap made of white material resembling towelling and "gave me an American jeep, one of our own."

Rose drove through a Chinese road block and into American lines without being molested by the Reds.

Britain Seeks Political Deal

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Britain held out to Communist China today the possibility of a political deal in Korea to avert a third world war.

In a broad statement of British foreign policy, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also told the House of Commons Britain is ready to join with the United States and France in any talks with Soviet Russia which might ease existing tension between East and West.

The first essential in Korea, Bevin said, "is to stabilize the military situation and then to explore a political settlement."

"I have been working on this for some weeks and the military development in the last few days has not altered my opinion one bit — it is on political lines in the end that we must seek the solution," he said.

If the Communist Chinese "want to avoid a general war, if they show the slightest sign of willingness to cooperate in exploring a solution by peaceful means, I am satisfied solutions can be found," he said.

Rival Enters Suit In Verse, Has Eye On Mae West Purse

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Actress Sara Allen slapped a $1,000,000 damage suit against Mae West today, complaining the "come up and see me sometime" girl just about ruined her career.

She charged in verse that Miss West slandered her and kept her from getting stage jobs because she did such excellent impersonations of the star of "Diamond Lil."

The damage action was filed by Miss Allen's attorney, Harry H. Lipsig, whose affidavit asked the State Supreme Court:

"Can Sara's spinal modulations
"Be subject to West's regulations?
"For buxom Mae now makes the claim
"Of introducing sex to fame,
"That bumps and grinds were never known
"Till in her act they first were shown."

This, the attorney said, just wasn't so. His affidavit concluded:

"Bumps and grinds and flirty song
"All to antiquity belong,
"And sex was known to Eve and Adam
"And hips before Mae West e'er had 'em."

NPA Orders 15% Cut In Civilian Use Of Copper

Slash Jan. 1 To Hit Radio-TV Industry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—A 15 per cent cut in civilian use of copper and brass will go into effect New Year's day, along with a 35 per cent slash in aluminum consumption announced earlier.

The National Production Authority issued its copper control order today to conserve supplies for military production and the defense stockpile.

The curtailment will hit broad elements of civilian industry including the manufacturers of radio and television sets, automobiles, home electrical appliances, and other communications systems.

Further Slash Planned

Simultaneously NPA Administrator William H. Harrison disclosed he plans to issue, at some later date, orders banning or curtailing the use of copper in a variety of luxury and non-essential products, as well as in products where other metals may be substituted.

"Despite everything which can be done," Harrison said, "there is little likelihood that supply can be increased appreciably in the immediate months ahead."

Another crimp in the output of civilian goods is anticipated when controls are clamped on nickle and zinc. These cut-down orders also are expected to be effective January 1. Radio and television producers have predicated a 25 to 40 per cent drop below their current output rate in the first quarter of next year.

Cobalt Ration Halved

Today's order limits both production and use of brass and copper mill products in January and February to 85 per cent of average monthly output and consumption in the first half of 1950. The figure will drop to 80 per cent in March, as the production of radar, Signal Corps and other military equipment goes up.

Earlier in the day NPA established a 50 per cent ration on cobalt for civilian industry through December. This metal-hardening agent is used in radio and TV loudspeakers.

Grady, Truman To Confer

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Henry F. Grady, U. S. ambassador to Iran, arrived in New York today and left at once for Washington "to see the President and Secretary of State Acheson just as quickly as possible."

Grady said the consultations would concern loans to Iran and other matters of economic and military assistance.

No Guarantee War Not Near, Nation Is Told

Outlines Six-Point 'Strategy Of Peace'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson charged tonight that Communist aggression has put world peace in "unparalleled danger," and he said history shows the United States will fight if it must to preserve freedom and justice.

"No one can guarantee that war will not come," Acheson said in a crisis broadcast to the nation and the world. "The present crisis is extremely serious. Whether reason will prevail is only partly for us to decide. We must hope and strive for the best while we prepare for the worst."

Solemnly, Acheson called on the Chinese Communists to halt their "brazen aggression" in Korea.

"This is their hour of decision," he said. "The authorities of Communist China stand before the bar of the judgement of mankind. The world will watch their actions in Korea and at Lake Success. Will they represent their own interests or will they let themselves be the dupes of others?"

Has Confidence in U. N.

Acheson expressed confidence that the United Nations will not be intimidated by the responsibilities of acting to curb the Chinese Red attack.

He spoke as the Far Eastern crisis brought forecasts of a change in the draft law — to get more men into the armed forces — and as Congress heard that a completely new war plan will have to be crated.

In bare-knuckle phrases, Acheson linked the Chinese attack in Korea with the revolutionary Communist movement throughout the world.

He held out a long-range hope that "the rulers of the Soviet Union, confronted by a strong and confident free world, may be called to abandon their expansionist aims."

The Secretary of State outlined a six-point "strategy of peace" and urged that all Americans support

Three GOP Senators Say Acheson Trying To Oust MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Three Republican senators tonight accused Secretary of State Acheson of trying to oust Gen. Douglas MacArthur as commander of U. N. Forces in Korea.

The charge was made by GOP Sens. Wherry of Nebraska, the Senate Republican leader, Bricker of Ohio and McCarthey of Wisconsin.

They expressed their views to reporters in separate interviews when asked for comment on a speech by Acheson tonight.

Truman Pleads For Yugoslav Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — President Truman asked Congress today for swift approval of $38,000,000 in food aid to avert a winter famine in hard-pressed Yugoslavia.

In a special message, he pleaded for action at the current short session of Congress to "help preserve the independence of a nation which is defying the savage threats of the Soviet imperialists."

He said that Marshall Tito's country is under the most severe economic and military pressure from the Kremlin, and that it is clearly in this nation's interest to do everything possible to keep Soviet power out of one of Europe's most strategic areas.

Emergency aid which the President estimated at $30,000,000 already is under way, following Yugoslavia's formal appeal for assistance Oct. 20 as a result of the country's worst drought. But more is needed to tide the Yugoslavs over until the next harvest, Mr. Truman said.

He recalled that Yugoslavia broke away from Moscow's domination more than two years ago, and said it has demonstrated its determination to maintain its independence.

Significantly, he observed that Yugoslavia maintains the largest fighting force in Europe, outside of the Soviet Union.

Congress, Concerned Over War Threat, Drives Ahead With Home-Front Matters

Senate Group Okays Compromise 60-Day Rent Curb Extension; Tax Bill Snagged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Top administration officials reportedly sketched for Congress today one of the darkest pictures since early in World War II and warned that aside from the Korean crisis, trouble may erupt in Europe "next spring."

Throughout a tense day, key military and diplomatic figures appeared before committees on both sides of Capitol Hill and gave the lawmakers an up-to-the-minute analysis of events.

Gravely concerned as they were over the possible imminence of World War III, the legislators drove ahead on such home-front legislative matters as taxes, Alaska-Hawaii statehood and rent control.

In brief, this was the situation:

Filibuster Threatens

Statehood — After two days of shadow - boxing, some southern Democrats appeared bent on waging an all-out fight to defeat Senate passage of an Alaskan statehood bill.

Sen. Ellender (D-La) threatened a full-scale "filibuster speech" next week if statehood advocates win their fight to bring up the bill for action. Ellender once spoke for five days against an anti-lynching bill.

Rents—The Senate Banking Committee approved a compromise 60-day extension of federal rent controls beyond Dec. 31 when the present law expires. President Truman had asked a 90-day extension.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) said the compromise would be reported to the Senate tomorrow, ready for action early next week.

Sens. Bricker (R-Ohio) and Flanders (R VT) voted against the extension.

Profits Tax Hits Snag

Taxes—The administration's $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax formula hit another snag in the tax-drafting House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee, which deadlocked on the issue with a 12-to-12 vote yesterday, tentatively rejected the administration's proposal again today but failed to agree on a substitute.

The administration is seeking to slap a 75 per cent tax on all profit in excess of 75 per cent of the 1946-49 average.

As a substitute, Republicans are urging a higher corporate tax.

Faces Red: Key To Keys To City Lost

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—District of Columbia commissioners lost the key to the keys to the city yesterday.

Their embarrassing moment came when they prepared to present the symbolic keys to a group of Japanese officials studying city government.

They couldn't find the key that unlocked the cabinet of keys.

Big Steel Offer's Acceptance Seen

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP) — Industry leader United States Steel Corporation today offered the CIO United Steelworkers an undisclosed wage increase which Union President Philip Murray liked well enough to lay before the USW's powerful executive board in a secret session.

Neither Big Steel nor the union will discuss size of the offer but reports pegged it at about 18 cents an hour counting fringe benefits.

Murray — also head of the CIO — took the proposal before the executive board in an hour and a half session behind closed-doors which couldn't muffle the repeated rounds of prolonged clapping.

The wage offer will be presented to the union's wage-policy committee at 10 a.m. (EST) tomorrow.

Everything indicates acceptance. In past years Murray has submitted only offers he favors and the committee has never rejected them.

Red Armies In Position To Seize West Europe

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—Soviet armies stationed in East Germany are in a position to grip Europe by the throat.

Allied intelligence officers say there are six such armies, made up of 33 divisions—10 of them heavily armored.

They consider that, if the Kremlin sends these armies on the march in support of China, continental Western Europe is finished.

Car Blast Kills Man, Girl; Believed Murder-Suicide

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Police said tonight that James William Woodward, 25, Marshall, Va., and a girl identified as Mary Fay Combs, 17, Washington, were killed when an explosion wrecked an automobile in Southeast Washington.

Police Chief Robert J. Barrett and Chief of Detectives Robert V. Murray told reporters it apparently was a case of suicide and murder, caused by Woodward's jealousy.

The officers said they did not believe a bomb had been set up in the car but added "it could have been dynamite."

Inspector Murray said the girl had been going with Woodward for some time but for the last month had been "trying to break off" the affair.

He said he was told that Woodward called to see Miss Combs tonight after having failed to get to see her last night when he went to her home.

The girl agreed to go out to the car to talk with Woodward, Murray said, but left her coat and hat in the house. A few moments later an explosion shattered the car, driving Woodward's body into the seat and throwing the girl outside on the street.

M'Arthur Target Of Angry Attacks In West Europe

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Angry outbursts against Gen. Douglas MacArthur tonight marked the reaction in war-weary Western Europe to Korean setbacks. There was talk in official French circles of informally suggesting his replacement as U. N. supreme commander.

Many newspapers and anonymous political critics protested MacArthur acted too hastily in launching his "end-the-war" drive last Friday. They said he should have waited until British and French suggestions for a buffer state on the Korean-Manchurian border had been worked out.

Bevin Defends General

One informed source here declared MacArthur's decision to launch the offensive was against the advice of both the French and British diplomatic missions in Tokyo.

Although some British newspapers—both leftist and conservative—attacked MacArthur, the U. N. commander was defended by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in the House of Commons.

"There has, I think, been some misunderstanding about the status of the commander of U. N. forces in Korea and about the instructions issued to him," Bevin said. "I wish to assure the house that all the objectives of Gen. MacArthur are no more and no less than the objectives of the United Nations.

Consultation On Policy

"It has been necessary to leave control of operations very much in the hands of the United Nations commander, provided always that where his plans might involve questions of general policy there must be proper consultation on such matters. I assure the house that this is, in fact, what has happened."

A French spokesman said his government felt MacArthur had launched his offensive in order to wreck negotiations by France and Britain for a settlement of the frontier issue with the Chinese Communists. The Chinese Communist counteroffensive followed.

It was reported here MacArthur ignored the advice of the British and French diplomats with a statement that, once the U. N. forces were on the Yalu river, separating Manchuria and Korea, the Chinese would negotiate peacefully.

Allied Forces Fighting Hard To Avoid Trap

Two U. S. Divisions Across Chongchon

U. S. TENTH CORPS HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 30 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond said today elements of three Chinese armies — as many as 80,000 men — have "suddenly confronted" United Nations forces in Northeast Korea.

One of Almond's forces already is at the Manchurian border. Others have been racing up the east coast within 50 miles of the Siberian frontier.

In Northeast Korea, Chinese Reds blocked the supply route for U. S. Seventh Division and First Marine Division troops fighting in the Changjin reservoir area. Elements of two Seventh Division regiments were cut off.

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 30 (AP)—Resistance stiffened today against Chinese Communist hordes trying to swing in behind the 100,000-man United Nations army in Northwest Korea and trap it.

Reports to the U. S. Eighth Army today indicated Communist pressure has eased sharply.

Americans, Turks and British, defending an arc at the crushed east flank of the U. N. line, fought hard to protect three U. S. divisions and one South Korean division retreating southward across the Chongchon river.

The U. S. 24th and Second Divisions, at the west and east ends of the line, were reported across.

Near the center of the line, the U. S. 25th division reported it was continuing an "orderly withdrawal under pressure." The Republic of Korea (ROK) First Division, on the 25th's east flank, also still was making crossings.

Reds' Action Speculated

The Eighth Army's immediate objective was to hold an arc running from Kunu east to Kaechon and southeast to Sinchang. This would protect completion of the river crossing by the U. S. 25th and the ROK First.

Red pressure was reported easing against all three points of the arc. It was not clear at Eighth Army headquarters whether Kunu still was in U. N. hands. Kunu, on the south bank of the river, is only 17 miles from Sinanju of the west coast.

The Communists, bringing out tanks in support, poured unchecked down the gaping hole blasted four days ago near Tokchon through three South Korean divisions. But they were meeting increased resistance in an entrapment move to swing west and pin the U. N. forces against the Yellow sea.

The sudden diminishing of the Communist pressure after steady attacks since Saturday night caused an Eighth Army officer to say "I don't know what it means."

There was immediate speculation (1) the Reds had raced beyond communications or (2) had been ordered to slow their counter-offensive as the result of diplomatic discussions. It also was possible the Reds were slowing up to organize for renewal of their push.

2nd Crosses Chongchon

The U. S. Second Division pulled back across the Chongchon in the Kunu sector and reported reduced Chinese pressure.

The division sent one regiment five miles southeast to aid the hard-fighting Turkish brigade near Kaechon. The regiment was heavily hammered in a battle with Chinese in more than division strength. Two American battalions were reported overrun.

The Turks had cut their way out of a trap to the north near Wawon, bayonetting 200 Chinese. Today the brigade's main force was reported pulling back south from Kaechon.

Units of the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade were in blocking positions southeast of Kunu and

Cost Of Living Hits New High

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — The cost of living index pulsed to a new record high today, bringing automatic pay increases to nearly a million workers whose contracts are linked to the rise and fall of the monthly price indicator.

General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. immediately announced that as a result of the index climb and a negotiated adjustment in the index to make allowance for higher rents, their half-million hourly rated employes will receive an increase of three cents an hour. Another 100,000 salaried workers will get allowances of $15 or $15.75 at the end of the next business quarter.

New Snow Falls In Storm Areas

[By The Associated Press]

Traffic jams and more snow caused fresh trouble in parts of the broad snow belt yesterday and Florida shivered in its chilliest November in almost 40 years.

A new snowfall began across Pennsylvania. Southwestern Virginia was pelted with up to four inches of snow. "Rather heavy" snow squalls were forecast for Northern Ohio.

The task of removing from one to three feet of last weekend's snow ran into complications in some cities.

Pittsburgh police threw a blockade around the downtown district to keep out all motorists except those on emergency errands. Too many automobiles were trying to get into the area. They threatened to tie up transportation and hampered snow removal.

Thousands of cars caused huge traffic jams on Cleveland's snow-clogged streets despite pleas by Mayor Thomas A. Burke that driving be restricted to essential drivers.

1—A member of the Senate Armed Services Committee said it appears certain Congress will be asked to change the draft law to get more men into uniform. He did not say what changes are being considered. Only men aged 19 to 36 now are being drafted.

2—Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the same committee said a whole new war plan must be developed as a result of the Chinese Red attack. He indicated to reporters that such a plan already is being worked out.

Dog's Tail Caught In Washer Motor

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 29 (AP)—The police emergency squad, which thought it had heard everything, today got this assignment: Release dog caught in washing machine.

The squad hurried to the home of Mrs. Caroline Reynolds. There they found that a pet Pekinese had been released by her husband, Joseph.

It seems the dog's tail was caught in the motor.

Sell Fertilizer, Bury Sales Tax

SHADY SIDE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — Alexander W. Andrews, who once defied all comers to prove there's really a devil, now has an idea for selling fertilizer.

Native Maryland fertilizer would enable the state to plow under its sales tax in five years, Andrews said today.

"The potential possibilities would stagger the imagination," he added.

Maryland could sell the mixture of Chesapeake mud and ordinary sand he's developed, Andrews suggested. Result: Enough income to abolish the sales tax and employ thousands of people.

Andrews said he already has passed along the idea to Governor-elect Theodore R. McKeldin. Andrews was an unsuccessful candidate for Anne Arundel county commissioner on the McKeldin-led Republican ticket this month.

Andrews, 66, is a former Sunday school teacher who two years ago engaged in a no-decision radio debate with clergymen over existence of a devil.

Nationalist China's Offer "Still Stands"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ambassador Wellington Koo said today Nationalist China's offer of 33,000 troops to the United Nations for the Korean fighting "still stands."

Koo made that statement to reporters at the State Department after a conference wih Assistant Secretary Dean Rusk on the Korean crisis.

He said the offer of Nationalist troops wasn't pressed at the meeting with Rusk.

Chinese pouring through the Tokchon gap were trying to roll in a deep flanking drive south of Kaeson down the road from Pukchang toward Sunchon. The U. N. supply base of Sunchon is within 30 miles of Pyongyang.

U. S. First Cavalry Division elements were hit before midnight last night near Kujon, 16 miles east of Sunchon. Under Chinese pressure, the Americans fell back four miles and then stood at new blocking positions near Sinchang.

The Chinese made a penetration into American forces at Kujong but counterattacks restored the position.

Woman Leaps To Her Death At Grafton

GRAFTON, W. Va., Nov. 29 (AP)—A woman leaped from a bridge to her death in the Tygart river here today and some witnesses said a man jumped with her.

The woman's body was recovered from the icy water about a quarter of a mile downstream, but there was no trace of another. The woman has not been identified.

Seymor Workman, a city employe, was one of those who said he saw a man and woman jump together about noon. Others agreed with this version but some witnesses said they saw only one person.

Chinatown's Youth Fights Beside GIs

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Chinatown is sending its youth to fight side by side with the GIs battling the Chinese Communists and "you can depend on that."

This was the word today from Shavey Lee, "mayor" and spokesman of New York City's 30,000 Chinese.

It was his reply to a question as to how family ties in China might pull against loyalty to the United States now that Red Chinese and Americans are locked in combat in Korea.

Malik Denounces U. S.

After Austin spoke, Jacob A. Malik launched into a Russian attack of more than an hour on the U. S. role in the Far East. He said Turkish and Philippine forces fighting in the U. N. army in Korea are vassals of the U. S.

Malik contended Gen. MacArthur had committed atrocities "going way beyond Lidice," a reference to the Czechoslovak town wiped out by the Nazis in retaliation for Czech resistance.

T. F. Tsiang, Nationalist China, replying to Wu's charges of yesterday, said everyone knows there are no American military forces or bases on the island of Formosa. He asserted it is fantastic for the Chinese Communists to say Korea is used by U. S. for aggression.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I says to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she laughs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it wasn't!

From where I sit, I'd been letting a little thing become a serious problem. Like some little difference of opinion or taste will start off a great big argument. I may prefer a temperate glass of beer with my dinner—while the missus likes tea—but we figure that no two people have exactly the same likes and dislikes. So, why get all "het up" about it?

The moral is, check your suspenders—and check your temper when it comes to little things.

Language Barrier

Few differences build so difficult a wall between persons as does the lack of a common language. Affirmations of good will may die on the lips when it is realized that they may be met with blank looks.

This is a fact to be reckoned with in our work in Germany. A speaker at a recent foreign language conference in New York pointed out that if we are to re-orient the Germans thoroughly and to gain their esteem, we must send representatives who can speak German fluently. More emphasis, he said, must be placed on the study of French, German, Italian, Spanish and Russian in our schools.

Experts who are in actual daily contact with the people of other nations argue, too, that too much teaching emphasis may be placed on grammar and on the background literature of a foreign language, and not enough on the colloquial use of the tongue. A knowledge of the literature of a foreign country is of value, but the nuances, the intonations and even the slang which characterize the everyday use of a language are equally if not more important to those who will use it for personal contact. The very fact that the visitor has gone to the trouble of learning to communicate with him in his own tongue is heart-warming to the citizen of another country.

After a long study it has been announced in England that 2,500 different species of birds have been known to use bits of paper to build their nests. Under socialism there is no limit to what may be learned.

Say It With Turtles

A collection agency, perhaps fresh from reading "White Collar Zoo," is trying a new stunt. As a gentle hint to slowpayers, it mails them live turtles. The New York Journal of Commerce, reporting the incident and viewing it with alarm, foresees the day when a confirmed bad debtor will open an envelope and discover a black widow spider. But the Journal seems unduly worried. Deadbeats don't open letters from collection agencies.

The usual collection agency technique is to start mildly with a letter saying, "No doubt you have overlooked . . . appreciate your early attention . . ." and then proceed by stages to a bare-knuckled missive containing such expressions as ". . . last warning . . . within 48 hours . . . or else." But they could say it all with turtles.

The first turtle, no doubt, is one of those itsy-bitsy dime store jobs, perhaps with a spray of forget-me-nots painted on its shell. Some agencies might even start with a snail. The follow-up turtles would be progressively larger, naturally. If the delinquent still tried to dodge his debts, he would eventually get a big, bad-tempered snapping turtle that would put his dodging ability to a real test.

But the technique needn't be monopolized by collection agencies. If the say-it-with-animals device becomes popular, some acid-tongued ladies are going to find the postman bringing them cats. A letter saying, "I know you'll try to wriggle out of it, you slippery . . ." would be replaced by a live eel. Americans wishing to express themselves to Stalin would have a choice ranging from rats through snakes to skunks.

Where Does It Begin?

Everybody subscribes to the principle that Congress should begin its attack on the problem of financing rearmament by cutting non-military expenditures to the bone. The difficulty is to decide just where the bone begins—that is, just where saving money would do damage to the basic structure of the nation. Whether Congress will ever have to decide this question is debatable.

The United States Chamber of Commerce is convinced the $6,000,000,000 cut it advocates is not too much of a good thing. But that opinion will get little support from the spenders. They will regard it as an extreme proposal, neither attractive nor practical.

But it should be possible to lop $6,000,000,000 off a budget that grew from $3,000,000,000 to $43,000,000,000 in less than 20 years. Certainly many of the "services" for which this money is spent can be dispensed with.

Instead of advocating too drastic a cut, the Chamber of Commerce leaned toward expediency in making its suggestion. It probably realized that Congress won't make any cut at all, but will content itself with piling tax upon tax.

Honoring Marriage

In these days of divorce and broken homes special attention should be called to a recent gala day in Parsons, Kans., in which the community turned out to honor three couples who were observing their 60th wedding anniversaries. A crowd so large it filled the sanctuary to one of the leading churches attended a reception arranged by a woman's society.

Asked to give their rules for long and happy married lives, all agreed understanding and consideration for each other was most vital. Life was more simple when they were wed, and there wasn't so much to worry about. "Those who get married with the intention of living together and making it a 50-year job will have no trouble," declared one of the women

Those who exalt marriage, who take its vows seriously, have found the real joy to be had in society's greatest institution, which still remains the hope of the world.

Blame The President

Charges are multiplying daily that the nation's deplorable international situation is attributable to the fact this nation's foreign policy has not been evolved by both major political parties.

While there has been much talk of a bipartisan program, President Truman has all but ignored the opposition party. Bipartisanship has consisted of Truman, Acheson et al deciding the policy and then permitting the Republicans to support it.

Secretary of State Acheson continues to be the object of criticism and demands mount that the nation's entire foreign policy be brought into the open and re-examined.

As the matter stands, the United States is deeply involved in war in Asia and the administration is trying appeasement of Red China.

Immunization For Travelers

TRANSPORTATION plays a role in the spread of disease and more than one epidemic has been traced to travelers. The airplane has accentuated this problem because many parts of the world are now within a distance of 24 hours. This is in marked contrast to the oxcart era when it took so long to go from one city to another the victim was either well or dead by the time his destination was reached.

A traveler may sneeze on entering a plane in Chicago and land in London with a fullblown cold. There he is in a position to pass the infection to every one with whom he comes into contact. A plane that lands in New York on Tuesday may have been in the midst of a smallpox epidemic in India the previous Sunday. There is no limit on speculation along this line. Our public health officials are aware of these hazards and certain international and local regulations have been set up to protect all concerned. This explains why tourists are asked to show proof of inoculation against smallpox, typhus, yellow fever, and cholera. The rules vary and it is wise to study the requirements of each country whenever a trip is contemplated.

Smallpox vaccination, for example, is essential before entering any foreign land as well as before returning to the United States. On the other hand, when sailing or flying to England, immunization against yellow fever is not necessary but visitors to certain areas in South America and Asia need to take these "shots." Cholera inoculations are a must before journeying to the near east and Asia. Typhus is rife in many sections of the world and protection is called for should such countries be on the itinerary. Typhoid and paratyphoid injections are not compulsory but are advised frequently before going abroad.

To facilitate health protection an international certificate of inoculation and vaccination has been printed and the blanks usually are issued to a prospective traveler by the state department with his passport. The information as to what immunizations are required before visiting each country also can be obtained from the local or state health officer or the travel agency. Unfortunately, government regulations are prone to change overnight and it is advisable to recheck with the health department before starting on an extended tour. The international certificate avoids most of this bother because it is all inclusive and will be accepted without question.

• — • — •

Vaccination against smallpox should be done at least 14 days prior to leaving home and, once done, is valid for three years. Cholera inoculations are started 14 to 20 days prior to departure. Two or three separate injections are given seven to 10 days apart and booster doses are needed at four to six month intervals to maintain immunity. The international certificate is acceptable for only six months from the date of the last cholera injection. Typhus preventive measures are similar to those of cholera except that the certificate is good for a year from the date of the last injection. A single injection against yellow fever is given at least 10 days before leaving the country and is valid for four years.

TOMORROW: Childbearing at the end of the reproductive period.

M. B. writes: At the least little breeze, my neck becomes stiff and painful. What is the cause?

REPLY

This is common after the neck has been injured or when the muscles and fibrous tissue are susceptible to muscular rheumatism (fibrositis). Keeping the parts covered or applying heat after chilling will help.

UNPLEASANT TABLE TALK

Mrs. M. writes: Is it harmful to have continual unpleasant conversation and emotional turmoil while eating? My 65 year old mother is in excellent health but we never sit down to the table for a meal without her bringing up some family quarrel or grudge. This causes the younger members of the family to become upset and excited. If we remain silent she is even worse in her denunciations. Yet she never has indigestion like the rest of us.

REPLY

Yes—the more pleasant the mealtime the better the digestion. Your mother shoud stop this practice; it may mean that you and the other members of the family will have to refuse to eat with her unless she promises to do so. She probably does not have indigestion because she is able to air her grievances while the rest of you are smoldering. In this respect she is justified in discussing her problems but there is a time and place for everything and the table is no place for arguments of this nature.

The losses incurred last year by Britain's nationalized railroads, docks and canals, totaling $58,000,000, were more than four times the $13.2 million deficit reported in 1948.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It was all hushed up, but one day last week practically every top military man in Washington was anxiously scanning the sky in anticipation of an enemy air raid on the nation's capital.

Reason for their concern was a cable from India which read: "Alert all U. S. cities they are due to be bombed within the next twenty-four hours."

Astonished clerks at the message center immediately made a dozen copies — on message center forms —and shot them out to the key offices. The cryptic message, on official stationery, had all the appearances of being an official warning, and remembering how Washington was caught asleep during Pearl Harbor, word of the impending attack was flashed from the Pentagon to every key office throughout the city — including the White House.

Uniformed couriers sped the message to the National Security Council, a sergeant raced into Defense Secretary Marshall's office, the Central Intelligence Agency was alerted, Pentagon stenographers hearing the news made frantic phone calls to advise their friends and relatives. Tension was mounting to the breaking point.

Then the bubble burst amid a sea of very red faces.

A few calm officers decided to check the name signed to the cable from India. They discovered that the signer wasn't employed by the State department, wasn't a CIA agent, wasn't in Army, Navy or Air Intelligence. In fact, he wasn't a U. S. Government employe of any kind.

He was, they learned, an American tourist stopping off in India. Examination of the original cable revealed it had been sent on November 23.

One officer glanced at a calendar. "November 23 was Thanksgiving Day?" he said. Then he queried, "What are some Americans apt to do if they're in India on Thanksgiving Day?"

"Get drunk," was the reply.

The assembled officers nodded in agreement. Washington was saved.

Soviet Secret Weapons

American ordnance officers are popeyed at Soviet weapons, captured in Korea. They are so amazed that they are hastily revising their estimates of Russian military might and are convinced that the United States has been underestimating Russian strength by as much as 50 per cent.

A preliminary survey indicates that Russia sent nearly two billion dollars worth of military aid to North Korea, which is more than the total American deliveries to all North Atlantic Pact countries combined. And this does not include planes and ships which the Russians did not supply to North Korea in quantity.

Furthermore, markings on the equipment have ben traced to Russian factories that U. S. Intelligence thought were producing civilian goods. These captured weapons are now being tested and evaluated at the Aberdeen, Md., Ordnance Center.

The most effective weapons captured from the North Koreans are heavy mortars and burp guns, which laid down the most terrific firepower that the American army has ever faced.

For example, the captured Russian 120-MM. trench mortar is heavier than the comparable 4-2-inch U. S. mortar; also fires 1,600 yards farther. In addition, the North Koreans used a mortar even heavier than the 120-MM., which the Army has not yet evaluated.

The Russian burp gun has a drum-type magazine and fires at a terrifically rapid rate. Most of these were inscribed with 1950 manufacturing markings, thus refuting the Soviet claim that they had shipped no arms to North Korea since 1945.

Soviet Jeep

Probably the most fascinating captured equipment is the Russian jeep. This is slightly larger and more comfortable than the U. S. model, is equipped with softer seats, double springs and better shock absorbers. However, its vital parts are still modeled after the outmoded A and B types, made by Ford.

Several BA-64 light-armored cars were also captured. However, they are distinctly inferior to the American M-8 in maneuverability, firepower and defense against small arms.

Most captured Soviet rifles are modeled after the U. S. Springfield 1903. They weigh 10 pounds, use five-round clips and fire at a slower rate than modern U. S. rifles.

However, a novel, hand-shoulder antitank gun was captured that is easy to maneuver and can pierce armor up to two and one-half inches. The Russian-made Goryunov machine gun can also be used against aircraft by reversing the gun and elevating the tail. Its effective range is 900 yards but it is difficult to carry and load. The North Koreans also used an SU-76 self-propelled gun, mounted on a T-34 tank, which was effective until the U. S. Pershing and Patton tanks showed up and outshot it.

Lady Judges

India Edwards, the shrewd and dynamic woman's Jim Farley, believes female judges will bring a needed dose of common sense to justice. That is back of her campaign to get more of her sex on the federal judiciary.

Mrs. Edwards, who is woman's director of the Democratic National Committee, boldly told President Truman: "It's a disgrace there aren't more women on the bench. Why, women make wonderful judges. They are fair, interested in justice, and have lots more common sense than men."

Few people realize it, but Mrs. Edwards, with the help of Harry Truman, has smashed the men-only rule in federal court appointments. Some of the topflight women lawyers brought to the bench by India Edwards' drive are:

Judge Burnita Shelton Matthews, U. S. District Court, Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Matthews, a native of Mississippi and a distinguished woman jurist, is ex-president of the National Association of Women Lawyers and author of the 1927 law allowing women to serve on D. C. juries.

Judge Edith H. Cockrill, D. C. Juvenile Court—Former OPA attorney and specialist in domestic relations.

Judge Marion Harron of the U.S. Tax Court—Her reappointment was pushed through the administration and Senate against the American Bar Association by Mrs. Edwards. The bar association disapproved of a woman in that postiion.

India Edwards has her eye on the Supreme Court, and only lost out by an eyelash when Justice Sherman Minton was appointed. Her choice was Ohio's Florence Allen, judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals. She recounts: "I think we would have won, if it hadn't been for certain justices who are old fashioned in their views about women."

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

More Babies, More Wolves

WASHINGTON

AFTER his customary initial reaction of rather cocky defiance, President Truman seems to have settled glumly down to face the post-election facts. At least this is the natural inference from a reliable report that the President will no longer press for the two great, symbolic measures of the Fair Deal, the Brannan Farm Plan and the Ewing Health Plan.

If Truman had not himself announced that he would continue to fight for his entire Fair Deal program, without abating one jot or one tittle, the abandonment of the Brannan and Ewing plans would have no great meaning. After all, they proved to be such obvious political poison that even the most ardent and official Fair Deal Senatorial candidates, like Lucas in Illinois, Loveland in Iowa, and Campbell in Indiana, had declared against them before election day. Thus no one needs to worry whether the Brannan and Ewing plans will be enacted.

The President's decision not to press for these plans is vitally important, none-the-less, for the curious reason that it bears directly on the future of American foreign and domestic policy.

Three-Element Majority

In brief, there is only one way for the President to save his foreign and defense program, and this is to upset the new balance in Congress established by the November 7 voting. And this is so, in turn, because Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio now commands a potential majority of the Senate which, if solidified, he can use to cut the American foreign and defense policy to ribbons.

This potential Taft majority is composed of three elements. First, there are the habitually isolationist, right-wing Republicans, whose representation in the Senate has been heavily increased by the victories of such men as Welcker of Idaho. Second, there are the relatively moderate Republicans like Hickenlooper of Iowa, who will now tend to follow Taft because they think his political line has been proved good medicine at the polls. Third, there are the Southern Democrats, who will also tend to follow Taft because they are innately conservative and hate Truman more and more with every passing day.

In tackling this formidable array of enemies, sworn and potential, Truman can ignore the isolationist, right-wing Republicans. Nothing can be done with them. But much can still be done with the Republican moderates, if Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson is sacrificed, and another man like former ECA chief Paul Hoffman is named Secretary of State.

As to the Southern Democrats, nothing much can be done with the two or three like Sen. Harry F. Byrd, who actually went to Ohio during the campaign to proclaim his affection and admiration for Sen. Taft. But much can certainly be done with the Southern rank and file if the President is also willing to sacrifice the items on the Fair Deal program the Southerners dislike the most.

Must Do The Expedient

Unfortunately, however, the sacrifice of the Brannan and Ewing plans is a mere hors d'oeuvres, a mere commencement of the oblation, in the view of these Southerners. What they really want is to see Truman sacrifice most of his civil rights measures. Such leaders as the two influential Georgia senators, Walter George and Richard Russell, have sworn they will be satisfied with nothing less.

Dropping Acheson and putting civil rights temporarily on the shelf will produce a changed Congressional situation, in which enough of our foreign and defense policy can survive so that this nation can survive. It may be very unfortunate; in the case of Acheson, it is surely grossly unjust, that the babies should have to be thrown to the wolves in this manner. But the important thing now, as suggested in the last report in this space, is to get the sleigh out of the woods. The practical facts of the Congressional situation in effect demand that the President should forget what is distasteful, or unpleasant, or even by most tests wrong, and proceed to do what is expedient.

Luckily there are a good many men around Truman, and among these several of the most ordinarily ardent Fair Dealers, who see the problem in precisely this light. Ex-

Impending Decisions Can Affect Destiny Of World

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 — Firmness without bluster, a willingness to discuss and negotiate a peaceful settlement but a readiness to accept the consequences even though they mean war — this about sums up the over-all thinking of the government. It will be reflected in policy decisions here and before the United Nations in the next three days, which, it is conceded on all sides, may present America with grave decisions that can affect the destiny of the free world for a long time to come.

The sad fact which is basic is that America is unprepared to fight a war in both Asia and Europe. Hence a withdrawal from Asia could be forced as a military necessity if large-scale war breaks out in Europe.

If, on the other hand, Russia does not want to precipitate large-scale war and is ready for a settlement in the Far East, a patched-up peace is in prospect. Appeasement may win again as it did in Munich in 1938 — but primarily to gain time, to get America prepared in a military way for the eventual conflict which, in the event of an American withdrawal from Asia, would then become inevitable.

Allies Tragically Weak

The next and most important fact of a basic nature in the dilemma is the little-realized but tragic weakness of our allies. They do not have the military power organized to fight in Europe or in Asia.

Britain is involved militarily in Malaya. France is bogged down in Indo-China. Germany is not rearmed. Italy is weak. The Red armies could march across Europe and sweep triumphantly into the strategic capitals of the continent.

All this means simply that the billions which have been spent by America for a system of defense in the free world now are dependent solely for their effectiveness on the use of the atom bomb. Russia, it is assumed, has some bombs but not as many as the United States possesses.

If America will not use the atom bomb, Russia will have a free hand.

Demands are arising that the United States use the atom bomb in the Far East to defend American troops against further attacks by the Chinese Communists. The same Congress which permitted our defense strategy to be built around the bomb is now hearing cries that the atom bomb should be dropped on strategic targets. Some senators are saying, as did Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrat, that an ultimatum should be sent to Soviet Russia demanding that Moscow withdraw the Chinese Communist armies — her puppets — from Korea.

The passage by the U. N. of a resolution declaring either Russia or Communist China or both to be aggressors depends entirely on what the U. N. members will do to back up such a resolution. If, for example, the United States hasn't the power, without the atom bomb, to fight back at the Chinese or the Russians in the Far East, then it will be of little avail for the U. N. to get tough with anybody.

The whole affair may be shocking but, just as Munich shocked the British and taught them that they were buying time by appeasement, so it will be argued now that appeasement is a military necessity.

Drift Is Toward Retreat

The drift is toward retreat in our foreign policy for the simple reason that, while we were equipped to defeat the North Koreans, we do not have enough manpower to fight the Chinese Communists and their Russian allies in Siberia.

If the Chinese Communists insist on forcing us out of Korea altogether, it seems likely that we would then actively aid the Chinese Nationalists to get their 300,000 troops to the mainland. America would supply them with munitions and give them air and sea support in and around Formosa. The fact that President Truman's order last June forbade the Nationalists to attack the Chinese mainland has, curiously enough, worked out to enable the Communists to transfer their own forces to Korea without fear of attack in their rear. This situation may be revised at any moment now if a negotiated peace fails.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Lowenthal's Memory

MOST of my colleagues have written about Max Lowenthal's book on J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI. Apparently, they have read the book, but I must plead that I had other business on hand.

Anybody can be negative about such a job as J. Edgar Hoover does. Did Hoover catch the fellows who stole the ballot boxes in the Kansas City, Missouri election? No! He did not. Was Harry Truman in Kansas City when the safe containing the ballot boxes was blown up? Yes, he was there. So!

That kind of argument can lead to nothing. A police department is to be judged by its general record, by the honesty and efficiency of its employes, and by its own adherence to the law.

The most provable criticism of the FBI is that while it collected evidence to convict spies, traitors, Communists and their fellow-travelers, its accomplishments in this field have, on the whole, been unsatisfactory because on orders from the State Department and the Department of Justice, spies were not to be arrested. In the evidence of Larry Kerley before the McCarran committee, the evidence shows that the FBI had Arthur Alexandrovich Adams, one of the worst spies Soviet Russia ever sent to this country, but the State Department safeguarded him from arrest.

In 1917, Lowenthal went on a secret foreign mission. This is what he says on the subject:

"It was a confidential mission that I don't care to go into. It was only for a short time, and I never discuss that kind of government work with anybody."

You would imagine that in 1917 this secret mission was so terrific that it could only have been to Lenin or Trotzky or somebody ilke that, although I was in Petrograd in those days and do not recall Lowenthall, whose mission must have been too important even for history.

Max Lowenthal has held innumerable jobs with various branches of the government from 1912 almost up to date. Some of them were of this character, to use his own words:

"In 1942 or 1943 there was some kind of problem, it is not quite clear in my mind; There was a war commission, I don't remember its name; it was headed by Mr. McNutt.

"MR. WHEELER. Paul McNutt?

"MR. LOWENTHAL. Yes, Paul McNutt. I was sworn to assist them for a very temporary period on something or other, trying to straighten out some difficulties among some men who were not part of the Government.

"Mr. Chairman, I wouldn't remember these things too definitely, and anything any records would show that would correct me, I would accept those corrections.

"Toward the end of 1943 or early 1944 I left that work. During all that period and since that period I have been consulted informally by various people in the government, but so far as I can recollect at this moment, I don't think ever in any official capacity. There might be some, and I would be very glad to have those noted for the record."

It is a little difficult to believe that Mr. Lowenthal cannot remember what he did for Paul McNutt. It was not so long ago nor could it have been very important. Mr. Lowenthal's lapse of memory at this point is, to say the least, fascinating.

Mr. Lowenthal was asked who had recommended him for employment by the War department. This is his reply:

"I couldn't say for certain. I was asked by a group of organizations whether I would permit my name to be submitted for recommendation by General Clay, and I agreed . . ."

What are those organizations? He must know, but he does not say. No names of organizations. No names of individuals. It all hangs in the vacuum of secrecy and mystery.

Some of the pages of this hearing would interest a psychologist, who might write a Ph.D. thesis about them. Here is a man who started his career as secretary to Judge Julian Mack, a jurist of distinction who would not take on a dope. He goes through years of government service and is associated with Senator Burton K. Wheeler of the Interstate Commerce of the Senate. Wheeler is an extraordinarily shrewd man. He would not hire a forgetful Jane. Yet, time after time, Mr. Lowenthal cannot remember dates, names, facts which no ordinary man could forget.

It is difficult to help wondering how a man, who forgets so much so easily, could remember so much about the FBI.

District Deer Plentiful, Season Opens December 4

Garrett, Allegany and Washington Counties abound in deer this year, providing plenty of targets for nimrods when the season opens December 4.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, predicted a larger deer kill for Allegany county during the season which ends December 9. He said the game supply throughout the district will be as good if not better than last year.

Minke expects that last year's bag of 177 deer in Allegany will be exceeded. He said that Garrett county's 1949 total of 493 should be equalled and predicted the same for Washington county which reported 98.

Eleven checking stations will be in operation in the three counties, Minke said. A new station is being established in Washington county at Athony Ankeney's Store at Clear Spring, 12 miles west of Hagerstown. The other station in the same county is Powers' Service Station near the bridge at Hancock.

Minke said he is investigating the report that two does were killed Tuesday just accross the Maryland line in Garrett County by Pennsylvania hunters. Pennsylvania has had open season on antlerless deer the past two days except in 14 Counties and opens its season on bucks or deer with two or more points to the antler today.

Nearby Bedford County was closed for antlerless deer.

All Counties were opened yesterday morning at 7 for the regular deer season in Pennsylvania. Shooting hours are from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. The state has relaxed its party hunting regulation. Every hunter may take a deer regardless of the number hunting together.

Former Nurse Head Accepts New Position

Former director of nurses at Memorial Hospital, Miss Frances L. Loftus, R. N., will serve in the same capacity at Wilmington, Del., General Hospital, effective December 5.

She was succeeded here last June by Miss Joan Wilson, R.N., New York, who came to Cumberland from New London, Conn.

Miss Loftus' appointment was announced today by Benjamin W. Wright, director of Wilmington Hospital and former superintendent of Memorial Hospital here, after he reported the resignation of Miss Jane K. Smith, R.N.

LaVale Group Sets Program For Missions

The Woman's Missionary Society of the LaVale Baptist Church appointed hostesses for the Week of Prayer and named Mrs. John Barncord Literature chairman for 1951, at the meeting Tuesday at the church.

Mrs. John Coleman, Program chairman, announced the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions program will be held December 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8. Hostesses for the various groups will be Mrs. Stanley Bane, Allegany Grove section; Mrs. John Lewis, Winchester Road; Mrs. Barncord, Vocke Drive; Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Arthur Christner, LaVale sections. Each group will choose its leader.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. John Lewis and Mrs. David Lauder conducted the business sessions. Members answered roll call with a verse of Scripture.

A stewardship program was planned for the evening service December 24 Mrs. Donald McGill announced. Mrs. Fred Gates read a letter from the Baptist Children's Aid Society asking for donations of used toys and clothing.

The program for the evening was entitled "Wings for Speeding the Light." Taking part were Miss Dora Lewis, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Barncord and Mrs. Lauder. Mrs. John Lewis reviewed several chapters of the book, "So this Is Africa," by Miss Susan Anderson, a missionary to Africa.

Mrs. William Kauffman was hostess for the meeting. Visitors were Rev. Clifford Frith and Mrs. Vintner Kauffman and assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

The next meeting is to be December 19 and will be at the home of Mrs. Bane.

Others present were Mrs. Joseph Snow, Mrs. Frank Byer, Mrs. George Berl and Mrs. Harvey Hurr.

WSCS To Send Gifts To Church Servicemen

The Pleasant Grove WSCS voted to send Christmas gifts to members of the church serving in the armed forces. The committee to send the boxes consists of Mrs. Sarabelle Weatherholt and Mrs. Nellie Charlton. They were appointed by Mrs. Amanda Wilson at the meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Pleasant Messick, Baltimore Pike.

A Christmas party with revealing of secret sisters will be held at the December meeting at the home of Mrs. Mabel Schwab, Mt. Pleasant Road. Mrs. Hazel Luttrell conducted devotionals. There was group singing and a skit presented by Mrs. Luttrell and Mrs. Bernadette Hinkle. Mrs. Wilson offered the closing prayer.

Refreshments were served. Others attending were Mrs. Jessie Wilson, Mrs. Barbara Garland, Mrs. Thelma Chambers and Mrs. Howard Messick.

Full Master Point Night To Be Dec. 1

The Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club will hold its monthly Full Master Point Night, tomorrow evening at the Cumberland Country Club.

All members of the Country Club are invited to play Albert Heacox, president, said last night. Games are to begin at 8:15 p. m. Regardless of whether players belong to the Duplicates Club or have attended any of the regular Thursday night sessions, they can play in tomorrow night's session and be able to qualify for a Full Master Point, Mr. Heacox explains.

Members of the Duplicate Club who do not have any transportation to the Country Club are urged to be at the Fort Cumberland Hotel entrance at 7:45 and those who have cars are asked to stop at the hotel to take care of the transportation.

Anyone caring to have dinner at the club are asked to call 184 for reservations.

District Group Meets

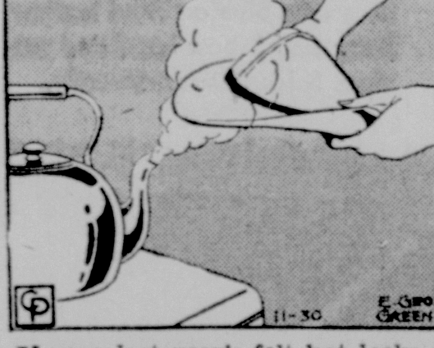
Taking part in the program were Jane Widdows, Vera Clark, Gerald Matlick, Mary Alice Travis, Alma Lauder and Mrs. Earl Gross. Gilbert Storey showed the pictures and Rev. Karl Kauffman, Frostburg, led the recreation. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Randolph Keefe.

Chapter Has Program

A program on home decorations was given by Miss Margaret Connell at the meeting of Alpha Alpha chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, held recently at the home of Miss Thurlene Cassell, Ridgeley. Mrs. Jeanne Fradiska presided.

Announcement was made of the Christmas party to be held December 19 when jingles will be exchanged. Mrs. Juanita Mullan is to be hostess for the December 5 meeting at her home, 609 Piedmont Avenue.

WIFE PRESERVERS



If your last year's felt hat looks a trifle soiled or limp, brush the felt with a small rubber sponge, which you can buy in any dime store. Then hold the hat over the spout of a steaming teakettle.

Mrs. Gurley Heads Class, Party Planned

The Emmanuel Bible Class of Kingsley Methodist Church elected officers and formulated plans for a Christmas celebration at the meeting recently at the church.

Mrs. Harry Gurley was elected president; Mrs. Ora Penner, vice president; Mrs. Blanche Rosenhauser, treasurer; Mrs. George Gore, assistant; Mrs. Hugh McCoy, secretary; and Miss Idella Couters, assistant. Mr. L. H. Woods was named teacher for the year and Mrs. E. W. Yates, pianist.

Plans were formulated for a Christmas party and covered dish ham dinner. It is to be held December 12 at 6 o'clock, at the church. Class sisters are to be revealed and gifts exchanged. Mrs. Harry Gurley is chairman of arrangements.

Mrs. Bessie Henry presided at the meeting and the devotionals were led by Mrs. Penner. Mrs. Thelma Wigal offered prayer.

Others attending were Mrs. Ray Moreland, Mrs. Sadie Weaverling, Mrs. M. A. Keesecker, Mrs. Fred Couters, Mrs. Artie Durrett, Mrs. Thomas Bell, Mrs. John Leasure, Mrs. Leafy Leith, Mrs. Sarah Bean, Miss Ellen Rinker, and Miss Lulu Pyles.

Santa's Pack Will Be Loaded This Year With Glitter And Scents To Make A Charming Christmas

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Santa's pack will be brimming with glitter and scents and all those charming things that make Yuletide a gala season for the ladies.

He'll stuff his pack with compacts and makeup kits, beauty books and perfume, gift certificates and manicure sets. The jolly fellow knows it takes more than sugar and spice to keep the girls looking nice.

Young girls will adore home permanent wave kits or pastel ribbon curlers to anchor their pin-sets. They'll love gimmick gifts—wallets with lipsticks, bracelets with charms containing solid cologne, perfume in glass cinderella slippers or in small glass dumbells. A little plastic snowman containing a wind and weather lotion can be used as a mantel decoration during the Christmas season. Young girls also would appreciate the new "How to be Your Own Hair Stylist" by Victor Vito.

The over 25 girl will be ecstatic with a gift certificate from her favorite beauty salon, manicure implements and polishes in the new fashion shades. She'll like sachet for her lingerie drawers and in particular lavender tablets in little drawstring bags which can be hung on clothes hangers. Give her liquid sachet which can be brushed inside bureau drawers for lasting fragrance. A treatment kit, containing an assortment of creams labeled "dry skin" or "oily skin" depending on her needs, will please her.

She will love a beauty book or even a home beauty course planned by experts. Anything that will make her look prettier, more glamorous and younger is welcome. Gayelord Hauser's latest book, "Look Younger, Live Longer," will be tops on the Yule list of the girl who wants to preserve charm.

Older women also will look forward to glamor in their Christmas stockings. Scented soaps, powders, perfumes and sachets are top-drawer gifts with them. Cosmetics which make traveling simpler also will be welcome. Much in demand are beauty kits and packable objects such as folding eyelash curlers, scented cotton washcloths and sets of plastic bottles and purse-size perfume atomizers.

Edyth Thornton McLeod's "Beauty after Forty" also will appeal to this group. It contains many worthwhile tips for the young matron.

How friendly are you in your everyday contacts with people? Your happiness is in direct ratio!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

THE unhappiest woman I know has earned this unenvied title as surely as though she had set out in life to capture it.

She doles out complaints, unpleasant attitudes and unlovely facial expressions to everyone who sees her. She can steal the happiness and good feeling toward others from a whole roomful of people. In a matter of minutes, she can rob the sunniest day of all of its brilliance and turn it into gloom. No wonder she thinks the world is against her. She's actually against herself!

People and You

The essence of friendliness is liking people. Do you like people—really? Not just those in your close, intimate circle, but the fellow human beings you see or meet as you go about your daily routine—the relative strangers, like the bus driver, butcher, tailor, elevator operators, clerks, the postman, and people in general.

Friendliness and neighborliness (even the anonymous kind that is found in big cities) are commodities with which the world has never been overburdened. And the curious thing is that those who most long to have such attitudes extended toward them are usually people who withhold any such expressions themselves.

If you find yourself unhappy much of the time, alone more than you like—if you have trouble getting courteous service everywhere you go, perhaps it's time for you to look at the face you display to the world of "just people." Your examination of your unconscious, habitual attitude may be the starting point for a new kind of life and the kind you wish to have. If your face reflects distrust, distaste, prejudice and irritation with people as a whole you'll know immediately that it's a lack of friendliness in your own heart that is preventing you from finding the happiness you desire.

Known By Your Words

Are you really a friendly person? When your instinct suggests a kind word or deed or a simple thank you do you immediately translate that impulse into action? That's what friendly people do. If you are out of practice, there's no time to be lost. Start now to present to the world the kind of face you like to meet as you go down the street. If you do, the kind of welcome you receive will make it easy for you to say the kind words, the human words, the courteous words that only the foolish, deluded cynic keeps from passing his or her lips.

Washington Whirl

THE Yugoslav diplomats shot the works at a fancy blowout on their national holiday yesterday. . . And don't worry, the Capital officials who attended the party were bigger and better and more plentiful than the ones who went to the Soviet Embassy celebration a couple of weeks ago.

The ex-satellite is doing all right on its own, thanks.

However, one society matron's husband refused to let her join a "very fashionable" club just organized by a group of her friends. . . Some Washington ladies have worked themselves into a lather of well-meant sympathy for the poor Yugoslavs. . . And will start sending food, clothes and money over to them.

The mystified husband, who refused to let his wife join up, asked "Why don't you all get together and send some things to the boys in Korea?"

He says he can understand that on an official level our statesmen might want to be civil and even polite to Yugoslavia. "But I can't understand why all these American society women want to start having tea parties, packing up clothes and knocking themselves out for the Yugoslavs. I don't get the pitch."

Fleur and Mike Cowles have knocked themselves out to entertain Margaret Truman and Perle Mesta in New York. . . During the '48 presidential elections, Mr. and Mrs. Cowles of Look-Quick-and Flair fame were all-out Republicans for Stassen. . . But a couple of nights ago they unrolled the red carpet for Mrs. Mesta and Miss Truman at a large, lavish and off-the-record party. . . And the heck with politics.

Marvin Braverman was at Margaret's elbow every minute . . . Although Margaret was the only President's daughter at the party, she wasn't the only singer. . . Shared the spotlight with Frank Sinatra and Morton Downey. . . But Margaret and Perle were, as usual, the Big Stars. . . That team has certainly charmed many fine-feathered Republican birds out of the trees. . . Sometimes even made the birds start crowing for the Democrats!

Last year when the Vienna Boys' Choir, the world-renowned choral group of boys from 7 to 12 appeared in this country, many of them became ill — from drinking our milk! . . . Accustomed to skim milk in Vienna, our was too creamy for them!

This year the talented children will be back again. . . Making only one appearance in this country, they're flying over just to sing at Constitution Hall on January 7. . . This year the choral director has asked the kind hostesses clamoring to entertain them, please not to have any milk on hand — unless it's skimmed.

Profits from their appearance will benefit the Blessed Sacrament Church in Alexandria.

FROM THE CHINESE EMBASSY: A whisper buzzes that while Chiang Kai-shek has stuck to his agreement not to help with the fighting on the mainland or send arms to anti-Communist guerrillas, he has been operating his own airlift. . . Dropping thousands of bags of rice for the Chinese peasants. . . The little bags are printed with propaganda urging them to oppose the Communists.

• — • — •

TO THE INDIAN EMBASSY a widow has waved goodbye. . . She's Madame Nayar, a graduate of Madras College in Southern India and one of the few practicing physicians in her country. . . Her husband, who was public relations attache at the Indian Embassy, was sent to Korea last August as a representative from the United Nations. . . Shortly after his arrival the jeep in which he was riding hit a land mine and he was killed.

The couple had been stationed here in Washington about a year or so. . . Their little daughter, Ammu, which means "My little darling," was enjoying life in America. . . Now she and her doctor mother have gone sadly home.

Recently-paroled Parnell Thomas, former congressman from New Jersey, convicted of payroll kick-backing, works daily on his book. . . In it he'll mention the famous hearings on Hollywood Communism held while he was chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The ten unfriendly Hollywood witnesses refused to answer any questions before the committee even though their party cards, in some cases, were introduced into evidence . . . As a result, they were put on trial for contempt and convicted.

Imagine Parnell Thomas' surprise when some of them turned up in the same federal pen with him! . . . Small world, isn't it?

And don't think the other inmates didn't have political convictions. . . They all sided with Thomas. . . Took his part against the alleged Commies.

Thomas had helped convict a physician as a member of a Commie front organization. . . And darned if that doctor didn't turn up as a trustee doctor at the prison! . . . Thomas had to take liver shots from him often. . . But he would insist on taking the contents of each shot to the prison chemist beforehand . . . He was that scared of being poisoned.

Don't be HALF-SAFE
by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid today—only 39¢ plus tax.

Possibilities For Industrial Location In This Area Cited

A few industries have been listed as "possibilities" for locating here according to information received by the Cumberland Industrial Development Corporation.

None was identified by name.

The report was given Tuesday night by Richardson Wood, New York, industrial consultant for Cumberland and Allegany County. Wood discussed the position of a number of prospects for the area, according to Harold W. Smith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Tuesday night's meeting of the directors of the industrial group was held primarily to get some idea of a course to follow after Wood's contract expires February 15. The consultant has been hired under a $10,000, six-month agreement as an exploratory measure to set a pattern for economic development here.

Discuss Procedure

Wood, Smith said, discussed several methods of procedure, among which were direct employment by the city of an industrial expert; continued employment of a consultant engineer; and dependence upon a publicity program.

No definite action was taken.

The Chamber of Commerce has recommended that the Industrial Corporation extend Wood's contract for a period of three years.

No conclusion was reached on the suggestion at the meeting but Wood was asked to put his ideas in writing and submit it to the executive committee of the corporation.

Wood was in Frostburg yesterday conferring with group's there on the expansion projects planned for the Berkowitz Pajama Factory.

Chamber To Meet

Meanwhile, the Chamber of Commerce announced that traffic and parking will be discussed at a luncheon meeting of the chamber Friday, December 8 at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

The discussion will be in charge of the Civic Improvement Committee which said a survey of members revealed they are more interested in the traffic and parking problems than any others facing Cumberland at the moment.

The luncheon session is the first of a series of meetings planned by the Membership Activities Committee, William L. Wilson, Jr., chairman, said.

The number of employes of the nation's Class I railroads on Oct. 15, 1950, was 1,290,895, an increase of 0.59 per cent compared with a month earlier.

Lane To Dedicate Dual Highway

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP) — An important link in Maryland's highway overhaul program will go into service tomorrow when a new section of the expressway from Baltimore toward Frederick is opened.

It is the first sector of "denied-access" dual highway in the state. This means long stretches without side roads or cross roads. At only a few places can you get on or off the main trafficway.

Maryland is building many miles of denied-access dual highway in its $200,000,000 road program.

The Washington National Pike between Frederick and Washington, the Washington-Annapolis Expressway, the Washington-Baltimore Expressway, and some of the roads fanning out from the Chesapeake bay bridge are all denied-access type.

Gov. Lane will dedicate the new 5½ mile stretch on the Baltimore National Pike at 11 a. m. Thursday.

It runs from Pine Orchard, near Ellicott City, west to state Route 32 just above West Friendship.

Because it is difficult for rats to find food in winter, greater care is needed in the storage of such items as chicken feed and small quantities of grain.

The sweet potato is the national food of the Ryukyu Islands.

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29—(INS)—Our petite Ann Blyth gets the princess treatment in her role of Princess of Samarkand, at U-I, opposite David Farrar in "The Golden Horde," an historical extravaganza. Didn't Yvonne De Carlo used to get these princess roles?

Ann Blythe

Farrar, as you know, is the British actor who made a deal with Bill Goetz for all his American-made pictures while retaining his contract with Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger for English films.

They tell me that not since "Chu Chin Chow" has there been an Oriental story with the power, sweep and beauty of this adventure tale about the Genghis Khan, Mongolian invader who had Hitler and Mussolini ideas way back in the 12th century.

Like those boys, he got stopped, but not until he had reached Austria after overrunning China.

Errol Flynn and his bride, Patrice Wymore, are on his yacht and have left Cannes. When Mrs. Margaret Eddington can get in touch with them she will tell them that Patrice is wanted for Bing Crosby's next picture, "Here Comes The Groom."

I believe if Errol is working when he gets back that Patrice will want to be busy, too, and that if she likes this role she will accept it. It's not the lead—Jane Wyman has that—but it's a very good part.

There'll be another Tracy on the MGM lot this summer. Spencer's lovely 17-year-old daughter, Susie, who is a freshman at the University of Arizona, has told her dad she wants to get a job in some branch of the film business, and you know very well that wasn't difficult to do.

So, Susie will spend the summer hard at work and when fall comes she'll go to Stanford. She hopes she'll be assigned to the writing department at the studio, because she wants to be a writer.

Spence is proud as punch of her, and I don't wonder. She's a darling girl.

Marian Anderson, famed negro singer, whose beautiful voice has brought her so much acclaim, has persuaded Sol Hurok, impresario, to make his film debut in a motion picture starring her.

Marian, who was a failure in the United States early in her career, was persuaded by Hurok to return and give her native country another chance. You know the story—she became world famous and she has always been grateful to him.

Budd Schulberg's best seller, "The Disenchanted," has brought countless offers to him as a writer from the Hollywood studios. But it remained for an independent production company named Monticello Pictures to sign Bud to write the screenplay for Malcolm Johnson's Pulitzer prize winner "Crime On The Waterfront."

Robert Siodmak, director of thrillers, will do the directing and the film will be made in New York early next year.

Ever since "Disenchanted" hit the bookstands there have been discussions pro and con about making this picture, which is not very kind to our business, but which we all admit makes interesting reading.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dick Haymes flew to Palm Springs last night after his radio show to recuperate from the virus attack that hit him in Milwaukee and caused him to call off his tour.

Ginger Rogers is considering an offer to go to Italy and make an independent picture.

Ezio Pinza's two children, Clelia, 9, and Pietro, 6, made their radio debut last night with their father on Jo Stafford's "Voice Of America" show Ezio tells me if the new baby is a girl it will be called Gloria, and if a boy, Antonio.

At the Tallyho at a table for two were Lisa Ferreday and Vic Damone. That's one of our later duos.

Carmen Miranda, who has been a blonde for months and before that was brunette, has dyed her hair red. Says it shows off the fruits on her turban better.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

French Ballet Star Scared By U. S. "Marriage Mania"

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Colette Marchand, the tired businessman's dream come true of a leggy French dancer, is a mite unhappy about her art these days.

She is also "frightened" (that's what she said) by the American male's mania for marriage.

For some weeks now Mmle. Marchand has been making Broadway a brighter place in company with the rest of Roland Petit's ballets de Paris company. The troupe next week is off on an extended joy-spreading mission to the hinterlands. About a half-hundred big and little cities of the U.S. and Canada are to see the Parisian impression of what is becoming of ballet.

Among other dancing duties, it is the Marchand achievement to step on-stage from a huge egg and then whirl, split and provocatively shrug through 15 minutes of fast-stepping latter day terpsichore.

The applause and the whistles evoked thereby are good, Colette gravely concurs, but the dance itself—"it does nothing for me."

Her heart, like that of the comic who would play "Hamlet," is set on doing classical ballet.

"I should like very much to do a long, traditional ballet like 'Swan Lake' some time," she says. "A serious ballet and 'hard boiled egg' together, that would be very good."

To help wind up the New York run, she has been doing also a very leggy "Carmen," but it is her "hard boiled egg" that has set her big town reputation.

To keep herself set for any classical opportunity, Colette, who at 25 has been dancing 20 years, has been studying in ballet school daily during her visit here. The glances, shoulder-tossing and hip-swaying strut of her current success, one gathers, need no such rehearsal. A lot of spectators call it her "Mae West stuff," but Colette herself confesses such mannerisms "they come naturally" and she never saw Miss West until last season.

"She is very good," says La Marchand. "But I do not think what I do is anything like her."

Which brings us to another of the lady's concerns. She is besieged by fan mail and phone calls, mostly masculine.

"It is frightening," says Colette, "the way so many American men want to 'marry me, and take me to France with you. I must marry a French girl.' I do not understand how so many want to get married. It is not that way in France. There the men seem more satisfied.

"HOW DR. EDWARDS' HELPED ME LICK CONSTIPATION the clogging, TRANSIENT kind!"

Mr. William Tirrell, brilliant top-flight account executive of New York City, says: "For years Dr. F. M. Edwards, a noted Ohio physician, recommended Olive Tablets to patients troubled with constipation and its headaches, bad breath and lack of pep.

"I myself have taken Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets a number of years and find nothing better to relieve constipation. Olive Tablets are so gentle yet thorough in action. They give complete relief from transient constipation."

Olive Tablets work on BOTH upper and lower bowels and give more natural-like movements. 15¢, 30¢.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Sales Tax Cut Will Save County About $123,050

A savings of $123,050 will be made by Allegany County residents during the next year under the reduction program for the Maryland sales tax. The cut is effective at midnight tonight.

A spokesman at headquarters of the state Retail Sales Tax Division in Baltimore said the figure represents a 25 per cent saving by taxpayers and could be more or less depending on general business conditions.

Garrett County residents stand to save $30,755.

Last year, Allegany County paid in $892,189.91 or 3.14 per cent of the total sales tax collected by the state. Garrett County paid in $123,020.45 or .43 per cent, the spokesman said.

Effective at midnight tonight here's what the cut in taxes will do:

All meals, no matter where sold or eaten will be tax free.

Purchases up to 50 cents will require no tax.

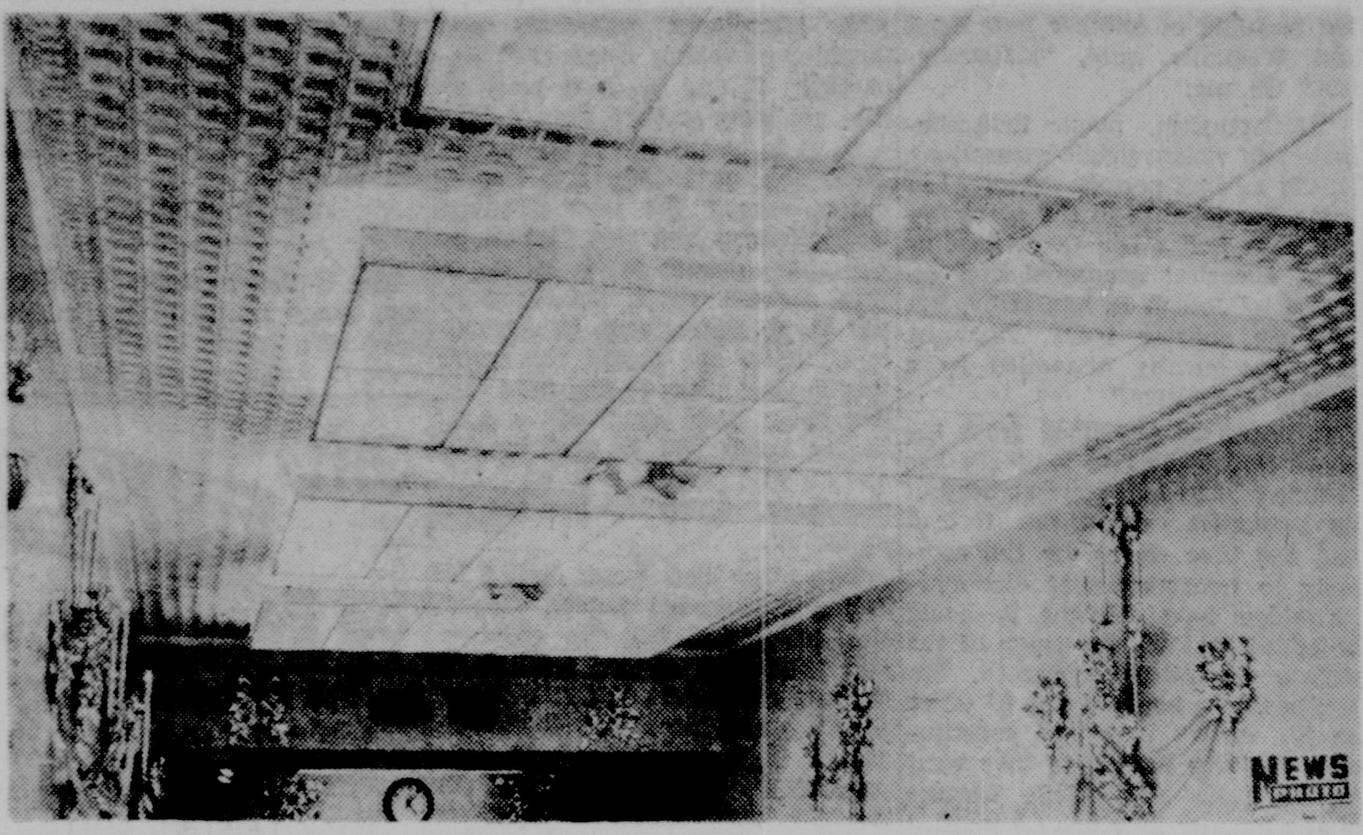
Tax is eliminated on soaps, soap powders, cleansers, cleaning fluids, detergents, baby powders and baby oils.

The reduction of the tax was voted by the General Assembly at a special session called by Governor Lane on November 10. The legislature enacted the Governor's program of recommendation.

The program was first proposed by the Governor in July when it became evident that revenues from the sales tax, because of the defense program, would exceed earlier estimates and that the reduction could be made without impairing the state's sound fiscal position.

It is estimated that the broadening of the base of the sales tax will save Marylanders $7,000,000 annually.

Based on present estimates, the reduction in the yield of the sales tax will leave a surplus at the end of the current fiscal year of nearly $5,000,000 as a backlog against the 1952 budget to be presented at the coming session of the General Assembly.



NEW CEILING LIGHTS—A showing of the most modern type of lighting installation is being held at Potomac Edison Company's Baltimore Street store. The lighting arrangement, according to E. L. Ewald, commercial manager, is a permanent installation of four Panelux, louvred panels, each 8 x 12 feet, mounted directly on the ceiling. Each unit is equipped with "slim line" instant starting flourescent lamps. To furnish accent lighting, incandescent spot lamps are shown.

Kiwanis Apple Sale Postponed By Weather

The Cumberland Kiwanis Club's annual sale of apples for the benefit of its Sunshine Camp was postponed last Saturday because of unfavorable weather.

William J. Edwards, a member of the committee, said a later date for the sale is contemplated.

Carl F. Schmutz, committee chairman, has estimated $750 would be raised by the apple sale. Members of the club and their wives will man eight downtown booths.

$125 Stolen From City Clubroom

About $125 was stolen Tuesday from the barroom of William Paca Lodge No. 1689, Sons of Italy, 119 North Centre Street. The culprit used a cable wire to drop from a rear second-story window.

During November entries were also reported at two other clubs, Cumberland Lodge No. 271, L.O.O. Moose, where $100 was taken, and Cumberland Lodge No. 176, I.B.P. O.E.W. Police arrested a Negro for allegedly stealing $100 from the latter place and he was held for grand jury action.

Tuesday's breaking and entering was discovered by a bartender at 12:45 p. m. and Detective Thomas J. See investigated.

Approximately $90 in a money bag and $40 in a drawer behind the bar were taken. Entrance was gained by breaking a window in a door leading to the second-floor barroom.

Detective See surmised that the culprit remained in the building after closing hours Monday night. The thief apparently went to a landing between the second and third floors and waited for the place to close down. The main door on Centre Street had been locked.

Merchandise at the bar was not disturbed, See said, adding that the intruder also neglected to ransack an office and chamber room on the third floor.

After stealing the money, the culprit went to the rear of the building and used a heavy cable to descend to the ground.

You can still buy Coke for 5¢

Note to our dealers:
Through the years, your experience, like ours, proves that sales and profits are highest when soft drinks are sold for the traditional prices of 5¢ a bottle, 25¢ a carton and $1.00 a case. We benefit most when we give the public the best possible value for their money. To enable you to continue selling Coca-Cola at customary prices, we are making no increase in the price you pay for Coke.

Since 1886, the price of Coca-Cola has always been a nickel, the refreshing quality of Coke has always been the same. Today, our costs are at new highs on every hand. Nevertheless, you can still buy Coca-Cola for 5¢ a bottle, 25¢ a carton and $1.00 a case.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)

AS A DEALER in words, a writer approaches the new models with the eager eye and bated breath of an incorrigible automobile fancier bearing down on a show room displaying the '51 models. And sometimes both are let down.

The American language, being a much more vigorous limb of its solid English trunk than the rest of the tree, has sprouted several dozen new twigs—according to a couple of fellows who should know: The Messrs. Funk and Wagnalls.

They lack the exciting bite of words recently coined and popularized by Walter Winchell, who has unquestionably placed more new models into our native tongue than any other individual. But some of the words accepted by Funk and approved by Wagnalls might last, too, at least in the circles noted for their imperviousness to jaw-break. And some of them are quite odd.

"Satellize," is a new one meaning to make a satellite of, or to subjugate with intent to control. But F. and W., with an odd twist of reasoning, credit the origin of the word to Jean Servan Schreiber, "French conservative journalist," who apparently coined it to describe "U. S. foreign policy in Europe." We've had a hunch in recent years that "satellize," when it was finally coined, might apply to the only big power which is actively engaged in that business.

• — • — •

We have a complaint, too, against the editorializing which innundates the meaning of another new Funk and Wagnalls word, "McCarthyism." To wit:

"McCarthyism, noun, indiscriminate and violent public accusations, chiefly against persons suspected of being Communists in the State Department and other U. S. government agencies; sponsored and directed by Joseph R. McCarthy, Republican senator from Wisconsin, and subsequently disavowed by a Senate committee."

It might be presumed from the above that Funk and Wagnalls has retained Owen Lattimore as head of its semantics department. If not, and the time comes for the company to remember that dictionaries seldom have opinions, it should be added that the chairman of the Senate committee concerned, Mr. Tydings, was bounced out of office on his ear by indignant constituents the very next time they went to the polls—and chiefly because of the manner in which he muffled McCarthy's "indiscriminate and violent public accusations."

Among the new words in the current F. and W. supplement one finds, also, "atomshik." Two atomshiks equal one "atomshiki." This, we are assured, is a noun meaning "a fanatical advocate of atomic warfare." The firm credits "Pravda" with the creation of the word, and reminds us that the Commy blat applies it to "certain American statesmen and military men."

• — • — •

The new word "beef-cake," seems good. It is the masculine form of "cheesecake," and a more descriptive word than its root. A "motelman," naturally is the prop, or mgr. of a motel. "G-string," finally has won recognition but not as a bare item of apparel. Seems it means a wire that can substitute for the co-axial cable of TV. "Teleset" makes the grade this time, but TV remains barred, though we beg to suggest to the Messrs. that it might prove more popular than "comediantator, a radio master of ceremonies who enlivens the program with impromptu witticisms and laughter-provoking comment." Apparently, F. and W. have receivers that get more stations than I do.

Want to be the life of the party? Well, the next time the hostess passes around the hors d'oeuvres look offended and say, "What, no alayam?" Alayam is "a sweet-potato cocktail snack developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture." After she pushes the whole tray in your kisser (a fine word that has never been approved) a good hearty laugh will be had by one and all. And you will need an "anti-perspirant," which is a new one for deodorant.

Two other new words hailed by F. and W. make me wonder. "Gook," they point out, was "an offensive and derogatory epithet applied by military personnel . . . to Koreans." Is this a defense of North Korean gooks? And "ostrichism" is "the practice of an excessive and irrational concealment of matters which are already known or easily accessible to others; term applied by the American physicist, L. N. Ridenour, to certain security regulations of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission."

Marty Marion Named Playing-Manager Of St. Louis Cards

Shortstop Gets One-Year Pact With NL Club

Financial Terms Not Revealed When Owner Makes Announcement

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Shortstop Marty Marion was named player-manager of the St. Louis Cardinals today. He immediately predicted the club would cause trouble for the other national league teams in 1951.

Marion's appointment was announced at an afternoon press conference today by owner Fred Saigh, who said he settled on Marty at 9 a. m. this morning.

Signs One-Year Contract

The long, lanky shortstop has signed a contract for one year, Saigh said. Financial terms were not disclosed.

Twenty five men had been intervened for the job left open by the resignation of Eddie Dyer, who threw in the sponge in October minor league training camp at Bar-

The Redbirds wound up the year in fifth place. It was the first time they had finished out of the first division since 1938.

Reports earlier today said the field of potential candidates had been narrowed to Marion and Johnny Keane, manager of Rochester in the International League the past two seasons.

Keane's name was not mentioned at today's press conference.

Marion, who will be 33 years old in two days, will be the youngest manager in the major leagues. He has been with the Cardinal organization 15 years, 11 of them with the St. Louis club.

Called "Mr. Shortstop"

For the past several season the man known as "Mr. Shortstop" has been bothered with back and knee troubles.

Marion has had no managerial experience.

Saigh described him as a smart, aggressive player.

Saigh said he expects to announce a revised coaching setup within a week or 10 days and that Marion will have a hand in the selections.

Marion has played in four world series and won the most valuable player award in 1944. He played in 106 games last year, which is the lowest number for one season in his career.

He was born in Richburg, S. C., the second of a railroad man's four boys. Shortly after his birth, the family moved to Atlanta, Ga., where at the age of 11 Marty suffered a broken leg while playing cops and robbers.

Had Tryout In 1935

The leg began to heal but was rebroken for a better setting. The boy spent a year in the hospital and another year on crutches.

He first came to the attention of baseball scouts in a tryout camp at Rome, Ga., that was in 1935, a year before he graduated from high school.

Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Cardinals, invited Marion to St. Louis to sign a contract but Marty refused. He signed instead with Chattanooga, where he drew a speedy release slip for leaving without permission to visit home.

Marion reported to the Cardinals' minor leagce training camp at Bartow, Fla., in 1936. Noting that he was one of 11 third basemen and that there were no shortstops in camp, he tried out for the position.

Marion is married and the father of three daughters. The family lives in Suburban Ladue. Marion will be the first player-manager of the Cardinals since Frank Frisch, who piloted the Redbirds from 1933 to 1938.

Re-signing Expected For Happy Chandler

CINCINNATI, Nov. 29 (AP)—The 13th of December may well be one of the most important days in the life of baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

For on that day, in St. Petersburg, Fla., the chances are that he will be informed whether he is to be retained for another seven years in his $65,000 a year job.

There is reason to believe that the baseball leaders in whose hands his job rests—the—owners—will vote him another seven years' tenure.

The question should come up on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 11 and 12, at separate meetings of the American and National League owners.

Then, huddling with Chandler the following day in joint session, the decision probably will be given.

Re-election will take 12 of the 16 votes.

NEW CARDS PILOT — Marty "Slats" Marion, stringbean, 33-year-old shortstop has been named playing manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Fred Saigh, owner of the National League baseball club announced yesterday. Marion, who has been with the Cardinal organization for 15 years, will be the youngest pilot in the majors next season. He predicated his team will be "tough" next year.

Wyoming Sends Top Defensive Team To Bowl

Meets W. & L. Jan. 1 In Fla. Gator Bowl

By F. T. MACFEELY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — Wyoming today became the second of the nation's four major record football teams to book a Jan. 1 bowl engagement.

The Wyoming Cowboys will meet Southern Conference champion Washington and Lee in the Gator Bowl. This announcement rounded out the schedule of the five major bowls for New Year's Day.

Oklahoma, also with a perfect record, is in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans against Southeastern Conference champion Kentucky. The Cotton Bowl at Dallas matches Texas with Tennessee. In the Orange Bowl at Miami it will be University of Miami against Clemson. California and Michigan are down for the Rose Bowl in California.

Princeton and Army, major unbeaten and untied teams along with Wyoming and Oklahoma, pass up the bowl engagements.

Wyoming Coach Bowden Wyatt, a star end at Tennessee in 1937-38, took a cue on defense from his coach there, Gen. Bob Neyland and has made Wyoming the top defensive team in the nation.

On top of that Wyatt has produced a high-scoring combination off the Tennessee single wing formation. Key man is running, passing tailback Eddie Talboom. He scored 130 of Wyoming's 343 points in nine straight victories. The combined opposition got but 52.

Champion of the Skyline Six for the second straight year, Wyoming placed 11 men on the two-platoon conference all-star team.

Washington and Lee, coached by George Barclay who was an All-America guard at North Carolina in 1934, operates in the split T formation in the hands of quarterback Gil Bocetti.

The W. and L. Generals won six straight Southern Conference games to edge Clemson for the title. W. and L. lost by a touchdown to Tennessee and by five points in an upset by Virginia.

Cats To Open Season Dec. 2

KEYSER, W. Va., Nov. 29 — The Potomac State Catamounts basketball team will open its 1950-51 cage season against Altoona Center of Penn State College here Saturday.

The locals have been practicing with only a part of their squad this week with several of the players still snowbound away from school by the area storm.

The Altoona squad is a farm team for Penn State's great cage squads and is expected to be a tough opening foe for the Keyser five.

Only two regulars are back on the Cats squad. They are Ted Lauer and Boyd Pyles. Jay Demarest, Gus Fisher, Cliff Rollins, Charles Smith, Walt Devlin, John Kaldy, and Bill Gannon, Piedmont high star last year, are slated to round out the team.

Game time is set for 8 p. m. with a 7 o'clock preliminary.

Stadium Loses Two In Shuffle League

Stadium Inn lost ground in the women's shuffleboard league last night by dropping a 2-1 decision to Clingerman's while Ruth's Tavern copped three from Woodmen of the World. In a third match Cresap Tavern won 2-1 over South End Republican Club.

High scorers for the teams were Helen Metz, Dotty Scarpelli, Pauline Stegmaier, Ruth's Tavern, 22 apiece, W. Auvil, WOW, 12, B. Lee, J. Glisson, S. Smith, Cresap Tavern, all 21, Genevieve Lewis, SERC, 24, Betty McKenny, Clingerman's, 18, and D. Minnicks, Stadium Inn, 27.

Brigham Young Cage Team To Tour East

PROVO, Utah, Nov. 29 (AP) — Brigham Young University's basketball team leaves tomorrow night on an eastern barnstorming tour. The Cougars will travel by plane, arriving in Buffalo, N. Y., for a Friday night game against Niagara University.

Next Tuesday Brigham Young meets City College of New York in Madison Square Garden. The Cougars tangle with Eastern Kentucky at Richmond, Ky., Dec. 7, and Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 9.

YMCA Senior Men's Cage League To Open Dec. 4

Eight Teams Start Loop's Sixth Year

Eight teams were represented last night at the YMCA Senior Men's Basketball League's final organization meeting held at 7:30 p. m. at the "Y", Clifton Van Roby, director, stated.

Plans were made to continue operating on Monday's, Wednesdays and Thursdays as has been done in Final pairings for the opening of scheduled. Opening games will be played at the "Y" Dec. 4.

Teams attending the meeting, Roby said, were 40 and 8, last year's champions, Charles Barnes, Telephone Co., George Evans, Sport Shoppe, Earl Nonneman, BPO Elks, Jack Robb, Peter Pan Cleaners, John Kellar, and two independent quints represented by Paul Mason and Harold Corrigan. Charles Edenhart represented the eighth team, Cumberland American Legion. Peter Pan Cleaners is a new team, Roby said.

It was decided at last night's meeting that a change in playing time would be utilized this year with teams playing 8, 10, 8 and 10 minute quarters, Roby revealed.

Final pairings for the opening of the schedule Dec. 4 were not decided at the confab, Roby said, as the two independent teams were not fully organized and named. The opening schedule will be released at the end of the week, Roby added.

This will be the sixth year of operation for the league with the 40 and 8 quint the defending champion. Other winners have been LaSalle Alumni (1945-46), First Methodist Church (1946-47), Ridgeley American Legion (1947-48), Amvets (1948-49).

The league began in 1945 with six teams, Lacy Delicatets, LaSalle Alumni, Allegany Alumni, Fort Hill Alumni, Celanese Chemist and YMCA Seniors. It was started for returning ex-service men and all veterans were given a complimentary three-months membership to the "Y". The 1948-49 season was comprised of nine teams, largest in the history of the loop.

Buddy Giles, Cumberland American Legion player, was voted the outstanding player last season, while Jimmy Eckard, Jack Stotler, Jack Steiner, Giles and Ace Comer were listed on the all-league team. Charles Barnes of the 40 and 8, received the outstanding sportsman award and a trophy was given to the 40 and 8 champions.

Roby is director of the league and a board of governors is composed of the managers of the eight teams to supervise play and carry by-laws of the loop.

Snow Causes WVU To Cancel Its Cage And Wrestling Clinic

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 29 (AP) — Snow wiped from the schedule today two of the 10 season-opening collegiate basketball games carded for state teams this week end.

Bethany College announced that, because of impassable roads, it would not make trips to Rio Grande, O., Friday night and Transylvania College at Lexington, Ky., Saturday night.

Meanwhile, West Virginia University officials announced cancellation of a basketball and wrestling clinic which was to be held in connection with a cage contest at Morgantown Saturday.

The Mountaineer basketball squad, however, will open its campaign as scheduled Saturday night against West Virginia Wesleyan.

League Leaders Play In Frostburg Tonight

Cumberland's Knights of Columbus take a 14-game winning streak to Frostburg tonight when they tackle the Mountain City K. of C. team (7-8) in the Men's National Shuffleboard League of Allegany County.

The 1949-50 league champions lost the first game of a three-game match to Clingerman's Restaurant on October 26, the opening night of the season. Then Coach Lloyd "Rip" Collins outfit went on a tear and has bagged its last 14 starts.

Bob Frame, Bill Mackert, Joe Love, Hugh Kilroy, Ray Swach, Paul Stitcher, DeSales McDade, Stanley "Pete" Fretwell and Collins comprise the team that now leads the league by one-full game with a 14-1 record.

Stadium Inn and the Alhambra Club, the second and fourth place teams in the league will tangle tonight at the local K. of C. Home. The Frostburg club has a 13-2 record while Alhambra has won 10 and lost 5.

Frostburg Legion (11-4), holder of third place, tests the Frostburg Moose (7-8) at the latter place.

Clingerman's Restaurant (6-9) visits Mt. Savage V. F. W. (4-11), Viaduct Inn (6-9) invades Henry Hart Post's Home to tackle the VFW (7-8) and the Cumberland Amvets (4-11) play hosts to the Century A. C. of Frostburg (7-8).

The Goodfellowship - Woodmen of the World match is set for Friday at the W. O. W. Home.

Bullets Purchase Otten From Caps

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association announced tonight the purchase of Don Otten from the Washington Capitols.

Otten, who stands exactly 7 feet, is pro basketball's tallest player. A graduate of Bowling Green, he has been campaigning professionally since 1946. He led the old National League in scoring during the 1948-49 season with a total of 872 points and was voted the circuit's most valuable player.

Deer Hunting Seen Better Here This Year

Game commission officials say good shooting is in prospect in the three western counties when Maryland's six-day deer season opens next Monday.

Regional Game Warden Joseph A. Minke estimated there will be a larger kill in Allegany County than last year, when 177 deer were taken.

He expects gunning to be as good in Garrett County, where there were 493 kills last year, and in Washington County, where there were 98.

Three Players Named To East Grid Team

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29 (AP) — The co-captains of Purdue's football team and a top Illinois lineman were named today to the East team in San Francisco's annual Shrine East-West game Dec. 30.

Selected were John Beletic, 220-pound Purdue tackle and co-captain; John Kerestes, 190-pound Purdue fullback and co-captain, and Lynn Lynch, All-Big Ten guard from Illinois.

Rain And Snow Seen Saturday For Service Tilt

May Enhance Navy's Chance For An Upset

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — Let 'er snow, let 'er snow, the more the merrier on Saturday for Coach Eddie Erdelatz of Navy's football team.

Admittedly almost at wit's end in trying to figure out how Navy is going to upset Army, Coach Erdelatz perked up at the report from Philadelphia that mixed rain and snow are expected for the week-end.

"I certainly do agree with the belief that a muddy field is the great equalizer in football," said the Navy coach.

"Don't you think that Army would have beaten Stanford by more than 7-0 if the field hadn't been a quagmire?" asked the Navy coach.

Anything that can help him slow down Army will be welcomed, Erdelatz intimated.

"The greatest asset Army has is team speed," said the Navy coach pitted against another undefeated West Point squad in their service classic.

On a fast track, the Navy coach simply refuses to guess what will happen.

The midshipmen's enthusiasm began to come out today after being subdued by the comparative records, Army undefeated and Navy winner of two of eight. But after all, it's the Army-Navy game for which hope never dies and the spontaneous cheers of Middies marching to classes sounded off amidst the usual defiant signs of anticipated victory on dormitory windows.

Miami Open Gets Underway Today

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — A picked field of 175 of the nation's top ranking professional and amateur golfers tee off tomorrow in the opening round of the 72-hole 27th annual $10,000 Miami Open Golf tournament.

The tournament, which inaugurates the winter play-for play circuit, is considered a wide open affair with nine former winners competing, including defending champion Freddy Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, who beat Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., in a spectacular playoff last year.

Sam Snead, the veteran White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro who again is top money this year, arrived without his clubs after a grueling three-day drive in ice and snow. Snead explained his clubs were being shipped from Chicago and apparently were caught in the winter storm.

Colts Give Release To Frank Filchock

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts dropped Frank Filchock from their National Football League roster today, just three weeks after signing him.

The 34-year-old Filchock previously had been barred from the league for failure to report a bribe offer while a member of the New York Giants. He then went to Canada and starred with the Montreal Alouettes.

Louis Hits Comeback Trail With Unanimous Decision Over Brion

Ex-Champ Gets Nod In Unimpressive Win

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 — Joe Louis hit the comeback trail with an unimpressive but unanimous ten round decision over Cesar Brion, Argentine champion, in the Chicago Stadium tonight.

He not only outpunched his younger foe but outpointed him.

Judges Ed Klein and Ed Hintz each scored the bout 55 to 45 in favor of Louis and Referee Frank Gilmer gave Joe 56 points to 44 for Brion.

The 10,000 fans who paid $50,000 to witness the fight shrieked their approval of the decision. Out of curiosity they came to see a caricature of the boxer who once ruled the sports and out of amazement they stayed to see him manhandle his younger and better-conditioned opponent.

The crowd pleaded with old Joe to slam home the knockout blow but the 36-year-old former champion just could not break through the crouch that Brion brought to the match via Arturo Godoy's trainer.

Sunday School Cage Schedule Set For Saturday Tilts

A change in plans for Saturday's schedule in the YMCA-Sunday School basketball league was announced last night by Clifton Van Roby, director of the loop. All games originally set for Allegany High's gym have been moved to the Fort Hill boys gym, Roby stated. The schedule follows:

Jockey Club Gets Funds

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Maryland Jockey Club got back $717,488 from the Maryland state racing fund today after promising to use it for improvements at its Pimlico track—as soon as the government lets it.

The money had been collected from a share of the money bet at all three tracks formerly owned by the club—Pimlico, Laurel and Timonium. Since September it has sold the last two to help finance planned renovations at old Pimlico.

More than half of the total amount, about $407,000, would have been forfeit to the state if the club had not committed it to improving the track by the end of the year.

Today the club said plans for the modernization had been completed and would be submitted to the state racing commission for approval. It has agreed to spend or commit the $717,488.88 "within one year after the repeal of federal prohibitions on the construction of any buildings or structure for or in connection with race tracks."

Among new features will be a new double-deck building housing the club house, paddock, grandstand and administration facilities. The building will overlook a sloping lawn with "ample x x x space for standees."

Total seating capacity in the club house and grandstand sections will be 10,000.

Grid Game Changed To Forbes Field Park

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh and Penn State will play their postponed football game this Saturday at Forbes Field.

Game-time is 1:30 p.m. (EST).

Snow-buried Pitt Stadium was ruled out earlier as a likely place for the contest.

The game originally was carded for last Saturday but was postponed due to Pittsburgh's record snow.

Tropical Park Opens Florida Race Season

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP) — Tropical Park race course tomorrow inaugurates South Florida's 142-day 1950-51 winter thoroughbred racing season optimistic its 41-day meeting will bring new stature and more money to the Coral Gables oval.

Officials are predicting opening day will lure between 15,000 and 16,000 horse lovers who will wager upwards of $600,000. Last year the season debut brought out 11,201 who bet $423,896.

An extra day has been added to the regular 40-day meeting by the racing commission. Revenue from the 41st day goes to the University of Florida athletic fund.

Tropical's meeting continues through Jan. 16. Hialeah runs 40-days from Jan. 17 to March 3 and Gulfstream Park concludes the season with 41 days between March 4 and April 20.

No Jockey Rematch

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — Joe Culmone, leading jockey in the nation, said today he would not accept any offer to fly to California for a rematch against his west coast rival, Willie Shoemaker.

Bob Considine Takes Feature At Bowie Oval

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP)—Bob Considine, owned by Joseph Tucci of Washington, D. C., came from last with a terrific stretch rush to win the $7,500 added Bowie Breeders Stakes by three-quarters of a length here this afternoon.

Dr. Wilmer C. Ensor's Hocotia gained second 3¾ lengths ahead of Alan T. Clarke's Senator Joe. The winner was heavily favored as a result of his victory in last week's $10,000 Endurance Handicap here and paid $3.40, $2.20 and $2.20 across the board.

Nine Maryland bred two-year-olds went postward in today's feature and a brief time in the mile and sixteenth event it appeared that Senator Joe, named for Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, would upset the figures.

Bob Considine, however, with Bobby Martin riding, did most of his running in the last quarter mile and easily passed Senator Joe, which weakened near the end, and Hocotia in the last sixteenth to score in going-away fashion.

Bob Considine in annexing his second straight stakes on the Bowie oval earned a winner's share of $5,829.50.

More clear but frigid weather here held attendance down to 4,415.

Army Carries Unbeaten String Into Navy Game Saturday

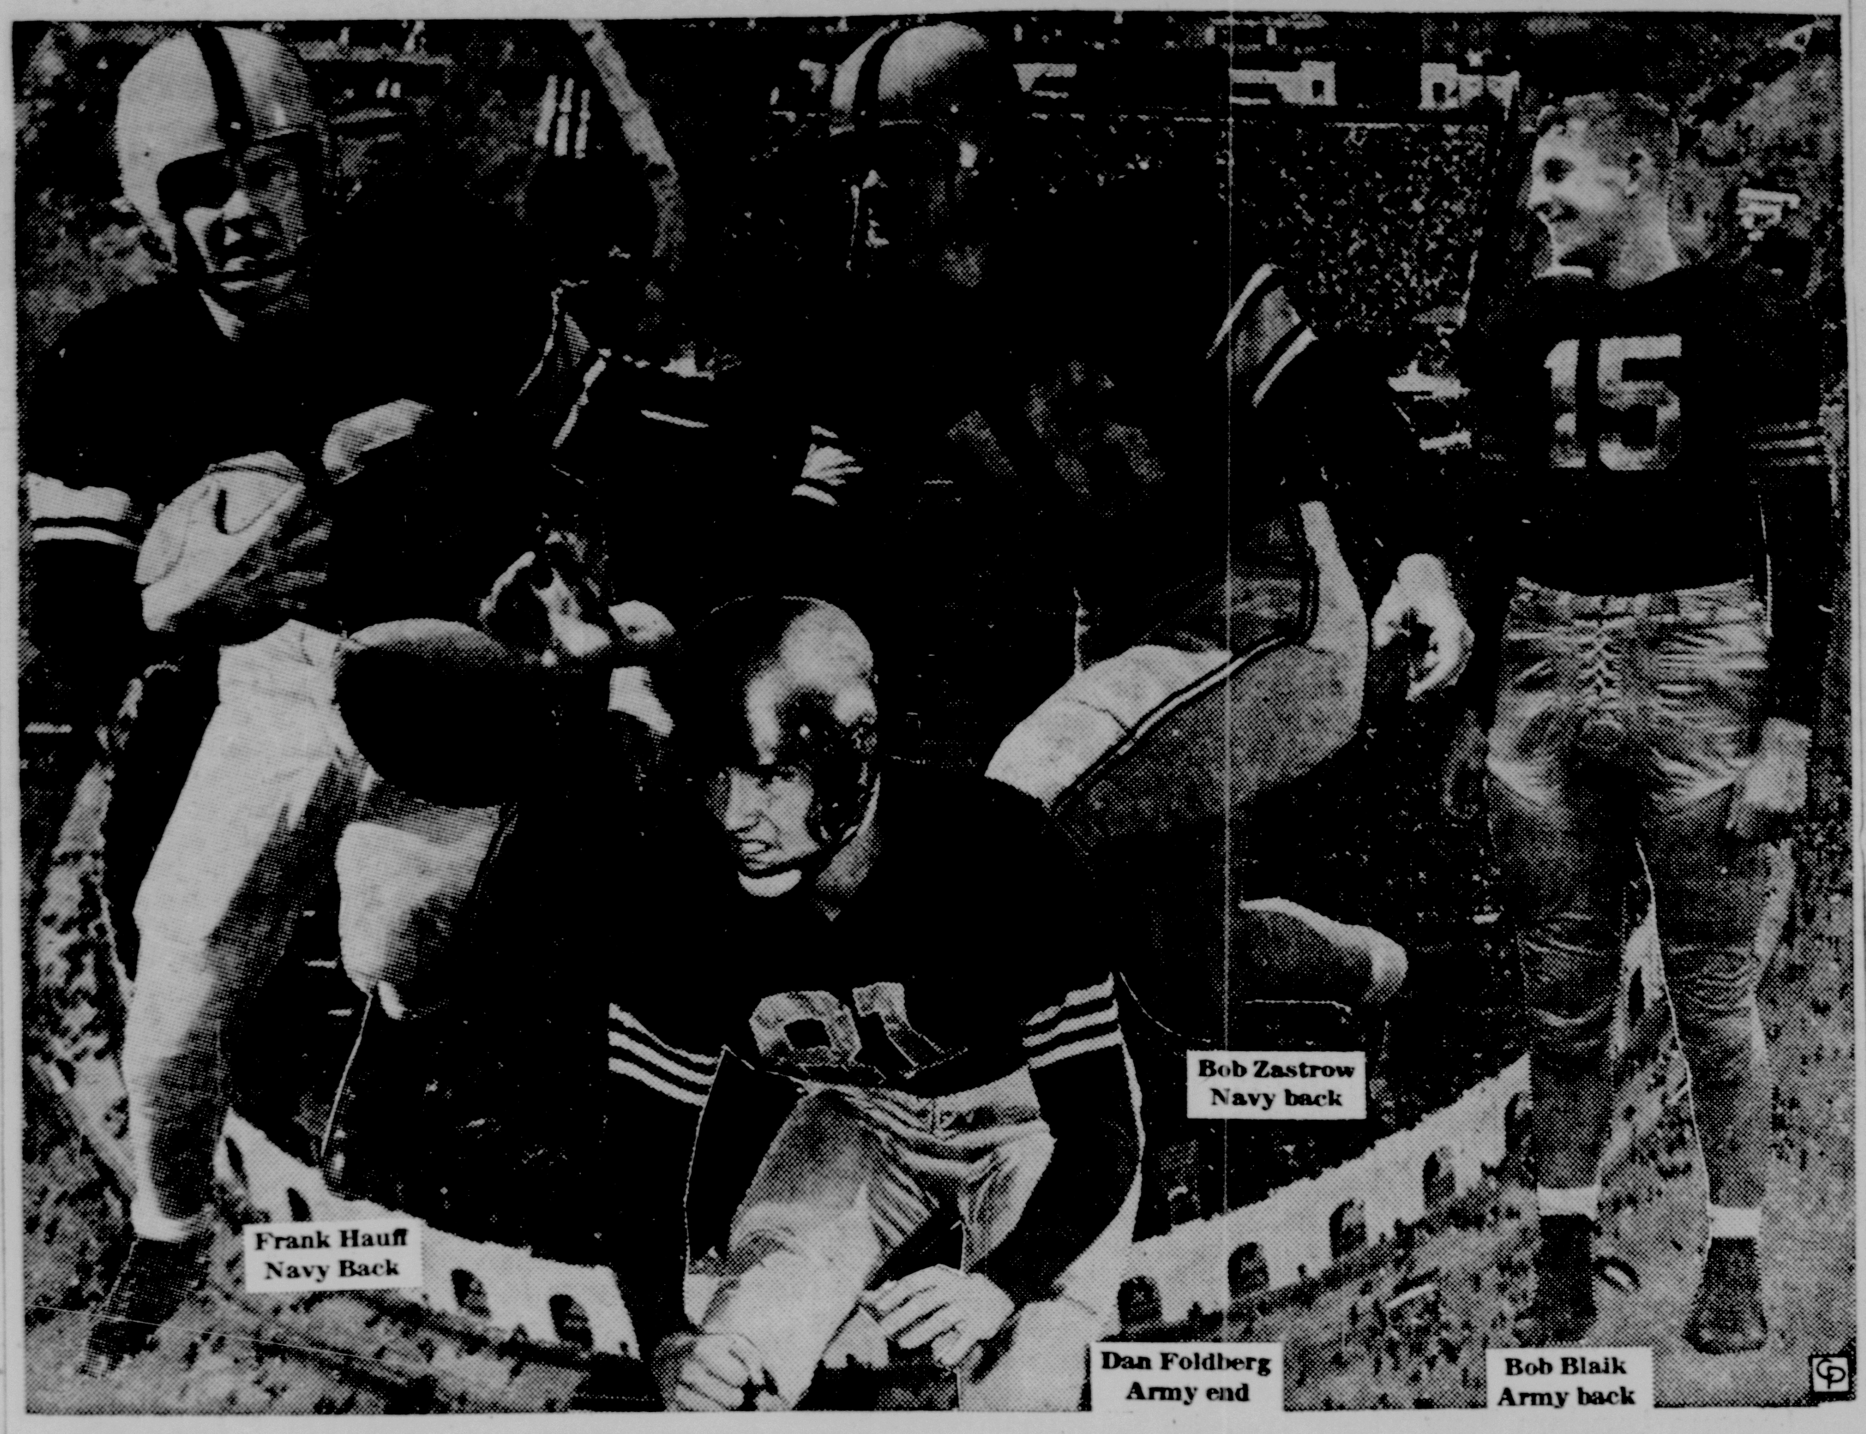

ALTHOUGH NAVY has had a poor season, the annual Army-Navy game in Philadelphia's huge Municipal stadium Saturday, Dec. 2, highlights the last big football Saturday of the season. Army goes into the game with an undefeated record and is ranked among the top teams in the nation. Navy last defeated Army in 1943 when the Middies won, 13 to 0. The game is the 51st in the series. (International)

STAG LINES

Color and Warmth in Vests

Brown but Colorful

FASHION: Popular Radio TV singer Dick Brown (left) adds a dash of color to his outfit, and simultaneously keeps a bit warmer, by wearing a tartan plaid vest.

Gadgets: Multi-purpose pocket scissors which double as screw driver, hammer, wire-cutter, ruler, penknife, glass cutter, vise, etc.! . . . The desk "Spec-Rest"—a scratch-proof, break-proof and loss-proof holder for your glasses. . . . The "Kloz-A-Lite"—an easily installed closet light that works automatically when the door is opened or closed

He-Man Reading: "People Named Smith," a book about the 1,500,000 Smiths in this country—by humorist H. Allen Smith. . . . A thrilling tome about "the man who wears a heart instead of a badge"—called "Biscailuz, Sheriff of the New West."

Handyman: Bleary-eyed people can't always read the labels in a medicine chest. So stick a straight pin through the cork of each bottle containing poison.

Here's How: To fold shirts for storing or packing—1. Button shirt and put face down on flat surface. 2 Fold back left side, smoothing sleeve flat. 3. Fold back right side similarly. 4. Fold tail back over cuffs, then fold again, bringing first fold up to shoulder seam. Folded shirt measures 8 by 10 inches.

In the Stores: Nylon dress gloves for men. Have the soft finish of suede, the comfort and warmth of wool. And they're washable! . . . Cuff links made of miniature "wolf whistles" that really work!

Odd Items: According to London Zoo's Director Edward Hindle, elephants—far from having a good memory—are "forgetful and downright stupid"! . . . According to the Psychological Corp., 74.7 per cent of all persons in the U. S. above the age of eight drink coffee in the winter. . . . Lou (Fireside Inn) Simon claims this concoction will make you gain weight: A raw egg, orange, grapefruit and lemon juice, and gelatine, all whipped together in a mixer. . . . This week's "Pass the Cigars" to—Bill Stern who, while doing a football season travel routine that would wear out any one else, maintains amazing pep and enthusiasm from Saturday to Saturday.

Pa. Governor-Elect Took Licking Entering Politics At Five Years

By JOHN DEITRICK

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's Governor-elect John S. Fine started learning politics as a boy of five when he sneaked into a hometown political caucus.

"I was caught by my father and spanked," the balding, round-faced Fine recalls but smilingly adds it didn't cure his interest in politics.

Pennsylvania's 56-year-old governor-elect is the next to the youngest of 11 children. He attended Nanticoke high school in Pennsylvania's hard coal fields and got through Dickinson law school by working summers as a coal miner.

In the early 1920s, Fine made his first direct plunge into politics to help a friend gain the state House of Representatives.

"I became enmeshed," he said. "The political world is a power that lures you through a friend or a desire to help a cause and do good. Before you realize it you are a part of it and can't get away."

Fine was appointed a judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne county at the age of 33 by the late Gov. Gifford Pinchot. For 19 years he was on the lower court bench and in 1947 was elected to the Pennsylvania Superior Court.

He resigned that post last spring after Gov. James H. Duff, senator-elect, hand-picked him to run for nomination for governor of Pennsylvania's stormiest Republican primary campaign in recent years.

Fine is a staunch admirer of Duff. They have been friends since 1930.

"We just gravitated together," Fine said. "When the Governor decided to run for the Senate, he said to me: 'Your ideas are the same as mine. Why not team up with me?'"

Fine thinks so much of Duff's program of public improvements as governor that he intends to follow it "lock, stock and barrel."

For recreation Fine fishes, golfs and gardens. He was varsity center on his high school football team and played some football in college.

Matter Of Fact

pedient action to regain control of Congress has already been urged upon Truman. It will continue to be urged upon him.

Barring the Yugoslav aid bill, the present special session is of course no more than an interlude. But if the President has not faced and acted upon the practical facts by Jan. 3, when the new Congress assembles, it will be time to expect the worst. Many Congressional acts of blind folly and wilful ignorance will then be inevitable. And in the present world situation, even one such act will be enough to shelter the whole Western alliance against Soviet agression.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Custodian To Be Named By City Firemen

Frostburg Group To Meet Next Week

FROSTBURG — Police Commissioner Perry W. Myers and Water Commissioner Arthur Thomas met with the Frostburg Fire Department Tuesday evening to approve an arrangement between the city and firemen for employing a night custodian for the city Hall and the Central Fire Station.

Applicants for the position will be limited to members of the Fire Department and the salary of the successful applicant will be paid jointly by the city and the firemen.

G. Woodrow Layman, chief of the Fire Department, announced that a special meeting of the firemen will be called next week, when members wishing to apply for the position will be given application blanks.

After all applications are received the firemen will select three, regarded as most eligible, by secret ballot.

The names of the eligibles will be turnd over to the Mayor and City Commissioners who will appoint one of the three for the position. The successful applicant will also be sworn in as a special policeman, Layman said.

Keyser High To Give Winter Concert Dec. 8

Beginners Will Make First Appearance

KEYSER, W. Va. — The Keyser High School band will give its winter concert in the Keyser High School auditorium on Friday, December 8, beginning at 7:30 p. m., under direction of Nunzio Barbera, director.

The program will be divided into two parts with the prelude to the program by the beginners, making their first appearance, followed by the High School band, that has made a very favorable impression in the short time it has been active.

The beginners are practicing regularly and preparing for regular positions in the band. They have made wonderful progress under Mr. Barbera's instruction and guidance and this young group may make as favorable an impression on local persons as has the older group, the director believes.

Tickets for the concert will be placed on sale within a few days. They may be obtained from the band players, at local schools, or secured at the High School auditorium the evening of the concert.

A number of popularity known Christmas numbers will be included in the evening's program.

Mt. Savage Soldier Writes From Korea

MT. SAVAGE — Pfc. Victor A. Robison has written to his mother, Mrs. Ruth Robison, that he was one of the first Americans to enter the North Korean capital of Pyangyang in October.

This occurred when Pyangyang was captured by the First Cavalry Division. Pfc. Robison is in the Fifth Cavalry Regiment.

20 Keyser City Employes To Get SS Coverage

Council Agrees On Benefit Program

KEYSER, W. Va.—Approximately 20 City of Keyser employes will be included in Social Security benefits as a result of the action of the city council at a special meeting Tuesday evening. The plan, as adopted must be submitted to the state auditor for his approval before tomorrow, to be eligible for benefits beginning January 1.

When the plan becomes effective, each employe will contribute one and a half of one percent of his wages and the city will add another one and a half percent providing a deposit of three percent for each employe monthly.

Under the state law, the city employes are divided into two groups, proprietary and non-proprietary. The amount contributed by the city to the employes share will come from revenue received from the business in which the proprietary group participates. The non-proprietary group will receive its city payment from the contingent fund set up in the budget. It is estimated that the cost of the plan for the period from January 1 to June 30, next will amount to $326.14 from the city and an equal amount from the employes.

Church Hill 4-H Club Meets This Afternoon

MT. SAVAGE—The Church Hill 4-H Club will receive instructions on making Christmas cookies and Christmas decorations at a meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Deffenbaugh.

The instructions will be given by Miss Thelma Allin, assistant home demonstration agent.

Parsons Tree Nursery Leased To State Group

Conservation Unit To Expand Program

PARSONS, W. Va.—The Parsons Nursery established in Parsons 22 years ago was leased by the Conservation Commission for a period of 15 years.

The Nursery site contains more than 100 acres of land and has been under the direction of D. A. Oliver since its establishment. Under his charge more than 26,370,000 small trees have been grown and shipped from here. Over 50 percent of the trees were planted on deforested lands in West Virginia within the Monongahela National Forest. Also 13,000 acres have been planted on this National forest.

The Nursery has a potential maximum productive capacity of five million transplants and seedlings annually. However it has not been operating at full capacity in the past few years due to lack of demand for the trees.

A. H. Anderson of the Monongahela National Forest said that three years would be required to put the plant in full operation. Approximately that length of time is needed from the time of planting to transplanting. Trees are usually planted at the age of three years but some are planted that are four and five years old. The lease to the Conservation Commission for a nominal sum will be turned over sometime during this fiscal year.

Keyser School Guards Against Polio Attack

KEYSER, W. Va. — Ten students have been temporarily withdrawn from Keyser Elementary School and an employe of the school cafeteria has also been relieved as a precautionary action, on advice of the Mineral County Health Department.

The action follows the removal of Mona Walker, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Julia Walker, Potomac Heights, to a hospital in Morgantown recently, who was suffering from a serious attack of infantile paralysis.

Those who have been withdrawn from school had contact with the afflicted child prior to her removal to the hospital. Three families are affected by the withdrawal request.

The Walker child is said to be paralyzed from the waist down through her legs.

Weather Postpones Recreation Class

KEYSER, W. Va. — The night classes for the recreation course, with collegiate credits offered for the full winter period, at Keyser High School every two weeks, was not held last night.

Prof. John Scherlacher, head of the recreation department at West Virginia University, instructor of the class, was unable to be present, having been stranded in Pittsburgh by the heavy snow storm since last week.

The class will be resumed on Wednesday evening, December 13.

Howdyshell Resigns As Keyser Policeman

KEYSER, W. Va.—Paul Howdyshell, who has been with the police department of Keyser since March 1, 1948, has tendered his resignation as an officer. He will retire from the department today, after he completes the 4 to 11 o'clock shift this evening. He recently accepted a position with the B&O, Railroad Company, as a police officer, and will take over his new duties Friday. Howdyshell will be succeeded on the city police job by Harry Workman, recently placed on the auxiliary police force list.

Keyser Council Asks Court Aid On Lot Blocking

Injunction Sought In Property Dispute

KEYSER, W. Va.—A suit for an injunction against Horace M. Lewis, owner of two lots on Lincoln Street, has been filed in Mineral County Circuit Court, subject to December rules, by James H. Swadley, Jr., attorney for the City of Keyser.

The town council of Keyser ordered the action to be taken at a recent meeting, following complaints made by Frank Snyder, owner of an adjoining parcel of land beyond the Lewis lots. Snyder claims that Lewis has a fence blocking the complainant from access to the street.

The fence, it is said, has been on the property for several years, and the action, as ordered by Keyser City Council, is to force opening of the thoroughfare, as the fence flocks its use in a westerly direction.

The action also involves the correctness of the right of way, as to its westerly terminus. It should clear the much discussed question of how far the street extends westerly from Mineral Street.

Yangku, China, has a leaning pagoda dating from the Sung Dynasty of 960-1260.

Sgt. Nine, Keyser Recruiter, Re-enlists

KEYSER, W. Va. — Sergeant First Class Kenneth C. Nine, who has been recruiter in charge at the Army and Air Force station here for the past 18 months, received his discharge on November 22 at Camp Halibird, Md. and re-enlisted for another six years in the infantry.

He has returned to Keyser to continue recruiting duties.

A veteran of ten years active service, seven during World War II action, Sgt. Nine saw service in both the Pacific and European theaters with the 25th Infantry Division and the 35th Santa Fe Infantry Division.

At the close of his war service, Sgt. Nine worked at the Celanese plant for two years. He re-enlisted in 1947 for three years and was assigned to recruiting service at Masontown, Pa. as a sub-station commander, coming later to Keyser. He is married and has two sons, Kenneth Clifford, Jr., aged three and a half years, and Vernon Robert, three months old. He lives with his family in Westernport.

Supper Postponed

NEW CREEK, W. Va. — The Claysville WSCS family night supper program, scheduled for last night, has been postponed. The meeting, scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. S. V. Ward, at Claysville, will be held at a date to be announced later.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Fred Bosley, secretary of the WSCS.

Miss Johnson Is Bride-Elect

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Johnson, Sr., East Hampshire Street, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Rebekah, to Galen Daniel Ludwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Worth Ludwick, Burlington, W. Va.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. O. Clarence Witchell, pastor, at Piedmont Trinity Methodist Church on Saturday December 9, at 6:30 p. m.

Miss Irene Johnson, of Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, will be her sister's maid of honor, and Howard Ludwick, Burlington, will serve as his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony a reception for the wedding party and immediate families will be held at the home of the bride's brother, Oscar W. Johnson, Jr., Keyser.

The prospective bride is a graduate of Piedmont High School and has been employed in personnel work at Richmond Dry Goods Company, Inc., Richmond, Va.

Mr. Ludwick is a veteran of 18 months with the armed forces in the Pacific Theatre and also served a year with U. N. R. R. A. in China. At the present time he is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in Baltimore, where they will reside.

New Mexico's ancient capital city, Santa Fe, is situated at an altitude of over 7,000 feet.

WSCS Holiday Bazaar Opens Today

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Kenneth Malicolm, Westernport, will sing, "Come to the Fair", Martin, and "Think of Me", Scott. Mrs. Malcolm will play the piano accompaniment. Before the program starts at 8 p. m. a silver offering will be received.

The bazaar will open at 4 p. m. Booths will have a large selection of art objects, fancy work, aprons, handmake handkerchiefs, plants, flowers, home-canned food, cakes, pies, rolls and candy available.

A buffet supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. The affair is sponsored by the WSCS.

Soviet Hitch-Hikers Stop Americans' Cars

VIENNA, Nov. 29 (AP)—U. S. military police said yesterday American autoists were being forced to pick up unwanted Soviet soldier hitch-hikers on the international highway between Vienna and the west.

The highway is the only authorized route for Americans travelling through the Soviet zone of Austria to and from Vienna. Police said Soviet sentries were halting American cars and refusing them permission to go ahead unless they made room for the hitch-hikers.

War-Skittish Stock Market Pulls Out Of Morning Slump

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP) — A war-skittish stock market pulled out of a morning slump with a long slow rally today.

Losses outnumbered gains by a heavy majority at the closing bell. Numerous sharp early declines, however, were cut down or even converted into small gains.

Final quotations were tops for the day in most cases and the market was headed upward at the finish.

Fastest trading was packed into the morning's business when prices were skidding. Activity slackened during the recovery but, at that, turnover amounted to 2,760,000 shares, not far behind a whopping 2,970,000 shares on Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 50 cents to $82.70. Modest improvement in the railroad group was easily outweighed by a drop in industrial stocks. The utility group ended a shade lower.

Lower prices were paid for 658 out of the 1,179 individual issues traded while 305 advanced.

New highs for 1950 or longer were touched during the day by about 10 issues and roughly the same number dropped to 1950 lows. Nine of the 15 most active issues advanced.

Missouri Pacific preferred was again a standout performer on the plus side. The stock ran against the main trend Tuesday for a gain of $1.87 and added another $1 at $16.75 today.

Several other rails stepped ahead, among them Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, and St. Paul.

Chrysler found a steady footing through the day, closing 12 cents up at $68.25. General Motors lost 50 cents at $45.75. News of a $1.25 a share Studebaker year-end dividend came after the close of the market, with the stock up 12 cents on the day at $31.

Oils were a bit balky, with both Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co. off more than $1 a share each. Smaller losses were posted for Socony-Vacuum, Sinclair and Gulf Oil.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SPEED NOT DESIRABLE

DEVELOPMENT of speed at the bridge table is far from desirable, though you would never know it from the way some people conduct themselves. Every once in a while you see somebody throw away his chances for success on a deal merely because he acts hastily before studying out his situation. This seems to happen much more in apparently simple circumstances than when a puzzling problem is faced. The feeling of easy security causes certain players to act first and then immediately afterward see what they should have done, and would have if they had thought a bit.

After the diamond 4 to the A and the 9 to the K, the 3 to the Q put South in with the necessity apparently of running nine consecutive tricks to make his contract. But that looked like a cinch if the clubs were evenly divided. Six tricks there plus one in each other suit would make nine. And, since it was rubber bridge, who cared about risking the game for the sake of a finesse for an extra?

It was really too easy for South. For the fourth trick, he scored the club K and led the 6 to the A. Happy to see both opponents follow, clearing the suit, he was then rudely shocked to note that the 10 in his own hand was higher than the dummy's 9. The suit was blocked.

He scored the club 10 and then desperately led the spade 4. His forlorn hope was that West, with the K, would play low, whereupon the J could win as a re-entry to run the rest of the clubs. But West came in with the K, scored two more diamonds and the contract was beaten.

What a simple boner. If South had merely led the club 10 to the second trick of that suit, overtaking with the A, nothing could have prevented his easy game.

150 Delegates To Attend CIO Conclave Here

Convention Opens This Morning For Three-Day Session

Approximately 150 delegates from all parts of Maryland are expected to attend the 12th annual convention of the Maryland Industrial Union Council, CIO, which opens here this morning at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Registration began last night and will resume today at 9 a.m., with the first session to get underway at 10.

Harry E. Castle, this city, council vice president, will open the meeting as temporary chairman, introducing a local minister who will give the invocation.

Mayor Thomas S. Post will welcome the delegates on behalf of the city, after which Castle will give a talk of welcome and turn the gavel over to Frank J. Bender, Baltimore, council president.

Plans for the speaking program during the three-day convention, and resolutions to be introduced were made at preliminary committee meetings yesterday.

Director To Speak

Guest speaker this morning will be Anthony Wayne Smith, Washington, D. C., assistant director of the Councils of the CIO in the United States and Canada.

Smith will give a general discussion on organization.

Speaking at the Friday afternoon session will be Max Orlow, Baltimore, labor representative in liaison personnel of the Maryland Employment Security Board.

Other scheduled speakers are State Senator Robert B. Kimble and a representative of the federal government.

Resolutions Listed

It prepared the following resolutions to be presented for action by the delegates:

1. Calling for the state relief program to provide more adequate relief for unemployed persons.
2. Urging continuance of rent control in Baltimore City and in Maryland.
3. Asking the governor to call a constitutional convention to revise and bring up to date Maryland's constitution, which was passed in 1869.
4. Providing another Congressional district in the state or allowing for a Maryland Congressman-at-large in the House of Representatives.
5. Setting up booths at state fairs to disseminate labor propaganda.

Over 40 delegates were registered last night by the credentials committee, which includes Frank Finke, John Smith and Robert Crowther, all of Baltimore.

The Cumberland Brewing Company will be host to the delegates at a lunch tomorrow from noon until 2 p. m. at the brewery.

The convention dinner will be held Friday night in Bowman's Addition Fire Hall and Saturday the election of officers is scheduled. The sessions will adjourn following installation of officers.

Members of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, of which Castle is a former president; Laundry Workers Local and Brewery Workers Local are arranging the convention.

Charles A. Della, Baltimore, is secretary-treasurer of the council. Other vice presidents, besides Castle, are:

Wiley Ford Youth Hurt In Sled Mishap

A 10-year-old youth received a possible skull fracture when his sled collided into a sled of one of his playmates.

He is Eugene Poland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Poland, Wiley Ford, W. Va.

The accident occurred at about 6:05 p.m. yesterday while the boy was sledding on Johnson's Hill.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital at 6:35 p.m., he was treated for shock and was listed as being in "serious" condition late last night.

His father is an employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Births Announced

Allegany Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Harrison, RFD 2, Christie Road, a daughter, Tuesday night.

Memorial Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. Reggie A. Smith, Petersburg, W. Va., a son, Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. David Volkin, Romney, W. Va., a son, Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Thomas Sowards, RFD 6, Bowling Green, a daughter, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Dodge, Salisbury, a son, Philip Whitney, Tuesday in Salisbury Hospital. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dodge, LaVale.

Teen-Age Council Organizes

Snow Removal Continuing On All-Out Basis

Entire Department Assigned To Task

The entire 60-man force of the Street Department is working every day on snow removal and all available equipment is being used, Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder said yesterday.

Snow and ice is being removed only from main business streets and bus routes because the hardpacked surface makes it almost impossible to clean it away.

Mrs. Roeder said snow plows cannot be used to clear the streets because they have no effect.

The blade on the grader is being used to break loose the snow and ice on main streets and bus routes.

However, that is the only piece of equipment with a blade "and we can't be everywhere at once," Mrs. Roeder said.

As the snow and ice are gradually churned into slush by traffic, snowplows are clearing heavily travelled streets, she explained.

In residential sections cinders are being used on hilly spots where streets are icy because bumps and ruts have hardened and streets cannot be plowed out, she explained.

The motor sweeper crew is standing by each night for emergency calls where cinders are needed, Mrs. Roeder said.

Piled up snow has been removed from in front of funeral homes and is being removed from in front of churches.

Streets where snow and ice are being removed are roped off so traffic will not interfere with the snow loader.

Street Department crews worked Friday night and all day Saturday and Sunday, all at overtime cost.

Sometimes in previous years the crews worked overtime at night to clear streets of snow, but this practice will not be continued because the same men would have to work around the clock, and because expense would be too great, Mrs. Roeder said.

Treiber Returns Home

Jack J. Treiber, Jr., 209 Central Avenue, a draftsman in the City Engineering Department, has returned home from Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where he was a patient for four weeks for observation.

Birds Suffering For Need Of Food

Winter weather brings hardship to many humans, but the storm of the last few days has been a reign of terror to wild life.

Many residents in the area have reported many birds have died because of the lack of food, the snow making it impossible for them to feed themselves at their regular sources.

Lovers of wild life, suggest that residents put feed out for the birds. Food of any kind, grains, crumbs, fats, etc., may be placed on roofs, racks, or even on the snow. It is suggested that this become a hobby for children in the area.

Donald Shires Named Times City Editor

T. Donald Shires, 506 Patterson Avenue, has been named city editor of The Cumberland Evening Times, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Shires, a native of Cumberland, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Shires, Park Heights. He was graduated from Allegany High School in 1927 and from Temple University, Philadelphia, in 1931.

He joined the staff of The Evening and Sunday Times in August, 1932, and worked in the sports department until 1936 when he was transferred to the city staff where he covered City Hall assignments until 1947.

Mr. Shires has been serving on the city desk since 1947 and in assuming his new duties as city editor will succeed Eugene T. Gunning, city editor since 1944, who will continue to serve in his additional capacity of assistant managing editor.

Mr. Shires is married to the former Miss Margaret A. Lees, of Twin Rocks, Pa. They have one son, Donald L. Shires, who attends West Side School.

Legislators Ask Bill To Rewrite Md. Constitution

Kimble On Committee To Set Up Convention

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP) — A seven-member committee of the Legislative Council was directed today to draft a bill for the setting up of a constitutional convention.

The calling of a convention to rewrite Maryland's much-amended, 83-year-old constitution was approved by an overwhelming margin at a referendum November 7.

However, the 1951 General Assembly will have the final say as to whether a constitutional convention will be called.

The Legislative Council convention subcommittee was named at today's meeting of the interim fact-finding committee of the General Assembly.

It will be headed by Sen. Byrnes (D-Balto 5th). Other members are Sens. Sothoron (D-Prince Georges), Kimble (R-Allegany) and Hoff (R-Carroll), and Delegates Sybert (D-Howard), Ramsburg (R-Frederick) and Pumphrey (D-Prince Georges).

League Offers Proposals

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29 (AP) — The Maryland League of Women Voters today proposed four provisions for a constitutional convention and endorsed recommendations made by the State Tax Survey Commission.

Approximately 100 delegates from seven counties and Baltimore suggested that a preparatory commission be appointed by the Governor to study the state constitution. It was argued that technical preparation and analysis would save time and money.

The resolution which originally suggested the commission be composed of "men" with political science experience was changed to read "persons" so that women could be included.

Other provisions approved were compensation for delegates, and "an open and unhurried convention."

After long debate, the league endorsed recommendations for a more integrated system of tax administration made by the State Tax Survey Commission. The survey proposed that the present system under which tax collection is made by 11 agencies be changed so that it be handled "in general" by one agency.

Reed Cites Law Covering School Bus Operation

Says His 1941 Act Limits Passengers

Contradicting statements made at a meeting of the City Council here Monday night relative to laws covering operation of school buses, Lester B. Reed, member of the House of Delegates from Allegany county, said last night, "Some of the city officials have been misinformed, there is a law covering school bus operation."

Delegate Reed said that in 1941 he sponsored a law now found in Chapter 448, Maryland Acts of 1941, which provides that the number of passengers on any school bus shall not exceed 25 per cent of the total seating capacity, if the bus has a center aisle, and not more than 10 per cent if there is no center aisle.

It also provides, Delegate Reed said, that 13 inches' seating space must be provided for each seated passenger, that buses must be of steel construction, must be equipped with various adequate safety devices and must be marked to designate them as school buses.

The law applies only to Allegany county, Reed said, and he plans to make an effort to extend its provisions to cover other counties.

The Delegate also observed that he believes the county law is obeyed by the Board of Education and operators of the School Board's 80 school buses.

"Unfortunately," he commented, "this law does not apply to public carriers which haul school children in the city, and it might be that the city officials who commented on 'over-crowding of buses hauling school children', had these public carriers in mind.

Peace Provision Found In Old Volume

Today is the anniversary of the signing of a peace treaty between Great Britain and the United States of America.

Thomas L. Myers, of Bethlehem, Pa., a former local business man and one-time member of the Cumberland City Council, now retired, called the date to the attention of a reporter yesterday.

Mr. Meyers who is visiting his sister, Mrs. William L. Wilson, Sr., Washington Street, said he has been "snowbound" and has spent several days browsing through a collection of old volumes.

In an 1819 edition of American Universal Geography, he ran across this interesting passage.

"On November 30, 1782, provisional articles of peace were signed at Paris by which Great Britain acknowledged the independence and sovereignty of the United States of America thus ending a long and arduous conflict which cost $100,000,000 and 100,000 lives and won the British nothing."

The volume was prepared by Judith Morse, DD.

It's An Ill Wind

The much discussed traffic boxes on Baltimore Street corners are back again, following countless public protests over their removal. This box, providing at least temporary shelter from the wind and cold is occupied by Patrolman John Sherry, wearing a broad smile of gratitude.

Use Of Maryland-Mined Coal By State Institutions Urged By CIO

Council President Makes List Of Recommendations In Convention Report

Use of Maryland-mined coal for all state institutions and buildings is urged in the annual report of Frank J. Bender, Baltimore president of the Maryland Industrial Union Council, CIO.

Bender cited the large number of men and women in Allegany and Garrett Counties who are unemployed.

"Our state government should act at once to relieve and remedy this situation, not by giving pauper aid, but provide employment at gainful labor," he said.

Bender will preside at the three-day annual convention of the Council which will get underway this morning at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

His report was prepared for delivery at the opening session today.

"Many of the unemployed in these counties are former coal miners, who became unemployed when the mines in which they were working were closed, because the mine owners could not sell their coal in open competition," Bender said.

If state buildings used coal from Maryland mines, the mine workers would become employed and thus removed from the relief rolls, the report said.

Bender, himself a former miner in Illinois, Ohio and West Virginia, said action also should be taken to conserve coal deposits for future generations.

"Today, there is less than 100 years of coal supply under the ground. It is therefore a serious error to permit these Maryland mines to be closed and the mineable coal lost forever, when they should be kept in operation and providing employment," Bender said.

Recommendations Noted

The report also makes the following recommendations:

1. Commending President Truman and the United Nations for their stand in the "Korean affair" and urging further strengthening of the UN by giving it an international army, internationally financed and supplied, as a police force against aggressor nations.
2. Expansion of the armed forces and manufacture of more arms and war material.
3. Equal number of labor and industry representation on all public and semi-public administrative and advisory boards which may be established as a part of the mobilization program.
4. Price controls and rationing if serious shortages of consumer goods or sharply rising prices appear.
5. Government drafting of factories and materials for use in the war effort at such time as it becomes necessary to exercise controls on wages and workers.

Profits Tax Cited

6. Levying of a heavy federal excess profits tax to discourage making of profit on defense or war production.
7. Continuing of efforts to have the Maryland General Assembly enact legislation to provide benefit payments for permanent disability and temporary sickness, with the disability insurance to be handled entirely through a state government fund.

Bender commented that the National CIO has been attempting to have the Federal Security Act amended to provide such payments.

8. Reaffirming of the Maryland Council's support and immediate adoption of the National Health Insurance plan recommended to Congress by President Truman.
9. Further expansion of the fed-

Long Cites Burma Road Improvement

Police To Continue Close Supervision

City Police are continuing close supervision of the city's Burma Road area on Front Street, and find conditions there somewhat improved, Police Commissioner John J. Long has informed Walter C. Capper, chairman of the Allegany County Liquor Control Board.

An accurate account of arrests made on Burma Road for the past 90 days, Commissioner Long indicated, shows 45 arrested for being drunk, nine for disorderly conduct, and 19 drunk and disorderly.

Long said no persons were arrested inside any of the places on Burma Road. The Commissioner indicated however, that occasional complaints regarding the area, or the conduct of some of the establishments have come to his attention.

Chief among these seems to be, he indicated, that some proprietors persist in selling intoxicants to men already drunk, in violation of the law.

Long said police will continue to closely supervise this and other areas, and if conditions again appear to be out of control, the Board will be presented with the facts and license suspension recommended if necessary.

Assistant Needed In Milk Testing

An announcement was made of the need for an assistant to work with Harry E. Miller, the tester in the Milk Testing Association, last night at a meeting of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association held in the Court House.

Marvin Senger, of the University of Maryland, and J. E. Pieppyman, County Agent of Mineral County, W. Va., gave talks, urging more farmers to join the organization.

John P. Mason, president of the Association presided at the meeting.

Edward C. Cavey Is Promoted To Trainmaster

C .E. Bertrand Also Gets Advancement

Edward C. Cavey, 818 Camden Avenue, has been named trainmaster of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, according to C. T. Williams, division superintendent.

Cavey is replacing C. E. Bertrand, who is going to the Chicago division as assistant superintendent. Cavey assumes his new duties as trainmaster tomorrow.

Prior to this appointment, Cavey was assistant trainmaster at the local terminal, a position he has held for the past five years.

A native of Baltimore, he attended the school there, graduating from St. Mary's High School in 1911. Later, he studied law at the Baltimore School of Law.

Soon thereafter, he joined the B. and O. organization, beginning in the general offices in Baltimore. During World War II, he worked in the Office of Defense Transportation, in Washington.

In 1945, at the close of the war, he rejoined the railroad and came to Cumberland as assistant trainmaster.

Bertrand, whom Cavey is succeeding, left yesterday to assume his duties as assistant superintendent for the railroad at the Chicago division.

He is a native of Pine Bluff, Ark., received his schooling there, and for a number of years was labor foreman of a construction company.

He has been associated with the B. and O. Railroad since 1937, serving as a conductor, a switchman, and later a dispatcher at the Chicago terminal.

In 1946 he was promoted to trainmaster in Chicago. He has served in the same capacity at the local terminal since October 20, 1950.

Meyersdale Post Urges Decisive Korean Action

Legion Wants U. S. To Use New Weapons

Double-barreled action has been taken by the Meyersdale, Pa., American Legion Post to urge all-out warfare to obtain a "quick and decisive victory in Korea."

Charles A. Darrah, post commander, said telegrams were sent to high Legion officials and legislators with a view to bring to matter to the attention of the United Nations and to Congress.

Telegrams were sent to National Legion Commander Earl Cocke, Indianapolis, and the Joseph S. McCracken, Pennsylvania Department commander.

They urged action on a Meyersdale resolution adopted by the Pennsylvania state convention "demanding the use of every means of military warfare at our disposal to obtain a quick and decisive victory and ultimate world peace."

This resolution, passed at the convention in Philadelphia last August, was adopted in principle at the national meet in Los Angeles in October.

At that time, the telegrams said, the Legion's foreign relations committee favored "sponsoring of a resolution by the American delegate to the United Nations to the effect that further aggression in any part of the world by Soviet Russia will meet full force of retaliation by the United Nations police authority, including if necessary the release of atomic weapons on Soviet Russia."

Darrah recalled that the Meyersdale post last July passed a resolution calling for use of every military means by the United States and its allies unless Korean hostilities were stopped at once.

North Koreans were termed "Russia Communist-sponsored, trained, armed and supplied" in that resolution.

Another telegram outlining the Legion action at the local, state and national levels was sent to various members of Congress.

They included U. S. Senators Owen Brewster of Maine, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Francis Meyers and Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, and Reps. W. Sterling Cole and E. Mendel Rivers, members of the House Armed Services Committee.

That telegram concluded:

"The seriousness of the situation we believe warrants bringing this to your attention and that the Red China forces are in the same category as the aggressor North Korean forces, a menace to world peace.

"We demand that the same action should be taken against them as we recommended regarding the North Korean forces in our resolution last July."

Darrah said the telegrams were prepared by a special committee of Charles E. Kelly Post No. 112, including Dr. William Cover, James Hartle, Walter Greff, Thomas Shipley, Frank Reamer and himself.
